RALEIGH.

One Hundred Varieties of North Carolina Apples.

To Exhibit at State Fair. Cranberry Mine Ore Output. Good Bait Fall. As to Water Way Route. Parades For State Fair.

RALEIGH, Oct. 6.—Governor Aycock returned today from a campaign tour in the piedmont section, and now goes to the 10th district, the extreme western counties, right in the midst of the Republican stronghold, the only doubtful district of all the ten.
Gen. Robert F. Hoke left today for his iron mine at Cranberry, in Mitchell county. He says the output is now 250 tons a day, this all going to the furnaces at Johnston City, Tennessee. He is much pleased at the rapid building of another railway into Mitchell.

Good rains fell here yesterday, which benefited fall sown crops. No damage was done cotton more than three fourths of which is said to have been picked.

Secretary Bruner of the agricultural department and J. Van Lindley, the president of the State pomological society have returned from a tour through the leading apple-growing counties of the piedmont and mountain sections. It was Mr. Van Lindley's first visit there, and he was astonished at the fruit. Mr. Bruner has secured over 100 varieties of apples, including seedlings, for display at the apple show here during the State Fair, October 27-31. He says that never before have over 50 varieties been shown. He puts the apple crop this year at 65 per cent though Yancey county, which grows the largest quantity, gives only 50 per cent as its estimate. He found some of the rarest apples on the upper ridges of Caldwell county, these being the Spitzenberg, Northern Spy and Grimes' Golden.

The Supreme Court is devoting this week to appeals from the 7th district.
The State board of education today received a request from the United States engineer corps for information as to the level of Lake Mattanuckee at low water, this information to be used in connection with the inland water-way through the North Carolina Sounds, as the level of that lake has some sort of relation to the Sounds.
Arrangements are well under way for an extensive industrial parade here during the State fair. There will also be a floral parade. Prizes are offered for the best floats and decorated vehicles.

Market Letter on Cotton.
By private wire, J. E. Latham & Co.
New York, Oct. 6.—For some unexplainable reason the market broke about 10 points early, and the sentiment was such that the market failed to recover. It may have been the better weather, the nervousness in the stock market, or due to profit taking. The simple explanation is the easiest, that the market can't always advance. The good news on the market is all out, a change can be looked for. Improved weather will have an influence for the time being, but we doubt whether the good weather effects will be as material, as sentiment predicts. It will require good weather to pick what we have this year, without good weather the grade will be poor. If receipts fall off before the latter part of this month, the world will conclude that the crop is moderate, and the buying of splinters will prevent any break. For the present a steady market means a strong market. A reaction of ups and downs is in order, and we believe in buying Spring months. Splinters are buying in Texas at 9 1/2, and as long as this condition exists there is no great chance for a serious break.

Five Mountain Apples at McSorley's.

Celery Headache Powders.
There is not any better remedy for headache than these powders. They never fail to relieve. Made and sold only at Davis' Prescription Pharmacy.
Sacred to the Memory of J. G. Sullivan, Jr. Died Sept. 15th, 1902.
We silently laid our comrades away beneath the green grass sod. No more to meet with in grief. He made his peace with God.
No more will forever search his brow, Nor pain his body wrack. On yonder bright and peaceful shore, We'll meet our comrades next.
How softly, blow, O Zephyr winds! How lightly over his grave, For he is not dead, but sleeping, In victory o'er the grave.
Weep no more my comrades, Weep not more in grief. For in that beautiful city, I know there's room for him.
