The SPORTING WORLD

George Davis, the veteran captain-manager of the New York baseball team for the last few years, is one of the best known players in the country. He has always proved himself a fast, heady player, despite his managerial obligations, and leads the list of third base men and shortstops for the season recently closed.

Davis has been more or less in the public eye of late because of his reported signing with an American league team. His management of the Gotham organization during the 1901 season was not entirely satisfactory to Andy Freedman, and George was informed that he would have no voice in arranging the future operations of the team. Freedman stated, however, that Davis would be given a good salary if he would remain with the Giants as a shortstop. Rather than accept or ders from a superior on the New York team instead of formulating them himself, Davis said that he would seek pastures new.

Davis started the last season with a wonderful spirit. New York, principally through the early sensational pitching of Christy Mathewson, immediately jumped to the top of the list, but a slump came, and the would-be Giants were never for a minute factors in the struggle for the pennant.

English Hockey at Vassar. Basketball and indoor tennis are entirely neglected at Vassar and a new game, English hockey, is absorbing the attention of the students.

Miss Constance M. K. Applebee, a graduate of the British College of Physical Education, has been at Vassar giving lessons in the game. There are many rules which distinguish it from the hockey so dear to the heart of the average small boy, but the main object is the same—to drive the ball through the goal of the opposing eleven. Every afternoon has seen a crowd of girls in gymnasium suits running over the field "in the circle" wildly hitting with curved sticks at something hidden in the grass.

At present their progress lies chiefly in the direction of digging up turf and changing neighboring knuckles and ankles, but all promise it delightful.

Vassar is the first woman's college in the United States to take up the game. Smith is to learn it under Miss Applebee. It is possible that hereafter at Vassar tennis and golf may be played merely for training in hockey, as is said to be often the case in England. There, besides the school and college teams, every town has its ladies' hockey club.

By a process of selection clubs to represent the counties, the great sections—north, south and middle—and finally, all England, are made up. The games are private and no professional playing is allowed. Such accounts excite the imagination of Vassar enthusiasts and make them long more than ever for the era of intercollegiate sport for women.

Quaker Athletes Going Ahead. Dr. J. K. Shell, the new track and field instructor of the University of Pennsylvania, has as much faith in the possibilities of the charges that he is already counting upon a European trip next summer. This trip is planned for a half dozen of Penn's best athletes led by Dr. Shell. A dual meet between Columbia and Pennsylvania will be held some time in December. Columbia has challenged Pennsylvania to such a contest to be held in the Twenty-second regiment armory in New York. A new rule for awarding varsity "P's" has been adopted. Every athlete who scores a first in a dual meet or finishes first, second, third or fourth in the intercollegiate this year will receive the coveted initial. Last year those Pennsylvania athletes who won in the dual meet with Columbia did not get the varsity "P's." The men are pleased with the new rule.

Work on the Empress's yacht. The first keel plate of the steel schooner yacht for Empress Williams of Germany has been laid at the yard of the Townsend & Downey Shipbuilding and Repair company at New York. The steel frames and plates are expected at the shipyard within a few days, and the work of construction will be pushed as rapidly as possible consistent with the best workmanship. Gary Smith & Hatchey, the designers of the yacht, are superintending the construction.

The late-arrived game. Paul Dahlhoff has again been chosen umpire of the Philadelphia football game at Cambridge on Nov. 31. Mac (Doc) McClung has been invited to act as referee of the same game. Both are alumni of Lehigh. Mr. Dahlhoff has acted in the capacity of umpire for all the intercollegiate contests for several years back.

To remove a troublesome corn obstruction: First soak the corn or bunion in water to soften it, then pare it down as closely as possible without drawing blood, and apply the following Paste:

Take one dr. of salicylic acid, one dr. of benzoin resin, and one dr. of turpentine. Rub together thoroughly for five minutes at such application. A corn plaster should be worn for a few days, to protect it from the sun. A general balsam for sprains, bruises, etc., is made by rubbing together

A Letter Too Late.

