RALEIGH.

Mistrial in Case of Gay at Wilson.

New Bern Lady Dies at Old Ladies Home. Rural Mail Routes. Palm Sunday. Preparing For Charleston Exposition Trip.

RALEIGH, March 24.—This morning Judge Allen arrived here from Wilson, to hold court. He did not leave there until this morning. He waited in the hope that the jury in the case of Gay, on trial for shooting Aycock, would agree, but after having been out 90 hours the jury failed to agree and a mistrial was entered. The jury was about equally divided between a verdict for murder in the first degree and one in the second degree. The claim of the defense was that Gay was an opium-eater and that his state of mind was such that he was irresponsible for his acts. After Gay shot Aycock he shot himself and this fact was also used by the defense.

There are today 11 paralytics in the Soldiers' Home here. For these special provision has to be made. Mrs. Burgess of New Bern, died in the Old Ladies' Home here last night, of paralysis. She was cared for by the Epworth League of that city.

Work began today on an addition to the Pilot Cotton Mill here which will double its capacity.

Post office agent F. P. Boushee went to Smithfield, Johnston county, today, to lay off rural free delivery routes. He will then return here.

The lumber business is very active now in this State. The demand is heavy.

The superb weather yesterday resulted in great congregations at the church and crowds at the park. There was a confirmation service at Christ's Episcopal church when Bishop Chesire confirmed sixteen persons. He confirmed 27 at St. Mary's college. The churches were effectively adorned with palms, and at Christ Church and the Catholic church sprays of palm were given each person entering.

Adjutant General Royster arrived here today to complete the arrangements for the trip of the provisional regiment of the State Guard to the Charleston exposition. Gov. Aycock, all the State officers and his staff will attend. Mrs. Aycock will not go.

Lake View, Onslow County.

March 24th.—Mrs. Dan Merrill with her sister, Mrs. John Hardy and Miss Mary Hardy of Jones county are visiting friends at this place.

Mrs. Forney Jarman and Mrs. J. L. Nicholson spent Sunday with Mrs. J. R. Franck.

Mr. C. D. Franck, who has been in Wilmington transacting business for the firm Francks Bros returned home Friday. Francks Bros have insured their store. We understand that another merchant of this community has had his life insured for the benefit of his customers.

Miss Jennie Sanderlin returned home Saturday. Miss Lina Franck accompanied her.

Mr. T. H. Davis, of New Bern, visited his sister, Mrs. Will Franck last week.

Mr. D. E. Sandlin with his friend, Mr. J. S. Simmons spent last week at New Bern and Mayville. They report the school at the latter place progressing well.

Miss Annie Franck who has been teaching several months at Gum Branch has completed her school and is at home again.

Invitations are out for a musical at Mrs. J. L. Nicholson's on Monday night. The chief feature of the entertainment is the violin and piano duets by Mr. O'Neal and Mrs. N. W. Mills.

Several of the young people of Lake View attended the closing exercises of the school at Adams school house, last Friday night. Among them were Misses Jennie Sanderlin, Jennie Franck, Mamie Juman, Laura Koonce, Annie Koonce, Lina Franck, Leah Franck and Sybil Franck Messrs. E. L. Franck, La Fayette Franck, Jim Davis, J. M. Franck, Thomas B. Koonce and Sidney Koonce.

They report a very pleasant time, the only trouble being the crowded house and lack of room.

Misses Mary Hardy and Leah Franck with Messrs Jim Davis and La Fayette Franck spent a pleasant Sunday morning on the lake.

Mr. La Fayette Koonce is very ill of pneumonia.

Mr. J. R. Franck's little daughter is showing improving.

Making Rare Butterflies.

The trade in rare butterflies is increasing in London, and ingenious deception is practiced regarding them. Ordinary butterflies are caught and killed; then girls are employed to smear the gauzy wings with this medicine and sprinkle fine metallic powder of various colors on the wings. In this way the collector can be supplied with the most beautiful specimens almost while he waits.

Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup for Teething Babies. Price, 75c. Cures Wind, colic, Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Griping Pains, Fever, Stomach, Croup, Cholera Infantum. Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup promotes the digestion and softens the baby.

May be Twelve Months Before Wilcox's Case is Disposed of.

ERIKABETH ORR, N. C., March 23.—The verdict that young Wilcox was guilty of the murder of Miss Nellie Cropsey seems to have met popular approval though it was not considered probable early yesterday, that the jury would so report. District Attorney Ward said yesterday that he never looked for any verdict other than murder in the second degree. Lawyer Aydiest for the defense will enter an appeal on behalf of the prisoner. He will seek to set aside the verdict on the ground that it was not consistent with the evidence brought out in the trial. There is little prospect of the prisoner paying the death penalty on the day set by Judge Jones. As the Supreme Court does not meet until September, the more than probable that it will be 12 months before the case is disposed of finally.

