Seek Relief!

The great proportion of women who suffer from the various ailments mentioned above, make a serious effort to benefit themselves. The most of them go on paying no attention to their health, and finally, when they are in a state of extreme weakness, they find it necessary to seek relief. They go to the doctor and are told that their ailments are due to a general debility of the system, and that the only remedy is to take a course of medicine. This is a very common error, and one which should be avoided. The cause of the ailments is not a general debility of the system, but a local condition of the reproductive organs. The only remedy is to take a course of medicine which will act directly on these organs, and restore them to their normal condition. This is what WINE OF CARDUI does. It is a natural product, and is entirely harmless. It will relieve you right in your own home. Will you accept the testimony of Mrs. Belger and thousands of other women who really seek relief today? All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

The Farmers & Merchants BANK.

Capital, Surplus and Profits $88,850.00
APRIL 30th, 1901.

What We Have Done, Do, and Will Continue to Do.

This Bank conducts its business upon "up-to-date" methods. It is our purpose to deal justly and liberally with all.

We carefully safeguard the interests of our customers. Moreover, we frequently do it unknown to them; as opportunities often come to us in confidence, and we cannot over-appreciate such consideration.

We are not disposed to overlook the fact that the interests of the Bank and those of the people are closely bound together, and cannot by any means be separated.

This Bank acts as a repository for wills, and safely keeps them till the proper time of surrender. Will also act as the custodian of money or papers left with us in escrow. No charge for these services.

We procure Letters of Credit for intending travelers. We aim to be prompt, progressive and liberal.

In the matter of accommodations, this Bank meets every requirement within the limits of prudent banking.

If you have never been identified with us as a patron, we ask you to consider the advisability of becoming one.

In the early future, we propose adding a novel, yet substantial Savings Bank feature to our already progressive institution.

FOR THE CHILDREN

Good Security.
"Mister, do you lend money?" asked an earnest young voice at the office door.
The lawyer turned away from his desk, confronted a clean-shaven, neatly dressed lad of twelve, and looked at him keenly for a minute. "Sometimes we do—on good security," he said gravely.
The little fellow explained that he had a chance to buy a boy's hat, but the boy's cry had been "He had had the hat required, but he needed to borrow the other 15 cents."
"What security can you offer?" asked the lawyer.
The boy's brown hand, brought this pocket and drew out a paper carefully folded in a bit of paper. "It was a cheaply printed piece of paper, and the intoxicating liquor on it was good." "As respectfully as I can, I have accepted it and handed over the required sum."
A friend who had watched the transaction with silent amusement, laughed as the young borrower departed.
"You think that I know nothing about him?" smiled the lawyer. "I know that he came manfully in what he supposed to be a business way, and tried to negotiate a loan instead of begging the money. I know that he has been under good influences, for he would not have signed the paper if he had not cared for it so carefully. I agree with him that the boy who keeps himself from such things has a character to offer as a security."—Christian Observer.

Politeness Always Pays.
This anecdote teaches in a mirthful guise a lesson our boys and girls cannot afford to leave unlearned, which is that true politeness always pays. The story states that an Irish officer in the midst of a hot battle happened to indulge in the courtesy of a bow to someone on the field, a cannon ball passed directly over his head and took off that of the soldier immediately behind him. The bow alone saved his life, which he had the wit to see, apparently, for, turning to a soldier near him, he observed, "You see, my man, a fellow never loses anything by politeness."—Harper's Young People.

What the Bee Does.
Great indeed is the amount of work which a busy bee will do in a day. Every head of clover consists of about sixty flower tubes, each of which contains a very small quantity of sugar. Bees will often visit a hundred different heads of clover before retiring to the hive and in order to obtain the sugar necessary for a load must therefore thrust their tongues into about 6,000 different flowers. A bee will make twenty trips a day when the clover patch is convenient to the hive and thus will draw the sugar from 120,000 different flowers in the course of a single day's work.

The Strolling Club.
Now that the warm days are near at hand, "strolling clubs" will again become popular. Last fall this pastime was much enjoyed, particularly by the girls of Baltimore and Boston. And this was the plan: A party of girls, in number from four to ten, agreed upon some place, generally the home of a friend, as the objective point for their stroll and in the early afternoon walked several miles out into the country. Now that the warm days are near at hand, "strolling clubs" will again become popular. Last fall this pastime was much enjoyed, particularly by the girls of Baltimore and Boston. And this was the plan: A party of girls, in number from four to ten, agreed upon some place, generally the home of a friend, as the objective point for their stroll and in the early afternoon walked several miles out into the country. A light luncheon, prepared by the hostess or carried out by the girls, was served, and the party walked back again to the city in time for dinner.—Ladies' Home Journal.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

The Gladstone Lesson.
Again, sweet spring is with us, and the bird upon the bough would sing himself an overcoat if he knew where and how.
And we look in vain for blossoms and the signs of vernal mirth, and the unrelenting microbes takes possession of the earth.—Washington Star.

The Russian's Comment.
"It isn't much of a supper," she said, "but you didn't leave me any money this morning, and I can't make bricks without straw."
"Aw, I don't know. You did pretty well," said the ruffian, as he lifted one of the biscuits from the plate.—Indianapolis News.

No Held Her.
With flirting and foolishness now she was done,
For she meant to be wed to this chap.
"My race for a husband," she said, "is near worn;
I believe I am on my last lap."
—Detroit Free Press.

True Genius.
"I tell you that poet is a genius."
"A genius? Why, his stuff is the worst I ever read."
"I know."
"But why do you call him a genius?"
"Because he succeeds in selling it."—Philadelphia Record.

Now.
The lark's a-wing; the robin aways
Upon the highest budding bough.
Who cares to sing of other days
Or give the buried ages praise?
The greatest time of all is now.
—Chicago Record-Herald.

Not the Usual Way.
"Yes, he's going to marry the girl who used to work for him. Think of it!"
"Well, what of it? Most men marry a girl and let her work for them afterward."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

The View.
Little maid Marian's home was near
The edge of a precipice wild and sheer.
"But I don't like it," she said, "would you
I'm so afraid I'll fall into the view?"
—Judge.

Couldn't Fill the Bill.
"You know, Johnnie," said the mother, "the child is father of the man."
"Then said Johnnie, surveying his father from head to foot:
"But he ain't big enough to whip him!"—Atlanta Constitution.

MOTHERS, DO YOU KNOW

the many so-called birth medicines, and most remedies for women in the treatment of her delicate organs, contain more or less opium, morphine and strychnine. Do you know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotics? Do you know that strychnine is a deadly poison? Do you know that these medicines are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons? Do you know that you should not take any medicine for the pain accompanying pregnancy? Do you know that Mother's Friend is a purely vegetable preparation, and that it is entirely safe for the mother and child? Do you know that Mother's Friend is a celebrated preparation and that it has been used for forty years, and that each bottle of the genuine bears the name of The Bradfield Regulator Co., of Washington, D. C. Do you know that when you use this perfect remedy during childbirth or throughout the entire period of gestation that you will be free of pain and bear healthy, clever children? Well, these things are worth knowing. The price of a bottle, $1.00. Accept no substitutes. Our book "Motherhood" free.
