FINAL TRIBUTE.

The Home of McKinley Sees the Last Sad Rites.

GREAT DAY OF SORROW.

President Roosevelt and Party Return to Washington. Mrs. McKinley Unable to Leave Her Room. A Vast Multitude Present in Canton Yesterday.

CANTON, Sept. 19.—At daybreak this morning the streets of the city were filled to overflowing with the thousands who wished to pay homage to the dead President. The city of 85,000 people had in addition upon its streets 75,000 visitors come to do honor to the fallen Chief Magistrate of the nation. Five thousand State troops stood the guard of honor for the day. Every civilized country on the globe had its representatives here to be present at the final "obsequies" in the home of President McKinley.

At thirteen minutes past one o'clock the remains of the dead President were brought from the McKinley residence and conveyed to the First Methodist Church. The procession from the house to the church was simple in its nature. An advance guard of police was followed by a band playing "Lead Kindly Light," and headed the cortege. The carriage occupied by President Roosevelt and members of the cabinet followed with an escort. The honorary pall bearers, among whom were Governor Nash, Lieut. Gov. Caldwell, Judge Williams and Henry McParland, followed the President's carriage and then came the local honorary pall bearers.

The funeral car and the remains of President McKinley followed and then came Senators, Representatives and other officials and distinguished men from all parts of the country. The weeping thousands in the streets along the line of march was heart rendering in the extreme.

At half past one o'clock the cortege arrived in front of the church edifice. Eight blue jackets carried the casket into the building. The services began with prayers by Rev. Mr. Milligan and the congregation knelt and many silently wept. Rev. Mr. Herbruck followed with a scripture reading from the fourteenth chapter of Corinthians after which the "Lead Kindly Light" was sung.

Rev. Dr. Manchester, the pastor of the church, pronounced the funeral address and reviewed the President's life work and highly eulogized him not only as a President but as a husband and a man. Bishop Joyce followed with a short prayer, then "Nearer My God to Thee" was sung amid much weeping and sorrow.

The body was borne from the church at the conclusion of the service and the crowds filed out behind and so the hearse started on its journey to West-lawn Cemetery. The multitudes stood with bare heads. At this final moment the weeping and touching expressions of grief and despair were more expressive than ever before.

Mrs. McKinley was unable to attend the funeral at the church, she remained at home under the care of Dr. Bizey, a collapse was expected momentarily. The collection of floral tributes was the most beautiful ever seen in this country.

While the final services were being held in the church there was an almost complete cessation of every industry in the United States. The progress of all railroad trains, the streetcars and of all classes of vehicles was arrested. Thousands of citizens bled in the streets with uncovered heads. Services held in the churches by foreigners as well as by Americans paid a fitting tribute to the dead American President.

CANTON, Sept. 19.—President Roosevelt and the official party left for Washington at seven o'clock to night. There was a great crowd at the station to see them off but not a cheer was heard. Six cavalry service detachments, closely guarded the President.

Loubet Aimed at.

PARIS, September 19.—It is rumored here that while President Loubet was on his way from here to Dunkirk Tuesday, to meet the Czar of Russia, a shot was fired at the train which followed the President. No one was hurt.

At Toronto today the Bisquit powder works exploded and five people were killed and 19 injured.

THE ANSWER.

Mandamus Proceedings Not Looked Upon Seriously Anywhere.

Question of Grades Added to Public Schools. Farmers Institutes and Its Problems, Three Telephone Companies Now.

RALPH, September 19.—The attorney general, for the corporation commission, today completed the answer to the application for mandamus made by the sheriff of Washington county and State Senator Ward, to compel the commission to assess railway property this year. It is the current belief that the answer will knock out the whole proceeding, though to tell the truth the proceeding is hardly taken seriously anywhere in the State. The Governor's message to the legislature, heartily approving the compromise and agreement by which the railways withdrew their cases from the federal courts and paid some $200,000, is filed as a part of the answer referred to.

The State Superintendent of public instruction will have to pass on the question whether it is lawful for additional grades to be added to graded schools, in cases where by subscription or otherwise additions are made to the school funds. It appears that in such cases the opposition comes from private schools of high grades and the contention is that the law prescribes the grades and that such additions cannot be made. The question is what is the authority of the State Superintendent in regard to these graded schools. The attorney general will have to decide it.

Thirty female convicts have been sent from the penitentiary to the "Tillery" farm to pick cotton, these being all who could be spared.

The State Veterinarian will visit both Camden and Currituck counties, to investigate the disease affecting cattle and horses.

The Commissioner of Agriculture and the State Chemist returned to day from Tarboro, where they held a farmers' institute. The rain made the attendance rather small. The great problem is, how to reach farmers in remote sections. Relatively very few farmers attend institutes or would attend them in any event, but the mass simply go ahead with old methods, taking things as they come. They are not saving this bad year, and as the Commissioner of Agriculture said to day, "It is distressing to see the waste going on."

There are three telephone companies here. One of these, the Raleigh, is entirely local, and there is a hot fight on between it and the Inter-State. It tried to buy the latter's local business, but not its outside or long distance business, but the Inter-State asked a fancy figure.

Don't wait until you become chronically constipated but take DeWitt's Little Early Risers now and then. They will keep your liver and bowels in good order. Easy to take. Safe pills. F. S. Duffy.

The Czar in France.

