After quite an extended experience of prescribing and noting results of various mineral waters, I unhesitatingly think this water the best renovator and "builder up" of them all. For Scrophula, Catarrh and Blood Diseases generally it is almost a Specific. Too much, in my opinion, cannot be said of the curative properties of Vade Mecum Water.

TOWN FINES.

Action to be Taken Against Hendersonville for Violating Law.

Action at Wake Forest College. Guncock Mines to Reopen. Two Veterans Criticized III. First Regiment Camp.

RALEIGH, Aug. 1.—The State Superintendent of Public Instruction today received a letter from Henderson county saying the county board of education, after finding that the town had failed for three years to pay the fines into the school fund, called in the Mayor and agreed to let the fines for two years go unpaid if he would pay this year's fines and give him until January 1st, to do this. The State Superintendent says this was unlawful; that the county board had no authority to make any compromise. He telegraphed to Attorney General Gilmer at Waynesville, to go to Hendersonville and take action in the matter.

The trustees of Wake Forest College decide to defer for a year the organization for a school of medicine and also a school of pharmacy. Dr. Herbert Royser of Raleigh is to be at the head of the school of medicine. It was the original plan to establish it September of this year.

Local rains fell in this section and did much good to crops. A light general rain is needed.

The phosphate mills here obtain their supply of phosphate rock from Tennessee. Today a car was opened and in it was a shepherd dog. The car had been sealed July 25. The dog was nearly dead but had endured the great heat, with no food or water.

It is expected that by September 1 the coal mine at Guncock will again be in operation. It was forced to shut down about a year ago by the explosion of gas which killed 20 persons and damaged the machinery. The previous explosion had killed 43.

Two inmates of the Soldiers Home here are at death's door. One is James Aldrich of Kinston.

The shipment of peaches from Newport, near Morehead City, and from Southern Pines are very large. While the early peach crop in general is short in the State, it is large and fine at these points. The best peach is found to be the Elberta. It is declared by experts to be much finer flavor than the California peaches which are shipped eastward.

It is expected that the First regiment will take over 600 officers and men to camp next week.

The Corporation Commission devoted today to the consideration of uniform freight rates in this State on cotton.

Fast Mail Train Held Up.

CHICAGO, July 31.—The Baltimore & Ohio passenger train from the East, which was due to arrive in the Grand Central depot, Chicago, at 9 o'clock tonight was held up by five masked men at 8 o'clock between Edgemoor and Grand Calumet Heights, Indiana, 31 miles out from Chicago. One of the mail cars which contained no money, was derailed and wrecked. The attempt at robbery was made after the two mail cars had been detached from the train and run a quarter of a mile ahead. The failure of the robbers to make a rich haul was due to the fact that the express cars, which contained the train's treasure, was in an unusual place. It was the third car in the train. After wrecking the mail car and obtaining no booty, the robbers disappeared in the darkness without attempting to rectify their mistake. The only loot that they carried away with them as a result of their adventure was the gold watch of the engineer.

What most people want is something mild and gentle when in need of a physic. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets fill the bill to a dot. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. For sale by F. S. Duffy & Co.

Motors Fined to Bring Rain.

Lincoln, Neb., July 31.—Four miles northeast of this city tonight twenty-four motors, posted on a twenty-acre tract, are being fired at minute intervals, in the hope that the result will be a downfall of rain. W. H. Wright, former deputy State food commissioner, is the promoter and manager of the enterprise. Mr. Wright is the originator of the "special vibration" theory of rain-making and for several years has unsuccessfully proposed a legislative appropriation to put his theory into practice. Mr. Wright says he will continue the bombardment until rain comes, or until he shall have exhausted his supply of several thousand pounds of gun powder. The sky tonight is clear.

NEW YORK, July 31.—The Evening Post says today that the extra dividend declared recently by the First National Bank of the Republic was 1,900 per cent. on the old capital stock of $500,000. This dividend was more than large enough to enable the stockholders to pay for their share of the new stock to be issued on the increase of the bank's capital to $10,000,000, without the outlay of other cash.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Special Correspondence.