The minister of a Scotch parish had a great wish that an old couple should become teetotalers, but they were in no wise eager to comply. After much pressing, however, they consented to try the experiment, but laying down as a condition that they should be allowed to keep a bottle of "Auld Kirk" for medicinal purposes.

About a fortnight after John began to feel his resolution weakening, but he was determined not to be the first to give way. In another week, however, he collapsed entirely.

"Tenny, woman," he said, "I've an awful pain in my head. Ye might gie me a wee drappie an' see gin I'll doe me ony guid."

"Weel, goldman," she replied, "ye're awrie late o' askin', for ever sin' that bottle cam' into the hoose I've been bothered an' wt' pains I'm held 'tis a' gams, an' there's nae drappie left."—Spare Moments.

He Was Selfish. An Arabic anecdote illustrative of the mildness of selfishness, which enables it to glide into the heart of a sultan, is told of the holy Mohammedan Sakat.

He said that for twenty years he had never ceased imploring divine pardon for having once exclaimed, "Praise be to God!" On being asked the reason for such persistent praying he answered:

"A fire broke out in Bagdad, and a person came to me and told me that my shop had escaped, on which I uttered those words, and even to this moment I repent of having said so, because it showed that I wished better to myself than to others."

An Informal Introduction. When Mark Twain lived in Buffalo, he made the acquaintance of some neighbors under peculiar circumstances. Emerging from his house one morning, he saw something which made him run across the street and remark to the people who were gathered on the veranda:

"My name is Clemens. My wife and I have been intending to call on you and make your acquaintance. We owe you an apology for not doing it before now. I beg your pardon for intruding on you in this informal manner and at this time of day, but your house is on fire!"

Not a Rosy Dreamer. "What would you do if you had a billion dollars?"

"Oh," answered the languid man, "I don't see why I should expect to prove any exception to the rule. I would probably go to one of the usual extremes and either buy yachts or else walk to save car fare."—Washington Star.

SENT ABSOLUTELY FREE ON RECEIPT OF POSTAL.

WRITE YOUR NAME AND ADDRESS PLAINLY.

There is nothing like ASTHMALENE. It brings instant relief, even in the worst cases. It cures when all else fails.

The Rev. C. F. WELLS, of Villa Ridge, Ill., says: "Your trial bottle of Asthmalene received in good condition. I cannot tell you how thankful I feel for the good derived from it. I was a slave chained with putrid sore throat and Asthma for ten years. I despaired of ever being cured. I saw your advertisement for the cure of this dreadful and tormenting disease, Asthma, and thought you had over-spoken yourselves, but resolved to give it a trial. To my astonishment, the trial acted like a charm. Send me a full size bottle."

REV. DR. MORRIS WECHSLER, Rabbi of the Cong. Bnai Israel, New York, Jan. 8, 1901.

DRS. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO., Gentlemen:—Your Asthmalene is an excellent remedy for Asthma and Hay Fever, and its composition alleviates all its success is astonishing and wonderful. We can state that Asthmalene contains no opium, morphine, chloroform or ether. Very truly yours, REV. DR. MORRIS WECHSLER.

AVON SPRINGS, N. Y., February 1st, 1901.

DR. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE COMPANY, Gentlemen:—I write this testimonial from a sense of duty, having tested the wonderful effect of your Asthmalene, for the cure of Asthma. My wife has been afflicted with spasmodic asthma for the past 12 years. Having exhausted my own skill as well as many others, I changed to see your sign upon your windows on 180th street, New York. I at once obtained a bottle of Asthmalene. My wife commenced taking it about the first of November. I very soon noticed a radical improvement. After using one bottle her Asthma has disappeared and she is entirely free from all symptoms. I feel that I can consistently recommend the medicine to all who are afflicted with this distressing disease.

Yours respectfully, O. D. PHELPS, M. D.

F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:

Baltimore, Md., March 20, 1901.

Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.

About five years ago my right ear began to ring, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely.

I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.

I then saw your advertisement accidentally in the New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain
