CHEAPNESS NOT QUALITY.

The work of the State chemists in making the pure food tests, which has been completed, must provoke the query, as to why foods are so much adulterated, as to demand such tests as have been made.

According to advance reports the principal adulterations are made in jellies and jams.

These articles are very important household necessities, and their consumption is immense, ever on the increase.

Two things may be said to cause food adulterations to any gross extent, scarcity of the pure article, or its cost.

But if inquiry is made at the stores where jellies, jams and other foods are sold, it will be found that the consumer as a rule seeks an article according to its price, rather than to the demand as to its purity.

If the investigation will be made, the foods which are adulterated will be seen to be most attractive to the eye, and to the taste there will be found nothing apparent to cause their rejection.

It is only in the after effects, brought about by the constant use of adulterated foods, that the evil effects upon the human system will be developed, and in most instances where injury is done the trouble will be unknown, or charged to something else than to the use of adulterated foods.

The remedy of this food adulteration, and its deleterious effect upon people, lies with the consumer.

If cheapness is demanded as the first requisite, there will be the manufacturer to make the food for the price.

The reputable manufacturer could not permit a single adulteration to be made in his article sent to the trade. The trade mark is the guarantee, and the contents of jar or can must bear out the label.

The manufacturer, who is informed as to the chemical properties, knows that substitutions can be made, but this he also knows is adulteration. The substitution means greater profit, but it means an inferior article, even more, as article really injurious to every consumer of it.

Let the consumer demand first purity in the article wanted, and there will be no food adulteration to demand the work of chemists.

The consumer will not buy stale vegetables because of cheapness, yet will buy a manufactured product of the same, because it is cheaper than some other brand.

The rule of demanding first wholesomeness, will break up the manufacture of adulterated foods.

His Life in Peril.

"I just seemed to have gone all to pieces," writes Alfred Bee, of Welfare, Tex., "biliousness and a lame back had made life a burden. I couldn't eat or sleep and felt almost torn apart. When I began to use Electric Bitters, but that worked wonders. Now I sleep like a top, can eat anything, have gained in strength and am back to work. They give vigorous health and new life to weak, sickly, run-down people. Try them. Only 50c at C. D. Bradham's drug store.

Haytian Blockade.

GIRL WOMEN.

The general standard of measurement for women is in "gown-up" style.

When a girl is accompanied from school and arrives at the dignity of trailing skirts and elaborate hair dressing she is looked upon as a young woman.

But, in a very few instances, she knows nothing of such standards of such standards.

When the womanly reputation of a girl is at stake, she should be careful to adhere to the standards of the gown-up style.

It is a girl's ignorance of the standards of the gown-up style that results in long years of after misery.

Misery who perceive the evidences of functional derangement in young girls should promptly have them begin the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

It establishes regularity, tranquilizes the nerves and tones up the whole system.

My troubles started during my girlhood, when I was fifteen years old.

From that time I did not see a well day. I suffered at every monthly period with terrible headache, irritation of the spine and pains in the chest.

That summer through my life and I carried all the time and constant headache. One doctor would tell me one thing and another would say something altogether different, but they only relieved me.

I then wrote you and followed your advice. I took five bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, four of "Golden Medical Discovery" and five vials of "Kidney and Bladder Pills."

Now I am as well as ever and I can sleep soundly and eat solid and substantial food without distress.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the sluggish liver.

We would like to ask, through the columns of your paper, if there is any person who has used Green's August Flower for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Liver Troubles that has not been cured—did we also mean their results, such as our stomach, fermentation of food, habitual constipation, nervous dyspepsia, headaches, despondent feelings, sleeplessness—in fact, any trouble connected with the stomach or liver? This medicine has been sold for many years in all civilized countries, and we wish to correspond with you and send you one of our books free of cost.

If you never tried August Flower, try one bottle first. We have never known of its failing. If so something more serious is the matter with you. Ask your druggist.

MATLARD, Fla., October 10th, 1901. The Hancock Liquid Sulphur Co., Baltimore, Md.

Gentlemen—I have had Eczema over thirty years, have tried many remedies prescribed by various physicians, but to nothing has the disease yielded so readily as to Liquid Sulphur. I think if used properly it is undoubtedly a specific for Eczema. I have prescribed it for others with most satisfactory results. I consider it the best remedy for cutaneous affections I have ever known and regard it as the greatest medical discovery of the age.

Respectfully yours, W. A. HEARD, M. D. For sale at F. S. Duff's.

Sherratt. Sherratt, or sorbet, as it is sometimes called, is water ice beaten rapidly with freighting, so that it is light and frothy. It is served at luncheons, dinners and suppers. Water ice is stirred very occasionally and is more solid and compact than sherratt.

Saccharin. Saccharin is so sweet that one part in ten thousand of water is easily tasted.

Take a Bath in Hancock's Liquid Sulphur. They are superior to those of the most celebrated Sulphur Springs, having the additional advantage of being made in a pure and healthful way.

Only a skilled optician with the necessary instruments can determine the focus of each eye separately and prescribe them accordingly. It is possible to have the selection of your glasses in yourself or any one not competent for the sake of saving a few dollars at the expense of your eyesight.