A STOMACH THEORY.

Maneats Everything Thoroughly, but Swallows Little.

"The stomach is a most willing servant," says Arthur Henry in Ainslie's. "It really loves its master and frequently performs such labors as none but a slave would endure. Horace Fletcher has recently evolved a theory, founded upon thousands of experiments, which maintains that of the necessary requirements the matter of chewing will alone suffice. According to him, man has been given the sense of taste to guide him in his eating and to maintain a just relationship between his food and his stomach. So long as there is any taste, he says, the food should remain in the mouth. That which remains when there is no longer any taste should be rejected as unfit. "By this method the taste is satisfied when the necessary amount of food has been sent to the stomach, and therefore it is impossible to overcrowd the stomach. By this method also only that portion of food which is nourishing goes past the taste into the system, and the taste, being once thoroughly satisfied, does not call for more until the proper time. This unconsciously regulates the hours of meals. "As it is now, food is ordinarily rushed into the stomach half chewed, waste and all, filling it with rubbish until it is overloaded, before the taste is satisfied. Then the hardworking stomach finds that it has twice as much labor before it as it would have if the food had been properly chewed, besides having so much waste material that it will get but half the nourishment necessary for the system. In so far Mr. Fletcher's theory is absolutely incontrovertible. "He further maintains that even food which contains poisons and injurious substances, if chewed until it disappears involuntarily without a conscious act of swallowing, is rendered harmless and if it contains anything pleasing to the taste becomes to some degree good food. "There is no doubt that the entire theory of Mr. Fletcher could be substantiated were the taste of man normal, but it has been proved that man's taste is not normal. There has been a gradual extinction of instinct progressing among the civilized branches of the human race. Instinct is the means by which animals are warned of danger. Most of the wilder kinds know what to eat and what to avoid. The Indian is only a little less protected by his instincts. But civilized man has cultivated perverse and unnatural appetites for so long that the natural protective instincts can no longer be trusted. Even savages led to adopt the habits of civilization degenerate, and this is probably one of the causes of their extinction."

Eight Miles From the Moon.

A telescope is now promised which shall bring the moon within eight miles of the earth instead of forty miles. Then, it is believed, it will be possible to conclusively determine whether atmosphere or life exists on it. The plans for a great new instrument more perfect than any now in existence have been formulated by Thomas Preston Brooke of England. Mr. Brooke is a musician and a band leader who has devoted his leisure to astronomy. He is at present busy getting estimates of the cost of his telescope. The lens alone will come to about $10,000. The tubing he hopes to have contributed by some manufacturer, and some public benefactor. It is thought, can be induced to build a suitable observatory for housing the instrument. It is the intention not to give it to any institution, but to have it available for the public, where students and laymen alike may use it.

"Genuine Bay Rum."

The National Druggist does not circulate among the public; therefore its exposure of the bay rum fraud has not reached the consumer of that article. The editor found a great lot of it offered for sale at 10 cents for a half pint bottle and forthwith investigated. To manufacture genuine bay rum by wholesale costs 10 cents a half pint bottle. Purchasing a bottle of the ten cent "genuine" article, he submitted it to an examination, which developed, in the first place, that the bottle held only six ounces, instead of eight, not over 2 to 3 per cent of alcohol, essential oils kept in solution by aid of an alkali and such other ingredients as brought the cost up to $1.50 a gallon, containers included. This stuff, sold at 10 cents for six ounces, affords a profit of nearly 3 cents a bottle.

Our Butterflies.

The Interior Department has under consideration the advisability of starting a new herd of buffaloes in the Yellowstone National park by buying some and catching all the young buffaloes that can be found and placing them in the reservation. Twenty-two of these animals are now located near the head of Pollock creek. The controller of the treasury will pay the expense involved, especially from hotel buses, transportation and other bills.

ARAPAOE.

March 24th.—The last week has brought our farmers very unfavorable weather for farm work. The damage so far as the freeze was only slight so far as we have learned. Corn planting will begin this week. Some have their land ready for the grain, others are getting ready. The acreage will be some larger this year than it was last, as there is continually being new land cleared every year. This year while times have been hard, the progress of land clearing has continued as good as usual and ditching has increased several per cent. Last year our people saw the need of good ditches which has increased the work along that line this spring.
