New Bern, N. C., Oct. 24, 1902.

THE MESSENGER'S ENTIRELY MISTAKEN.

The Wilmington Messenger was never nore mistaken when it says-"The New Bern Journal is fighting hard to keep people from thinking that there is small pox of any consequence in that town or county."

What this paper is doing and has been doing, and is going to continue doing, is to tell what the small pox situation is

The "thinking" small pox has been done in Kinston, which quarantined against New Born because of street talk A. S.R. 124; in Kinston.

To "assist" its quarantine it sent word A. Cop to every country district for the people So Ry to keep away from New Bern because S. Ry pref. . . . "amall pox was raging there."

This friendly and brotherly quarantine on the part of Kinston has resulted in C. & O .. thousands of dollars loss and damage to B. & O .. the trade of New Bern.

Daily come reports from adjoining countles that New Bern is filled with small pox cases.

From Jones county, the story comes of 500 cases here, with 100 deaths. dally.

From Carteret county, from Pamilico and Onalow counties come the same grossly exaggerated falsehoods, and all through the agency of the Kinston Free

A theatrical company arrived here Monday from Kinston. Its people had the same story to tell. They remained in Kinston over Sunday, and came here telling the tale of 275 cases and 60 deaths from small pox in New Bern, which they had heard.

A column could be filled with the tales told by mouth and letter, of New Bern's small pox cases.

The fact that there are no cases here, amounts to nothing, against falsehoods once started, which are backed up by further misrepresentations.

Wilmington sent a representative here | Fri. to look over the situation, and reported no cause for quarantine.

The powder puff may help to hide the syages of time but it avails little to hide ravages or time but it avails little to hide the ravages of disease. When the face is disfigured by eruptions, the treatment must go below the surface to the blood, which is corrupt and impure. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures disfiguring eruptions which are caused by impure blood. It cures scro-fulous sores, crysipelas, boils, pimples, eczens, salt-rheum and other cruptive diseases which impure blood breeds and "I was troubled with ecsema from the crown of my head to the soles of my feet," writes Mrs. Rila Quick, of Cass City, Tuscola Co., Mich. "Could not walk at times gg, wear my shoes. Thought there was no help for me—at least the doctor said there was no help for me—at least the friends at Christmas time and there heard of the good that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery had done for them, and was advised to try it at once. For fear that I might neglect it my driend sent to the village and got a bottle and made me promise that I would take it. I had been getting worse all the time. I took thirteen bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and ten vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Peliets, and used 'All-Healing Salve,' which made a complete cure. It was slow, but ners. Birds' Nests and Poetry. Birds' nests have attracted the attention of inquisitive genius from the days of Aristotle down to the present time. This is not wonderful, because the nests are invariably curious and often beautiful, besides offering a cradle, as it were, for a host of romantic specula tions and poetical theories. Imagina tion has taken hold of birds and their nests with singular affection, drawing forth meantime some beautiful legends to enrich romance withal and to id to the sum of what is most be sistent in the song of mankind. The ancients told that the halcyon, a beautiful aquatic bird had its nest on the sen's breast, a little floating palace around which the water was always calm and sweet. Haleyon, or aleyon was the kingdisher. It is supposed, but we now know every species of this bird, and none of them builds its nest to drift about on the sea. Indeed, as if to make the contrast of fact with fancy as great as possible, most of the kingfishers dig deep holes in the ground for their homes.
