Collision and Runaway.

Last evening what might have proved a serious accident and injury to several persons, fortunately resulted only in damage to property.

Ed Street, with little Myrtle Disoway was driving on Johnston street, when reaching the corner of Middle street, attempted to turn down Middle street, when a transfer at the junction of the streets made it difficult for young Street to make the turn, his horse also proving very fractious.

The result was that a collision occurred, the transfer being partially wrecked while the shock threw out the two occupants of the buggy. The horse broke loose from the buggy and ran towards the stable on South Front street, knocking over a peanut stand on the corner of Middle and South Front streets.

The persons in the collision escaped without injury.

A Faithful Representative.

Olinton Democrat.
We see that the Hon. C. R. Thomas, our honest, faithful and able Representative, spent the few days of vacation at his home, New Bern, returning to Washington on January 6. The Third District has never had a more honest or more untiring worker than Mr. Thomas. He is an earnest advocate of all measures that tend to promote the best interests of his people and also of the South. He is a typical Southern man, and a Democrat of the first water. His constituents appreciate him and are satisfied that their interests will always be subserved when Thomas is in the national hall.

Minstrels Next Thursday Night.

Conroy and Murry are the hottest dancers in the country. They are with Barlow and Wilson's Minstrels. Barlow and Wilson's Minstrels, which appeared here last night, opens a new era in minstrelsy. The performance was devoid of boisterousness, and the rough and uncouth language, which is common with some of the so-called first-class companies; yet the vivid portrayal of the unique attributes and the volent humor of the genuine darkey, was charming in the extreme. The vocal numbers were all given in a manner that took with the audience from the start, while the orchestra was all that was claimed for it. Barlow and Wilson's Minstrels always find a cordial welcome awaiting them here.—Salt Lake Daily Desert News.

THE GREEN GOODS RACKET.

The Pamlico County Farmer Who Lost His $4000.

Another version is given of the story of the loss of $500 by Mr. Albert Phillips of Pamlico county, who went to New York last week and had his money in his satchel and upon his return, upon opening his satchel had the experience of Old Mother Hubbard who went to the cupboard, to fetch the poor dog a bone. Like that famous receptacle, the satchel was "bare."

The revised version reported is, that Mr. Phillips had some correspondents with some "financiers" of the metropolis and the negotiations reached a point that required his presence in New York. His son accompanied him and in fact it is said that the young man had conducted the negotiations which were of a somewhat delicate and diplomatic character. The money was raised on a mortgage on Mr. Phillips property near Wilkinson Point on Nouse river and the lump sum deposited in a satchel, whereupon the journey was made to New York with expedition and safety.

The ruse was in one of the great city sky-scrapers but the Pamlico county couple only ascended, by means of the "lift" as high as the seventh story of the imposing granite pile on Broadway. Here they met a suave gentleman in an ante-room of a suite of offices and upon proper identification, essential among dealers in "securities", they were admitted to another room filled with tables. Upon these tables were "lots and cords" of bills, or "green backs", mainly of $10 denomination. The money was evidently genuine, it had the right look. Several rolls of bills were shown to the visitors, each roll said to contain $8,000 in bills and just like those upon the tables. One of these $8,000 rolls was offered to the North Carolinian for the $800 still reposing securely within the satchel. It is said that the would-be benefactors represented that the bills were printed from genuine plates stolen from the government and were therefore the real thing.

At any rate the trade is said to have been made and a roll, the outside of which was plainly a $10 wrapper, was wrapped in tissue paper and carried to Pamlico county. The package was not touched on the way down but upon arrival at Arapahoe examination revealed the fact that like beauty the money was only skin deep. There was nothing below the first bill except neatly folded papers. As already stated in an account of the matter, the affair is a deep mystery to the community. The explanation given above that it was only another successful working of the green goods game, may tend to shed some light upon the happening.

James H Thorne Dramatic Company at the Opera House.

