TO WHAT PURPOSE?

At this stage of the political situation in North Carolins, it would seem as it further opposition to Judge Walter Clark's nomination, was beyond the wisdom or duty of any democrat.

Throughout the State, county after county has declared in Democratic con vention for Walter Clark's nominatio to the Ohief Justiceship.

Oriticism of proposed party nos from those within the party, is perfectly legitimate, before any formalized party action has takep place.

The State press has pretty generally given expression to the local and sectional views regarding Judge Clark's candidacy.

And yet no adverse criticism to Judge Clark has seemed to affect a most general expression in his favor from a large majority of the Democratic conventions.

This would indicate his coming nomi nation at Greensboro, and yet in some quarters there are rumors that such a nomination would call for a bolt from the minority opposing Judge Clark. If a bolt, to what purpose or good end ?

While no political enemy to Democra cy is apparent in the coming North Carolina campaign, there are possibilities within the ranks of the State Democratic party, which might breed animosity and strife, which could in another campaign bring ruin to the party's interests in this State.

It is this foe within the party, of bitterness over nominations, which threatens Democratic interests, and not political enemies without.

Judge Clark may be made such a party contention, as to start the strife, leading to party disaster, but before such a contention shall be started, is it not wis dom for the Democratic party members to study the situation carefully, and determine that such a contention shall not be started ?

One of the most extraordinary gifts made on the coronation day of Edward L was that of 500 horses, which had been used by the royal princes and oth er personages in the procession to Westminster abbey. These horses, all richly caparisoned and harnessed jus as they were, were let loose into the very midst of the mob after the banquet in Westminster hall that always succeeded a coronation in those day The people in the streets were permit ted to catch the animals, and to him who caught a horse it and its appoint ments belonged.-London Chronicle.
