NO LAUGH FOR THE BRITISH.

As the time for the international yacht race draws near, and the fine salling qualities of the Shamrock II are told in the newspapers there is consternation expressed by numerous Americans over the seeming probability of losing the American Cup.

The attempts of the British yachteme during the past fifty years have been failures in getting within sailing distance of securing this trophy, and it has remained for the Irish to cause the first unessiness among those who hate to see this oft won cup leave American

So far as the intrinsic value of the prise is concerned, it amounts to very little. It is valuable on account of age and association, nothing more.

But the real thing that so many Ameri cans fear, is not the loss of the cup, but the laugh of the British, who would regard Sir Lipton's lifting of the trophy as a good joke on this country.

And yet the jovial Irishman's securing the cup would really put the laugh on the English, whose failure to capture it has met with such signal failure during the past half century.

If the cup must go, it can go into no more deserving hands than those of the thorough going sportsman, and gallant Irishman, Sir Thomas Lipton, and to lose to such a yachtsman will be no dis-

The value of a recipe lies partly in its being accurately set down and followed. Harper's Magazine has the following directions for making a breakfast delicacy called popovers, as they were imparted by the Chinese servant

Military Morals In China.

Rowards are seldom given for prowess on the battlefield in China, but when they are the most acceptable of them all, from the private soldier's point of view, is a sack of rice, valued at about $15.50. The commanding officer of each regiment has power to give as many sacks as are deserved, and at the conclusion of every campaign he sends in a formidable bill to the government for rice. No inquiries are made, nor are the names of the recipients asked for, so in nine cases out of ten the officer sells the grain and puts the money into his own pocket, while the deserving soldier, to whom the rice would have meant a good deal, has to go without.