COMPTON, Sept. 18.—The Czar's first day on French soil passed without untoward incident, except the delay of a couple hours in docking the Standart, the Russian imperial yacht, at Dunkirk. The presidential train conveying M. Loubet and the Czar and Comarins with their suites, arrived at Compiègne this evening. The utmost vigilance was exercised along the railroad track. The train dashed through a double row of bayonets and draws sabres, as the infantry were re-enforced by regiments of dragoons and lancers. In some cases a double line of troops was on each side of the track, the first line being foot soldiers and the second line cavalry. No one was allowed to approach the track.

The Day at Raleigh.

RALPH, Sept. 19.—The capitol and other public buildings were closed today and the banks and other business houses were closed during the time of the funeral ceremonies at Canton. There were also memorial meetings and all the bells in the city tolled.

How to Boil a Ham.

A poor ham boiled by the following directions is more enjoyable than the best ham carelessly cooked: Select a ham that is short, thick, thin skinned and rather fat—never a large, thick skinned, lean one—and do not let it be under 10 pounds, 12 pounds being better. Boil it for one hour in cold water, then scrape and wash well. Put on to cook in enough cold water to more than cover, adding a cupful of vinegar and a half cupful of molasses. Let it come to a hard boil, then simmer it to just barely simmer for four hours tightly covered. When half-boiled add two bay leaves, a teaspoonful of sage and a dozen cloves. Let it cool in the water in which it was boiled. It will not hurt to stand overnight—removes and takes off the skin. At this point the ham may be called finished (and you will be ready to pronounce it "perfect"), but it can be still further improved by baking for an hour in a moderate oven, basting with vinegar or, better still, with port, sherry or champagne. When nearly ready to be removed from the oven, sprinkle well with brown sugar and brown. In serving, cold cranberry sauce, with a couple full and lay the ham in a basket of straw.—Chicago American.

RAIN AND FLOODS.

Crops Are Damaged. Washouts are Numerous.

SPECIAL TO JOURNAL. RALPH, Sept. 19.—The rain and wind of yesterday and last night damaged crops considerably, streams are high, the larger ones are rising and there are flood warnings for several streams. Since April there have been four notable freshets.

A washout on the Seaboard Air-Line yesterday, near Osgood, delayed trains many hours. Today there was another, near Monroe, and it was necessary to make up a train line. In some parts of the State nearly six inches of rain fell yesterday.

Torpedo Boat Lost.

SPECIAL TO JOURNAL. LONDON, Sept. 19.—The new torpedo boat destroyer Combra founded on a rock today in the North Sea. The crew of the vessel numbered fifty and of these 38 were drowned.

Norris Silver, North Stratford, N. H.: I purchased a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure when suffering with a cough doctors told me was incurable. One bottle relieved me, the second and third almost cured. Today I am a well man." F. S. Duffy.

MAYSVILLE.

Fine Town Progress and New Buildings. The New Church. Sunday Schools. Cotton.

September 19.—Our little town seems to be behind some others in the way of letting folks know through the papers, as to what we are "driving at." But some how, we never were much at making a noise over what we are doing. We generally go ahead and "boom" and not say much about it. We wait and let people come and see what we are at, but for the sake of those who do not come so often, we will say a few words about ourself.

We are glad to say that we are still on a hustle in the way of enlarging our town. For the last few weeks several new buildings have been started up, and some have been completed. The Academy, with a large dwelling attached, is just about completed. Mr. Zentle Eubank's store is rapidly nearing completion, and will be ready for goods this fall. Messrs. J. M. and A. C. Foscutt have begun work on another store between their present store and Mr. W. B. Smith's store. Mr. F. M. Jenkins will begin on a store just below W. R. Smith, as soon as he can find a carpenter to do the work. The material has been placed on the yard for the new M. E. Church and it will be built very soon. Mr. D. J. Watson is preparing material for a nice dwelling for himself. Besides all this new work, there are a lot of old buildings being remodelled and painted. There are so many improvements and changes taking place that we dare not mention them all at this writing for fear that the JOURNAL's kind Editor would toss it in the waste basket, on account of not having the space to spare.

Rev. F. S. Becton is conducting a series of meetings here this week. Attendance not very good, inclement weather preventing.

Mr. M. A. Culbreth, our photographer and vocal music teacher is doing very good work here now in both of these arts, and especially in the vocal art. He has established a singing school here and is rapidly advancing the pupils in singing. This school will greatly improve our choir.

We are preparing now to have two Sunday schools here instead of one. The Baptists have been, and will continue to have their Sunday school in their church. The Methodists will organize and conduct theirs in the new academy. Thus we will have a Sunday school for both denominations. Each one will help the other, a good idea, we think.

Plenty of drummers in town this week. Tuesday night our hotels accommodated nine of these "Knights of the Grip."

Our cotton gins are both running now. They don't have enough cotton to keep them busy. The crop is short and late. The buyers were down Tuesday, but none was sold. The highest offer was 7 1/2 cents per pound.

A few visitors in town this week taking in preaching.

Our merchants have about finished placing their fall stocks. Trade is living up some now.

We don't like to boast, and never was guilty of any "big things" on that line but we believe that there is not another town in eastern North Carolina that has made such progress as we have, considering the time and the circumstances that have been prevalent. Our little town is not a decade old, and yet it is only a little behind other towns in our mid half a century old, and tows that have had great advantages. What's the matter with them? It must be that their business men are not of the venturesome brand, and afraid to invest in town improvements.