Manager Green has booked as his attraction for two nights commencing Monday January 13th, the Jas H Thorne Dramatic Company in a round of popular plays. Mr. Thorne has surrounded himself with a company of actors, and actors that are equal to any that have appeared here this season. Mr. Thorne is ably assisted by Miss Bonnie Meyer. This engagement is for two nights only. All special scenery is carried for the production and every little detail is looked after. There will be a change of bill each night.

Designer for February.

St Valentine's Day and Washington's Birthday divide honors in the February Designer, which contains Valentine verses, Valentine amusements for the children. "Washingtonian Tableau", a Washington's birthday comedy—"Mrs. Podgers' Mince Pie," and illustrated directions for dressing the hair in Martha Washington style. Three capital short stories are "Aunt Lina's Conjurin'," by Will Harden, "Her Son's Wife," by Margaret Williams Beardsley, and "Miss Clarissa's Smile Factory," by Mary Knight Potter. "Pincushions" and "Novelties in Crochet" give hints for fancy work. "The Hygienic Pantry and Storeroom," "Household Advice" and "Breakfast Recipes" offer assistance to the housewife. "Points on Dressmaking," "Fashions and Fabrics," "For Health and Beauty," and "Nursery Lore are other practical and interesting features. "Daughters of the White House," by Waldon Fawcett, is an illustrated article of merit, and "Book Notes" and "Selections for the Recitationist" make up the list of miscellany. Prominent among the fashion features is "Costumes for Elderly Ladies," beautifully illustrated, and containing just such information as is needed by those desiring dignified and appropriate apparel. A new departure in The Designer, and one which will be highly appreciated, consists of fully-illustrated instructions for the making of stylish hats and bonnets.

IN WINTER.

You may talk about your contentment and the pleasure of a spoon on the porch or in a hammock by the shelter of the moon. When the firebugs glance a glitter 'g'in the shrubbery by the fence. An' the owl hoots in the wood lot, an' you're young an' got no sense. It's all right an' fine, I reckon, but there's allus skoters round. An' it's long odds that the hammock comes a-cumblin' to the ground. If you're hefty like, an' I be, an' the gal is hefty too; But, anyway, the winter is the time I like to woe.

Bundled up in a neat cutter, where the seat ain't none too wide. A bright eyed, red cheeked, laughin' gal a-settin' by your side. A speedy, one hand drivin' boss, the snow well trodden down. A soapstone in the laprobe—an' a good safe ways from town. You talk about the weather, an' the ill'ry, an' the bees comin' to the ground. They had down to St Hoskins—an' your arm keeps workin' free.

Bimbo she looks up at you in a curantin' kind of way. An' your heart beats like the mischief, an' you don't know what to say. Your arm slides 'long the laryback an' then draps down to hern. An' she—jest sorter snuggles, an' you do not give a dern. That's me. That's when I'm happy, an' I keep that way until I get back to the stable an' the ill'ry keeper's bill.

BETWEEN HEATS.

C. K. G. Billings has a total of sixty horses.

The Boston horse show is scheduled for April 14-19.
H. K. Devereux of Cleveland is the new owner of Marique, 2:14.

It is reported that the Oakley track management will ask the privilege of spending the grand circuit of 1902.
During the past two years the Terre Haute Trotting association has reduced its debt from $34,000 to $14,000.
The fact that the Louisville trotting track has been leased to outwaded runners for another year puts that city out of the harness racing world for 1902 at least.

Members of the Road Drivers' association of Milwaukee are planning for the biggest season next year in the use of the light harness horse that that city has ever known.

An unreported addition to last year's list of new 2:15 trotters is the mare Jean that trotted to a record of 2:13 1/4 at the meeting held at Galesburg, Ill., late in the fall. She is five years old.
The National Trotting association has ruled that a member cannot have three races in progress at one time. The amateur driving clubs in membership with it have been doing this for years.
