CONVICT LABOR.

Wonderful Results Reached On Railways.

A Third Road Across the Blue Ridge. New Arch Deach on Duty, Methodist Orphanage Building. Social Features for Fair Week.

RALEIGH, Oct. 7.—Supervisor J. C. Lashley leaves the penitentiary tomorrow with 125 convicts, to do the grading on the mountain section of the railway popularly known as the "Three Cs." The State's contract becomes effective Oct. 10. The work begins at Marion. It is interesting to note the fact in this connection that the convicts have already built two railways across the Blue Ridge, these being the Spartanburg and Asheville and the Western North Carolina. The convicts have built two-fifths of all the railway mileage in the State and the calculation is made that their work in this direction since 1874, when they were first put on railway work (on the Spartanburg and Asheville) represents $2,800,000. The direct appropriations by the State to the penitentiary since 1868 are very nearly $2,600,000.

Ev. Mr. Hoske, the new arch deacon of the Protestant Episcopal diocese, has exercised his duties here. The rectors of Coles Church and the Church of the Good Shepherd, in Raleigh, are in San Francisco, attending the general Episcopal convention and Rev. Mr. Hoske is officiating in those churches, alternately. He yesterday preached his first sermon, in Christ Church, and made a very fine exposition as a forceful speaker.

Attorney general and Mrs. R. D. Gilmer have arrived from Waynesville for the winter.

The Supreme Court devotes this week to the docket of appeals from the 7th district. It is a light docket.

The grounds of the Methodist Orphanage are being prepared for the erection of the main building.

Mrs. R. C. Rikers, wife of the manager of the Raleigh Academy of Music, died yesterday after a long illness, and was buried this morning.

Cooperation Commissioner Abbott left for Wilkes and other counties in this section, to instruct the county officers regarding taxation under the new law.

Fair week here is to be very gay. The social features will be numerous. There will be a number of visitors from Virginia. The Capitol club today arranged to give Germans on Tuesday and Thursday of that week and the marshals' ball on Friday. Gen. William P. Roberts is the chief marshal.

Tomorrow the entire cadet battalion at the Agricultural and Mechanical college here, 300 strong, will be uniformed.

Sugar Trust's Price Cut.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 6.—Commenting on the reduction of the price of sugar in the Missouri market by the Sugar Trust, Henry T. Oxnard, president of the American Beet Sugar Association, defined it as a move to crush out beet-sugar production in order that the trust might have no opposition.

"If they can succeed in the Missouri valley," said he, "they will then turn their attention to the best factories in Michigan and other sections, and by the power of concentrated capital, crush out successively and individually the best sugar producers. The trust tries to deceive the public by saying that the best producers can still make money at the low price it is trying to establish. This is false, and if it had been true the trust would have tried to establish a still lower price. They are not sacrificing one-half cent per pound in the Missouri river markets to make a price that will still be profitable to the beet-sugar men. But this particular move on the part of the Sugar Trust will fall flat. The beet-sugar factories will not sell their sugar in the Missouri River Valley at 1 1/2 cents under the market when a fraction of that is ours to move their sugar to every other market in the United States. What the next move of the trust will be remains to be seen."

Hard to Get a License.

RALEIGH, October 7.—It is said that the examination last week of applicants for attorney's license was the hardest one so far. There were two negro applicants. They both fell by the wayside and so did 17 white applicants. It means work to get a license now. Not very many years ago it was a farce.

Street Car Collision.

ATLANTA, Oct. 6.—Two cars on the Consolidated Street Railway were in collision at the corner of Fair and Washington streets this evening, injuring sixteen people. Both cars were crowded and were under considerable headway when the collision occurred.

THEIR REASON.

Objections to Swamp Land Options by the Board.

RALEIGH, Oct. 7.—The reason why the State Board of Education was opposed to the contract or option which K. S. Finch has on the State's swamp lands was that under it he could run a line ten miles long and ten feet wide, running this around all the timber and leaving out all the land that was worthless to lumbermen. Thus the sale of a few thousand acres would prevent the sale of any other of the State lands in a large area, and instead of the State's getting 50 cents an acre it would get only 50 cents an acre for the choicest of the lands, the lines being run to suit Finch and the purchasers. As a matter of fact one of the two deeds which Finch presented to the board for approval and signatures, ran around all the timber lands and left a barren section. It is due to the State Board to make this statement.

