LOCATION THE BASIS FOR MORAL TURPITUDE.

The newspapers are now making free of the alleged behavior of President Schwab of the Steel Trust, who is traveling in Europe.

The report concerning Mr. Schwab is that he gambled heavily at Monte Carlo, and to such an extent that Mr. J. P. Morgan telegraphed him to go slower in his sporting gait.

How much truth there may be in this story of course cannot be definitely known, but that Mr. Schwab should have been criticised for his conduct, if he did gamble, as alleged, is the really surprising part of the story.

The basis for criticism of man's moral turpitude, is his location.

The eminently respectable citizen, must bear himself very differently at home and abroad.

At home, to enter bar rooms, to frequent gambling places, to be known as a visitor at questionable places of resort, such habits would cause eager com ment and criticism, and cause the man so conducting himself, to be taken in hand by his friends.

But away from home, the citizen may exhibit his sporting nature by indulging in these worldly affairs, and receive no really unfriendly, much less denunciatory, criticism.

Why location forms so important a basis of the ethics of the day, is not to be easily seen, for certainly the badge of respectibility must undergo equal blem ish for moral misdemeanors, whether the acts may be committed at home or abroad.

But while society, if not the church, does not seriously note the difference in the home behavior and conduct abroad, and demand one manner of conduct, regardless of location, who or what shall change man's behavior in this respect?

There seems to be a moral illusion about it, which disarms all criticism and makes the home act of any moral turpitude one for sympathy, while the

The Skin.

There are 250 clocks in Buckingham palace, and it is a work of no small importance to keep them going. Some of them are as old as the time of Louis XVI., and the works are still in good order.

A Mexican war veteran and prominent editor writes: "Seeing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholers and Diarrhoea Remedy, I am reminded that as a soldier in Mexico in '47 and '48 contracted Mexican diarrhoea and this remedy has kept me from getting an increase in my pension for on every renewal a dose of it restores me". ## FLOWER AND TREE.

A single leaf of the orange tree carefully planted will often take root and grow. Rosin and tallow in equal parts make an excellent covering for wounds in fruit trees.

"Belting" a tree-that is, killing it by destroying the bark in a circle around the trunk-injures it for lumber. In transplanting trees all roots that have become bruised or broken should be cut clean away behind the broken part. A pan of water kept steaming in the stove will keep the atmosphere in good condition for the growth of house plants during the winter.

Trees should always be trimmed when young and growing in such a manner that there will be no necessity for cutting off large limbs. Wood mold, provided it is fine and free from roots and sticks, with the addition of a little well rotted compost, makes a splendid soil for the pots or boxes in which to grow the house plants in winter. Orchards generally produce full crops only every other year. This is because the full crop of one year so exhausts the fruit producing qualities of the soil that it is not able to make a full crop the next year.

Inflammatory Rheumatism Cured in

3 Days, Marton L. Hill, of Lebanon, Ind., says: "My wife had Inflammatory Rheumatism in every muscle and joint; her suffering was terrible and her body and face were swollen almost beyond recognition: had been in bed for six weeks and had eight physicians, but received no benefit until she tried the Mystic Cure for Rheumatism. It gave imme-diate relief and she was able to walk about in three days. I am sure it saved her life." Sold by T. A. Henry, Drug-rist New Bern.

Campaigning In Samar. With the exception of a small part of the island of Samar the ground is entirely covered with a dense jungle. which it is next to impossible to penetrate, says a Manila newspaper. The trails lead off fairly and after a few miles end in a blank wall of jungle, which is so matted that it takes hours for the soldiers to cut a trall wide enough for the passage of a single man at a time. What the natives call trails in the mountains are simply paths almost entirely covered with jungle grass, rattan and bamboo, through which the hardy mountaineers force their way with case, while the more by Tary Leaders. Tannel workmen engaged in excavat-ing at a farmhouse which stands on Scriver's point, close to Long Island wond, discovered a secret passage lead-ing from the passageway, it is believed, sound. The passageway, it is believed, was used in the Revolutionary war by the Tory lenders of Westchester to escape from the American troops which, under Washington, were encamped for weeks in the neighborhood at the time that General Howe of the British army was encamped just opposite, on

The legend of the passage has been known to the older residents of Westchester, although few of them have ever seen it. It was known as the "Tory hole." The builder of the old house was Isaac Wilkins, an Englishman, who settled in Westchester short. ly before the Revolution. Notwithstanding that he married a sister of Lewis Morris, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, he was a hot Tory. The house stands near a small creek leading to the sound. It is a two story frame structure with shingled sides. It has an immense chimney and fireplaces and was considered one of the finest houses in Westchester county when it was built, 137 years ago. The upper stories are provided with portholes.

through which the inmates guarded their grounds. The passage leading to the tunnel is in the garret. It is about four feet wide and is covered with a trapdoor. Stones steps projecting from the outside of the chimney form a stairway all the way down to the ground, where a tunnel passes under the basement and runs out under the yard to the small tidewater creek. The month of the cave and the tunnel years ago tumbled in and are now almost obliterated, but the passageway from attic to cellar is intact.-Exchange.

Illumination of Navigable Waters, A Canadian patent has been granted for a system designed to do away with the lighthouses, buoys and the entire paraphernalia for night navigation between Montreal and Quebec and to substitute a submerged electric system which, however, will apply to all inland navigable waters. The main idea is to sink an electric cable in the center of the navigable channels, with power transmitted from a power house at Montreal and lines of colored lights at or above the water level each side of the channel, the lights on one side being of a different color from those on the other side and supported by cork floats. The idea, if not exactly novel, is interesting and will provide a method of lighting obscure channels which should greatly simplify pilotage.

Clerk and Carrier Examination at

New Bern, N. C. The United States Civil Service Commission announces that on February 19 1902, an examination will be held in this city for the positions of clerk and carrier in the Post-Offle Service. All persons who have been examined for the position of clerk or carrier within the past year and failed to pass may be re-examined upon filing new applications in due time.

This examination offers an excellent opportunity for entering the Federal service to bright, energetic young persons who are not afraid of hard work, and the Commission hopes that a sufficient number of intelligent, active persons will present themselves for this examination. It may be stated that there encumbered and less accustomed white is a wider field for advancement upon merit in the Federal service than in many

When this tube gets infiamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect bearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