The navy department has purchased a considerable tract of land surrounding the naval observatory in Washington in order to protect from far the delicate instruments which record the time of the country. It was deemed advisable not to have any highways within 1,000 feet of the clockroom, where the instruments are stationed, and a circle with a radius of 1,000 feet was therefore drawn entirely around the observatory. At the last session of congress $145,000 was appropriated to purchase the inclosed land, and this amount became available the other day. The tracts purchased are those owned by J. W. Thompson, known as Dumbar-ton, containing 7,895 acres, for which $85,000 was paid, and Robert Weaver's tract of 8,645 acres, for which $37,000 was paid. There are some smaller tracts still to be purchased. The line of the Tennytown electric cars is just outside of the 1,000 feet circle. The line of Massachusetts avenue extended will cross the circle, but has been deflected at this point so as to run around it. Part of the present acquisition is high, wooded ground, and with that already owned by the government, the naval observatory has a fine sweep of ground. It is expected ultimately to run a boulevard around the circle.

There are about ten acres of land within the circle yet to be acquired, including small tracts of lands owned respectively by Messrs. Barnes, Fleming, Young and Baker. The grounds of the Industrial school are also within the circle. They belong to the District government and comprise a little less than seven acres. Outside the limits of the circle the government owns about 15 acres of land which it is designed to sell and use the proceeds in the purchase of private property within the circle.

Peddlers Who Sell to Federal Clerks.

Each executive office of the government has its time honored peddler, who generally takes a stand at his or her post before the clerks arrive each morning and remains with the greatest tenacity until the last clerk leaves the department in the evening. One of the peddlers in the department is an old woman known as Mistress Hayes, who sits in a comfortable lounge at the north front of the interior department with one eye on her Bible and the other on the lookout for customers.

Her wares are a lot of shoestrings, pins, needles, buttons and other small things such as peddlers generally sell, making in all quite a heavy stock for a vendor of this class. Though a distance of many blocks, this old woman, whose back is as crooked as a rainbow, pulls her small wagon, through good weather and bad, never failing to take up her stand as the clerks go in. Once in awhile some one buys a trifle, but usually a little change is dropped into the cup without a purchase.

For a time it was the custom of the messenger boys to leave their bicycles at this end of the steps, while the old woman occupied a camp stool farther along in a much exposed position. Noticing this and that the bicycle corner was a snug one, Secretary Hitchcock had the boys move their wheels, and now the old woman occupies the more comfortable place.

The secretary sometimes drops a coin in her cup, and though she confides that she hopes some time to save him through the medium of her quaint old Bible, she has not yet tried to persuade him. She has, however, got many of the clerks in the straight and narrow path and announces that her business is to serve them while they buy shoestrings from her.

New Idea at Smithsonian Institution.

The Smithsonian institution at Washington is to have a special exhibit for children. It is being arranged with a view to its educational advantage. Professor S. P. Langley conceived the idea of having a children's museum and has devoted considerable time during the past few months to its completion. One large room, immediately opposite the main entrance of the Smithsonian building, has been set aside for this purpose and has been prepared ready to receive the exhibits, some of which have been placed in position. A special feature of the museum will be in the manner of labeling the exhibits. Common names only will be used, all scientific designations to be discarded. In many instances the labels will tell some important fact connected with the life of the bird or animal. A new feature of this museum for children is the presence of live birds in cages swung among bowers of branches. Birds and insects are shown in proximity to objects they are commonly seen near.

The President's Vacation.

Unlike many of his predecessors in the White House, Mr. McKinley is not a sportsman. He does not care for fishing and sailing, as both President Cleveland and President Harrison did. He is very fond, however, of horse-dash and delights in driving about the country. During his vacation he will spend considerable time on his farm near Canton and expects to derive much benefit from these outdoor excursions. He takes deep interest in this farm and watches closely the crops and the treatment of the soil in various fields; also the cattle and horses which are raised there under the care of a very competent husbandman. He likes to chat with this farmer about the fields and crops and last March had the old gentleman as his guest at the White House during the inaugural session. The president is anticipating much pleasure in renewing his acquaintance of the country and country folk about Canton this summer and will doubtless have more time to devote to his favorite recreation than he has had in any summer since first assuming the office of president.