Eliminating the Negro.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 6.—The determination of President Roosevelt's administration to eliminate the negro from Republican politics in South Carolina and the South was shown to day by the announcement that John G. Capers had been appointed a member of the National Republican Committee, defeating Candidate Deas, a negro who was strongly favored by State leaders.

While the President had no connection with the appointment, which was made by Senator Hanna, the National Committee, it was in accordance with the wishes of the former to leave negroes out. Deas is chairman of the State Republican Committee and is seeking the office of Collector of Internal Revenue, but it has been announced from Washington that L. W. C. Blalock, who is supported by Senator McLaurin, will get the office.

Senator McLaurin is engineering the new Republican movement in this State and publicly says he is still in the Democratic ranks.

C. M. Phelps, Forestdale, Vt., says his child was completely cured of a bad case of eczema by the use of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Beware of all counterfeits. It instantly relieves piles. F. S. Duffy.

Miss Stone's Abduction.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Confidence is expressed by Administration officials that the amount of money necessary for the ransom of Miss Stone will be raised.

"Every possible effort is being made to secure Miss Stone's release," said a high official tonight. "Miss Stone's position is a desperate one, and it is useless to conceal this fact from the public. The delicate nature of the negotiations underway makes it imperative that there shall be as little talk as possible. Injudicious publicity may prevent the success of the plan now being pursued."

Russell has given sympathetic response to the request of the United States that she use her influence with Bulgaria to induce that Government to make every effort to find Miss Stone.

Bulgaria insists that the woman is not within its territory and it has been found absolutely impossible to establish her exact whereabouts. It is conceded that she may have been taken back to Turkish territory. The Sublime Porte also has promised to try to rescue Miss Stone.

Because of the danger that the woman will be killed, the use of force is deprecated, and it is believed here the best way to pursue is to pay the ransom and then to have the Bulgarian or Turkish Government take measures for the swift punishment of the brigands.

Yorubans Suspended Business.

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 21.—The tidings of the death of President McKinley came as a great shock to the foreign community as well as the entire nation, and the day of the funeral was one of general mourning, business being almost entirely suspended. The event has called forth whatever still remained of the latent feeling of friendliness for the United States, the native papers vying with each other in expressions of grief and sympathy.

"For three days and nights I suffered agony untold from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cucumbers," says M. E. Lowther, clerk of the district court, Centreville, Iowa. "I thought I should surely die, and tried a dozen different medicines but all to no purpose. I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and three doses relieved me entirely." This remedy is for sale by F. S. Duffy & Co.

STRANGE ROBBERS.

Mystery on an Ocean Liner Explained at Last.

Not many weeks ago the newspapers published accounts of mysterious wholesale robberies on one of the ocean greyhounds plying between New York City and Liverpool. The authorities on board ship exerted themselves to their utmost, but so clever to the offenders could be obtained. State room after state room was entered, and in nearly every case some valuable jewels were abstracted. Scotland Yard detectives were summoned, but the most astute thief catchers of that celebrated agency failed to meet with any success. Later developments, however, have thrown some light on the mystery. On board and receiving the constant attention of a lady and gentleman passenger was a fine, large group of cuticles, consigned to one J. H. Perceval, Paris, France. The lady and gentleman, it seems, after the steamer landed, disappeared, as did also the flock of feathered beauties. All traces of the birds was lost, until the day, when they were unloaded at the Plant System dock. The tag however, had been changed and one of the birds was missing. It turned out to be a most valuable bird, however, and the discovery was a work of a New York sleuth hound. On every visit to the hold of the steamer by the aforementioned lady and gentleman this particular article was found a jewel watch, diamond ring or some other valuable article—parturbed by this couple from the state rooms of their fellow passengers. This gentleman's watch seemed to least on yesterday. He had said it was, the bird's owners now adore some Parisian, and the contents of his stomach await identification in the office of chief Dery, in New York City. The lady and gentleman are in the hands of the Paris police, who are waiting them as they were about to sail for America, after having reshipped themselves to New York. Having no means to detain the birds and as the real culprit had been identified on the other side, the society for the prevention of cruelty to animals sold them to the agent of the steamer John Robinson circus, which will exhibit at New Bern, Saturday, Oct. 13th.
