SNOW TO SUMMER

Hot in Some Western States Wintry Flakes in Others.

Washington, April 21.—The weather is playing a queer prank in the Western States, where summer weather and a snowstorm are in close proximity and the thermometer is moving at a lively rate.

Following close on the heels of the hot wave, the plateau storm that started Saturday has reached Minnesota, its movement during the last 24 hours being extremely slow. Its eastward course has been characterized by unusually high temperatures for the season and strong southwest gales.

Summer conditions prevail tonight from the Middle Mississippi Valley eastward to the Appalachians and the Lower Lake Region. Maximum temperatures ranging from 80° to 90° occurred this afternoon over a good portion of this area, and at 8 o'clock tonight the thermometer stood at 80° in Arkansas, Illinois, Iowa, Tennessee, Kentucky, and Ohio. In South Dakota there has been a drop of over 40° in the temperature since 8 P. M. Sunday. Low temperature prevails over the Northwest. At Helena, Mont., it is snowing, with a temperature of 38°.

Weekly Crop Bulletin.

For week ending Monday, April 21, 1902. Progress in the growth of crops and in farm work was somewhat retarded during the past week, but an improvement in general condition is noticeable. The temperature was again much below the normal, the deficiency averaging nearly 5° daily, and a fairly heavy frost occurred Saturday morning without much damage except to young tomato plants in the central portion. The continued low temperature which checks the growth of vegetation is the chief disadvantageous condition of the present season, and warm, sunny weather is much needed. Showers fell Monday night, and a cold rain Thursday, which hindered farm work to some extent, but the rainfall was moderate and left the soil in good condition for plowing and planting, and the moisture assisted the sprouting of seed. There was a deficiency in the amount of sunshine received. On the whole, therefore, the week was not entirely favorable, however, plowing and planting continue to make good headway over most of the State east of the Blue Ridge, and though spring is late and work behind, farmers appear generally to be more cheerful of good results than last year and are pushing work forward with energy.

RALEIGH.

Rural Free Mail Boxes Must Not Be Broken.

State Cotton Mills To Go Into Trust. Railroad Sulf. State Charter. State Reward Offered. Narrow Escape From Death.

RALEIGH, April 22.—There was a trial here this morning before U. S. commissioner of a man charged with breaking a rural free delivery mail box. He was sent to court, and an example will be made of him. He was a countryman who committed the offense "out of reckless wantonness," as a witness testified.

H. L. Grant, now the clerk of the U. S. district court, will after May 21, when the resignation of H. J. Reddick as clerk of the U. S. circuit court takes effect, assume also the duties of that office.

About 35 cotton mills in this State propose to go into a trust. H. E. Fries is arranging to take over the properties, a New Jersey chartered corporation to assume the obligations and pay for them by an issue of $7,000,000 of cumulative preferred stock and a like amount of common stock, and to pay this on the valuation of the mill properties on a basis of 60 per cent preferred stock, 40 per cent of bonds and 20 per cent common stock. The directors have assented to the arrangement and stockholders are voting upon it. It is not the Underwood trust scheme, but an entirely new one. The Underwood is only for yarn mills. This is for all kinds; in fact but few yarn mills are in it.

The Superior Court here devoted today to the hearing of the suit of Robert S. King, commercial traveler, against the Seaboard Air-Line for $40,000 damages for injuries sustained in a wreck last September. The railway contends that train wreckers pulled the spikes, for the purpose of causing the wreck.

The State charter the Durham roller flouring mill, capital $40,000, Julian S. Carr and others stockholders.

The Raleigh baseball league team has arrived and began practice today.

Among today's arrivals were, C. W. Thillet, George F. Bason, P. D. Walker, Charlotte; Donald McCracken, Whiteville; W. L. Cantwell, Wilson; H. L. Lyon, Whiteville.

Gov. Aycock offers $300 reward for unknown persons who burned a negro school house at Thomsville.

Engineer Buckner of Raleigh had a wonderful escape from death in the railway wreck Sunday afternoon. His engine ran into a switch, which a half-witted boy had opened. It struck cars loaded with lumber. The engineer's cap was cut half in two, the cab sheared off, but he leaped far back and as the engine stopped the timber was in an inch of his face.

Saved Many a Time.

Don't neglect coughs and colds even if it is spring. Such cases often result seriously at this season just because people are careless. A dose of One Minute Cough Cure will remove all danger. Absolutely safe. Acts at once. Sure cure for coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis, and other throat and lung troubles. "I have used One Minute Cough Cure several years," says Postmaster C. O. Dawson, Barr, Ill. "It is the very best cough medicine on the market. It has saved me many a severe spell of sickness and I warmly recommend it." The children's favorite. F. S. Duffy.

Wake Forest Shut Out.

Special to Journal. RALEIGH, April 22.—In the game of base ball here today between Trinity College and Wake Forest College, Bradsher of Trinity proved a perfect punter, while Hobgood of Wake Forest, had an off day.

Wake Forest could not score a run while Trinity ran up eight. Score details, runs, Trinity 8, Wake Forest 0. Hits, Trinity 7, Wake Forest 3. Errors 3 and 6 respectively.

Supreme Court Opinions.

Special to Journal. RALEIGH, April 22.—The following opinions were filed by the Supreme Court today.

Palmer vs Ford, from Union, reversed. State vs Buchanan, from Union, new trial.

State vs Maulsby, from Cumberland, no error.

Balley, Johnson and Barber vs city of Raleigh, reversed.

Armstrong vs Stedman, from New Hanover, error.

Insurance Co. vs Stedman, from New Hanover, no error.

State vs Foster, from Franklin, new trial.

Salmon vs Page, per curiam affirmed.

Brinkley vs Smith, from Columbus, case continued and referred to clerk under rule 19, rules 20 and 21 cited and discussed.

Slaughter vs City of Goldsboro, per curiam, affirmed.

Case of Balley and others against Raleigh was to recover license tax imposed on bar keepers whose places were within a mile of the city limits, the court decides in the city's favor, holding that as the city had police jurisdiction over places in that distance of the city limits it had also the right to impose and collect license taxes.

River and Harbor Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Without a word of discussion, the Senate today passed the river and harbor bill, carrying appropriations of about $70,000,000. So thoroughly had the bill been considered by the commerce committee that every Senator was content that it should pass as reported from the committee.

You Can't Do It!

It is bound to be seen. You have been holding on to that old threadbare suit all winter, because you could never get it with an overcoat. But you can't do it any longer! A few warm days like this will send that overcoat to the wardrobe, and, my dear fellow, that shiny, threadbare, buttonless and shabby suit will be exposed. But never mind, we can help you out in fine shape for $6.50, $8.00 or $10.00. A top-notch for $12.50. If your Spring Suit comes from here, it will be right.
