A Worthy Institution.

New Bern Collegiate Industrial Instinancial aid for that institution. It sets forth the benefits derived by the colore cople in this school and the dire nee of such an institution. It seeks to ele vate the race by teaching them the best way to do the practical things of every day life. It is situated perhaps in the most advantageous place in the entire south for a large attendance of negroes. In the County of Oraven are more than 8,900 colored people, and in the contig-nous territory it may be estimated there are 50,000 negroes. The school, therefore has a great work to perform for the col ored people in this vicinity alone.

The Board is attempting to raise $10,

000 in order to meet the conditions of a gift of money. They present the case in a strong light and it is to be hoped that the charitably disposed will consid-er this appeal favorably, by liberal financial help.
