CORPORATIONS REPORT

More Fully. Over Twenty Two Hundred in State.

Sale of Cotton to Acre in Johnston. State Fair Decorations. Large Attendance at Shaw University. Society Note.

RALPHAM, Oct. 21.—It is stated at the office of the State Auditor that corporations are reporting much more fully than they did last year. There are on the books this year something over 2,500, while last year there were only about 1700. The State's receipts of taxes will be larger this year, but the increase will not be as great as it might have been. Last year many corporations in their reports showed their cash value as exceeding their assessed value, while this year a number show their cash value to be the same as the assessed value.

Chief Clerk Hudson of the Auditor's office has returned from a trip to Cleveland, Gaston and Lincoln counties, during which he looked after some of these corporations. He says regarding the registration of negro voters in Cleveland that while 3 years ago 876 voted there, yet up to last Saturday only four had registered; two of these being from one township and two from another. One is a "free negro" whose father voted; another a preacher.

James H. Fox says the cotton crop in Johnston county is the best since 1890, and that a great deal of the land has yielded a large bale to the acre. He says the farmers were never in a better financial plight. The cotton may be said to be practically all picked.

The number of students at Shaw University, colored, here is now 376; the largest number on record this early in the term.

The Agricultural and Mechanical College cadet battalion will parade at the State Fair 300 strong.

The decorating of buildings for the State Fair is now actively in progress.

The debt of Central M. B. Church here has been paid off and the mortgage publicly burned.

A number of Baltimore society people are here to attend the wedding tomorrow evening of Prof. H. M. Wilson, of Maryland, now a member of the faculty of the A. & M. College here, and Miss Mary Turner.

Market Letter on Cotton. By private wire, J. E. Latham & Co.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The market heated today. Yesterday there was hardly a halt in the advance from 8.24 to 8.44 for March. This a. m. March sold at 8.44 then to 8.37. The small movement seemed to have lost some of its power. Every advance in January brought out long cotton and induced short selling in March and May. Receipts are likely to run 70,000 or even 80,000 bales last year and there will be another big week last year to compare with which present shorts selling. Last year the figures this week were 680,000 and next week 650,000, we are likely to run behind 150,000 bales. This would decrease the movement over last year to about 800,000 bales. It would bring down the movement to about the figure of two years ago. The movement last year resulted from the late crop. This year the season is 30 days earlier. The movement should be larger than last year. That it is no larger than in 1900 may be a bull argument. Of course the fine weather is adding to the crop, but the weekly report today gives some information on this point. Conditions for the week were generally favorable for picking, which is well advanced and nearly completed in many sections. Frost in north portions of the belt, but no material damage is reported. As a whole the top crop will be very light. Of course the fine weather is adding to the crop but the cotton is needed.

NO DRUGS. Just Proper Food and Rest.

The regular user of drugs to relieve pain is on the wrong track. Find the cause and remedy it by proper food and quit drugs for temporary relief or you will never get well.

A minister's wife writes:—"Three years ago, while living at Rochester, N. Y., where my husband was pastor of one of the city churches, I was greatly reduced from nervous prostration and ailments and was compelled to go to a well known Eastern sanitarium for my health. My stomach was in bad shape from badly selected food; I was an habitual user of Chamberlain's Magnesia and my physicians made every endeavor to break up this most damaging habit, but all to no purpose.

At the sanitarium I was given Grapes-Nuts and learned the value of the food. I used it continuously, eating it at nearly every meal and my recovery was rapid. It has enabled me to eat and digest food and to give up the drug habit and I am now completely restored to good health.

At the present time I am able to attend to my household and family duties, perform my duties as a minister's wife, and enjoy my life. I am truly thankful to God for the recovery I have had. I am now completely restored to good health. I am truly thankful to God for the recovery I have had. I am now completely restored to good health.

Southern Railway Took First Prize.

The Southern Railway management yesterday received advice from the chairman of the committee on decorations that the committee appointed to award prizes for the best decorated buildings in Washington during the Grand Army encampment had decided that the Southern Railway is entitled to the first prize, a large and magnificent silver Loving Cup. The committee conveyed its congratulations on this success and thanks for the part the Southern Railway took in making the city attractive to the large number of visitors on this occasion. The magnificent appearance which the general office building of the Southern Railway, on Pennsylvania avenue, presented, was commented upon by thousands, the decorations being exclusively of numerous large new national flags, and the effect was most dignified and pleasing.—Washington Post, Oct. 11, 1902.
