AMERICAN FRUIT INVASION OF EUROPE.

Any American product, manufactured or raw, that cannot be profitably exported to Europe for consumption there, has not yet been discovered.

The latest American product to "invade" Europe is California fruit, which has entered into successful competition in London and Paris, against the Spanish and Italian fruit.

A Spanish newspaper, in that country's fruit section, in noting the California fruit coming into competition with Spanish grown fruit, gives the reason for this preference of the American fruit, by saying: "California oranges, peaches, apples and pears, reach Paris, after traversing 6,000 miles, in a more appetizing condition than ours."

And further says that Spain's fruit growers must adopt American improved methods of cultivation, in order to successfully compete with the California fruit growers.

For years the California fruit people have been studying the question of putting their fruit on the European market, and now they have found the way, there is fear and consternation among European fruit growers, who as yet cannot meet the American fruit, in quantity, which means cheapness, nor in freshness of quality, which means ready sales.

The California prune has about taken the place of the French prune, and with the California orange in its perfection, the growers of Southern Europe will not be able to equal it in richness by any they can grow.

A WOMAN'S LOVE.

"I loved, and, blithed with passionate love, I fell. Love brought me down to death and death to hell. For God is just, and death for sin is well."

"I do not sigh against his high decree. Nor for myself do ask that grace shall be. But for my love on earth who mourns for me."

"Great Spirit, let me see my love again And comfort him one hour, and I were fain To pay a thousand years of fire and pain."

Then said the pitying angel: "Nay! Repeat That wild vow! Look! The dial finger's bent Down to the last hour of thy punishment!"

But still she wailed: "I pray thee, let me go! I cannot rise to peace and leave him so. Oh, let me soothe him in his bitter woe!"

The brazen gates ground suddenly ajar, And upward, joyous, like a rising star, She fluttered back, with broken heaving walling."

She sobbed: "I found him by the summer sea Reclined, his head upon a maiden's knee. She curbed his hair and kissed him. Woe is me!"

She wept: "Now let my punishment begin! I have been fond and foolish. Let me in To expiate my sorrow and my sin."

The angel answered: "Nay, sad soul; go higher! To be deceived in your true heart's desire Was bitterer than a thousand years of fire!" —John Hay.

DYNAMITE AND MINERS.

Long Immunity From Accident Results in Contempt of Danger.

"After a miner had handled dynamite for eight or ten years without a serious mishap it is a good idea to put him to doing something else about the works," said a gentleman of this city who has had a great deal of experience with high explosives.

The chances are a hundred to one that his long immunity from accident has given him such a contempt for danger that he is an unconscious menace to everybody on the premises. He will do things that not only imperil his own life, but the lives of all his comrades. To give you an illustration, once I had an old Cornishman at work at a mine in which I was interested and had entrusted him with a general supervision of all the blasting. He had been handling dynamite for twenty years or more and was justly regarded as an expert. During that entire period he had never had an accident worth speaking of, and by degrees the care and vigilance that were responsible for his excellent record had worn away until he was beginning to entertain the delusion, common to old hands, that the danger of the stuff was very much exaggerated.

"One day I was passing through a cut where some blasting had been going on and noticed the old Cornishman hammering a drill into what seemed to be a boring in the rock. I asked him what he was doing, and he told me coolly there was a cartridge in the hole that had failed to explode and he was 'just knockin' out the tampion' to re-prime it." I was horrified, for at every blow he was liable to explode the dynamite, and I ordered him sternly to stop and never repeat such a performance. The proper method would have been to have drilled a new hole near by and exploded the first charge with a second blast. He obeyed sulkily, grumbling to himself, and less than a month afterward was blown up while doing exactly the same thing. He lost his left arm at the shoulder, his left eye and part of his left ear. He also lost his contempt for dynamite, and when he finally emerged from the hospital I gave him back his former job. I never had a more scrupulously careful employe than he was from that time on. It seems a brutal thing to say, but there is nothing that does an old dynamite hand as much good as to get blown up once or twice." —New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Rock-a-Bye Baby

These are sweet words, but how much pain and suffering they used to mean. It's different now. Since Mother's Friend has become known expectant mothers have been spared much of the anguish of child birth. Mother's Friend is a liniment to be applied externally. It is rubbed thoroughly into the muscles of the abdomen. It gives elasticity and strength, and when the final great strain comes they respond quickly and easily without pain. Mother's Friend is never taken internally. Internal remedies at this time do more harm than good. If a

THE POPULAR WOMAN.

The Kind That Men Admire.

Men admire a pretty face and a good figure, but sooner or later learn that the happy woman,—that contented one is most of all to be admired.

Those troubled with fainting spells, irregularity, nervous irritability, backache, the blues and that dreadful bearing down feeling cannot hope to be happy, and advancement in either home or social life is impossible. It is clearly shown in the young lady's letter which follows that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will certainly cure the sufferings of women; and when one considers that Miss Murphy's letter is only one of the countless hundreds which we are continually publishing in the newspapers of this country, the great virtue of Mrs. Pinkham's medicine must be admitted by all; and for the absolute cure of all kinds of female ills no substitute can possibly take its place. Women should bear this important fact in mind when they go into a drug store, and be sure not to accept anything that is claimed to be "just as good" as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for no other medicine for female ills has made so many actual cures.

MISS MARGARETTA MURPHY, President "Lend-a-Hand Club," Seattle, Wash.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—For three years I suffered with bearing down pains, backache, became nervous and hysterical and could not enjoy life as other young women did. A lady friend who had suffered similarly and been cured, suggested that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had little faith in it, but nevertheless I gave it a trial, and I am glad that I did. I kept getting better gradually and my pains left me and within four months I was a well woman. This is a year ago and I have never had any trouble since. I wish all suffering women knew of your valuable medicine.—Yours very truly, MARGARETTA MURPHY, 2703 Sec. Ave., Seattle, Wash."

Two More Grateful Letters.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to write you in regard to your valuable medicine. I have been troubled with falling of the womb and inflammation of the ovaries, and was so bad I could hardly walk across the floor. The doctors said it was impossible for me to get well unless I had an operation, but this I would not listen to. Having read so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I made up my mind to give it a trial, and it has done wonders for me. I commenced to feel better from the first dose, and today I am a well, healthy girl."

"I hope that your Vegetable Compound will relieve other sufferers as it did me, and thanking you for restoring my health, I remain,—Miss ALMA LARSON, Box 188, Hudson, Wis."

Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about your sickness you do not understand.

She will treat you with kindness and her advice is free. No woman ever regretted writing her and she has helped thousands. Address Lynn, Mass.

$5000 REWARD.—We have deposited with the National City Bank of Lynn, $5000, which will be paid to any person who can find the above testimonial letter is not genuine, or was published before obtaining the writer's special permission. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.
