POLLOCKSVILLE.

Cotton Pickers Busy. Corn Fine Crop Talk New County Ticket. Missionary Baptist Meeting. Personals.

September 8.—Cotton picking going on rapidly. Cotton selling for 2.75 in the seed here, and 3.50 in the boll for lint.

The cotton crop is much less in this county and Oaslow than the farmers expected before the picking began.

Corn is fine in most every section we have heard of, especially so in Jones county.

We hear that there is a great dissatisfaction in the selection of some of the county officers by the county convention on the 29th of August, and that there is to be a mass meeting held soon at Trenton to put out a new ticket. This will, if so, quite likely open the gate for the Republicans to come in.

The Missionary Baptists have just closed a very interesting protracted meeting at this place. This has been a glorious meeting. There has been great good done in this village by those faithful followers of God. Mr. Garner, the pastor, was assisted in this work by the Rev. John E. King, of Wilmington and brother John C. Whitey of New Bern. Four were added to the church and will be baptized at this place on the morning of the 4th Sunday in this month, which will be the 29th.

The county bridge at this place is finished and travel over it was again resumed last Saturday morning. We will have an iron bridge next year and we hope some trouble as this will then end for a while.

Mr. Frank Mallocks of Mayville and Miss Emma Weeks of Cedar Point were visiting friends and relatives here last Sunday.

Mr. Ben Hume, Mr. Tom Lindsay and Mr. G. M. Esselt were visitors at this place Sunday.

Mr. Owen Weeks and Miss Zora Jones of Stella were visitors at this place last Sunday.

Mr. J. B. Bender spent last week visiting his old home on New River where he had some very fine sport fishing and crabbing, and enjoying the shadeing that can be had only on the Tar and by the tree trunks.

RALEIGH.

The Cotton Crop Showing in Lenoir County.

Good Rain Fall. Real Estate Sale. Masonic Temple. Malicious Actions. State Fair Prospects. No Report On Wilcox.

RALEIGH, Sept. 10.—The best rain in many weeks fell here yesterday afternoon and last night. The wind was for an hour quite high and no doubt some damage was done to cotton, which is very fully open on sandy land. Many farmers are slow in picking cotton; some because of special attention given to tobacco, others because of scarcity of labor and yet others because of carelessness.

Dumpey Wood, a well known farmer of Lenoir county, says that on ninety acres in cotton he made last year sixty-five bales, while this year he will not get over forty-five. He says the drought has so affected his cotton that there is no bottom crop or top crop, only that at the middle of the plants. His cotton is so nearly all open that the first picking is getting practically all of it. Some persons expected that the Supreme Court would yesterday file an opinion in the notable Wilcox case, but though a number of opinions were filed this was not among them.

Governor Aycock will return here next Saturday from Seven Springs. Today the Dime Savings bank here bought the five story building for years occupied by the State National bank, and will occupy it.

A number of plans will be submitted for the Masonic Temple here. It is certain that the building will be the handsomest in the State. The actual work of construction will probably begin early in the spring. The site chosen, on Fayetteville street, one block south of the Capitol square, and embraces property on which there is now a bank and three stores.

Unknown persons, generally believed to be young white men who habitually loaf and drink, cut all the ropes of awnings of business houses on the principal streets last night. In some cases they slashed the awnings with knives. There was considerable inquiry today as to where the police were while such malicious mischief was in progress. Some unknown persons have also stolen some of the 6 inch shells of the Confederate monument in the Capitol square. State treasurer Lacy is in New York, on business.

Among today's arrivals were L. G. Daniels, Roanoke Island; J. M. Armstrong, Wilmington; A. L. Smith, Charlotte; L. W. Moore, Greenville.

Very active work is in progress in connection with the State Fair. The premium list is being very widely distributed. There will be the usual great gathering of people. The Fair is an annual re-union of North Carolinians. No other State has anything like it in this great social feature.

Weekly Crop Bulletin.

The weekly crop bulletin for week ending Monday, September 8th, is as follows:

Frequent showers occurred during the past week, chiefly on the 3d and 4th, which gave a fairly abundant amount of moisture along the northern tier of counties, but were very irregularly distributed over the central and southern portions of the State. The droughty character of the season has not materially changed, and crops continue to suffer from lack of sufficient moisture over many counties. Where showers occurred late crops were revived to some extent.

COFFEE BLOATING.

Coffee Causes Liver Congestion in Some People.

"We drank coffee some years and it seemed an established law in our house hold to take refuge with some medicine or physic to make the bowels move or relieve the stomach of its pressure (coffee is generally the cause of persistent constipation as it produces more or less congestion of the liver.)

I was so nervous that my hands trembled and sleep fled from me. I felt irritable all the time and unable to do much of any work. I had to force myself to do things; always felt lazy and had to drive myself to get around; the food I ate belched up and I always felt as if I were bloated, and had such a narrow and tight sensation in my chest so that every little exertion started hot waves running through the whole body, followed by a cold, chilly sensation.

But after I commenced to use Postum Coffee, and quit coffee these complaints all disappeared; I feel well, energetic and hopeful; am better nourished and able to sleep well every night. My husband was often sick and the doctor and medicine were constantly needed in our house; but since we stopped coffee and used Postum, all these things are changed and that heavy feeling around the chest has gone.

Every wife should introduce this whole some beverage into her family. She would discover in a few days what a rich food she had prepared for her loved ones and why she did not all of these unpleasant things which were caused by coffee drinking. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

extent, and field peas, turnips and clover were benefited. The mean temperature was above normal except on the 5th and 6th which were quite cool. Farm work progresses rapidly, but fall plowing is much behind on account of the refractory condition of the soil. Streams are very low and water for stock is scarce in some places.

Cotton has not improved and will be far short of an average crop; the bolls have completed their growth and are opening very fast, some prematurely on account of rust which is very widespread. Picking cotton is now general and is advancing more rapidly. Late planted cotton is still green and will give a small top crop. Corn is practically made, and is a very good crop on bottom lands, though short on uplands; much corn has already been cut and placed in shocks. Fodder pulling is nearly finished. Making sorghum syrup has begun. Tobacco is all cured except in the larger producing counties in the north from Granville to Surry where the work is still in progress with good results. Minor crops are fair to good and can hardly be further influenced by weather conditions. Scuppernon grapes are ripening. Strawberry plants are suffering from the dry weather.
