Market Letter on Cotton.

By private wire, J. E. Latham & Co.

New York, November 19.—The tone of the market continues to show more steadiness. It begins to look as though all the long cotton that was an immediate menace to the market had been sold. In this case the outlook for a better market is imminent. There is every evidence that the figures of the Government report will be more favorable. About 10,000,000 or 10,250,000 bales is about what is expected. Anything less would be almost impossible in view of the weather, as the crop is believed to be over 10,750,000. The government figures are quite likely to cause more or less buying. For this reason shorts are taking advantage of the decline to get in their cotton and look for an advance before the bureau report. Then, too, many who have been waiting for evidence of steadiness, see improvement in the tone and buy on declines. Just as the market broke this a. m. from 8.08 for March, yesterday to 8c. on an advance, towards 8.15, tomorrow there is likely to be another set-back. For this reason we would take profits on bulges and take it back on breaks. We do not think the present condition warrants much of a movement either way. With any strengthening of spot markets there can be an improvement, but as far as general speculation goes there is not enough of it at the moment to cause much of a bull market. We should not be surprised to see 8.35 for March before the bureau report but would only buy on breaks.

SCIENCE SIFTINGS.

Light passes from the moon to the earth in one and a quarter seconds. A body weighing one pound on earth would weigh twenty seven and a half pounds upon the sun. In order that a rainbow may be produced the sun must not be more than 42 degrees above the horizon. The following are found to be the densities of planets, water being 1: Mercury, 3; Venus, 5.14; earth, 5.50; moon, 3.44; Mars, 4; Jupiter, 1.35; Saturn, .68; Uranus, 1.62; Neptune, 2.29.

JAPANESE JOTTINGS.

In Japan 93 per cent of silk spinners are women. Silk workmen in Japan are entitled by law to good hospital treatment. Volcanic ashes mixed with cement have been used successfully in the construction of a breakwater in Otaru harbor, Japan.

NEW COFFEE.

For the U. S. Army.

Some soldiers are badly affected by coffee drinking. The Hospital Steward in one of the Army Posts in the West says:—"Though in the medical service of the Army, I suffered agony for two years from a case of chronic gastric indigestion, and now that I am free from all the tortures attendant upon it, I attribute it to the good effects of Postum Food Coffee, both as a food and as a beverage. I used medicinal and mechanical means to relieve myself during those two years and even though I had left off the use of coffee, I did not find myself in any measure free until I had commenced using Postum."

Being in charge of a detachment of the Hospital Corps, U. S. A., I, of course had supervision of the mess, and by degrees I have initiated into using Postum every member of the mess, some of whom were formerly very loud in their denunciation of anything "manufactured" and going still further, "I have supplied it to our patients in lieu of coffee; some have found fault, while many have praised it highly, and when returned to duty, have continued the use of it when it was possible for a soldier has an extremely hard time in trying to choose his own food."

For the past eight months, not a grain of coffee has been used in this Hospital, and thanks to a cook who prepares Postum just right—there is a brilliant prospect of coffee taking a permanent seat in the back-ground. One who has passed through the horrors of indigestion as I have, shudders as he looks back upon his sufferings and when cognizant of the cause, will shun coffee as he would a rattlesnake. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

RALEIGH.

Farmers Holding Back Their Cotton Seed.

Buildings Nearing Completion. Bulletin on Tree Fruits. Death at Lambertson. Joyner Gets 67-000 Majority. Text Book Report.

RALEIGH, Nov. 19.—The price of cotton seed has declined to 21 cents a bushel and as a result the farmers are holding. The highest price reached this season was 28 1/2 cents.

The brick work of the Methodist Orphanage here has been pushed so rapidly that by the end of this month it will be completed. This is on the main building which is already an imposing structure. The Pullen memorial hall at the Agricultural and Mechanical College will be finished by almost the end of January. The style of architecture is very different from that of the other buildings. There is a great portico, with massive columns two stories in height.

A special bulletin on tree fruits is now in preparation by the State agricultural department. It is the work of T. K. Bruner, W. F. Massey and Franklin Sherman. It will be largely devoted to that important fruit, the apple. Secretary Bruner says the apple show at the State Fair has attracted great attention to this State. Inquiries as to apples and apple growing lands are coming from all directions, as far as Minnesota, for example. He says there is a great future for this business in Western North Carolina.

News comes from Lambertson of the death of another daughter of the late E. K. Proctor, Jr. He died, then twin daughters and now another daughter. His widow is critically sick and so is his sister, Mrs. George McLeod.

The State vote will not be canvassed until Thanksgiving day. The returns are in, however, and show that J. Y. Joyner, Democratic candidate for State Superintendent of Public Instruction, received 126,734 votes, and Rev. D. A. Long, his Republican opponent 68,131, making Joyner's majority 57,603. Your correspondent gave the estimate of 67,000 a week before the election. The total vote was 208,841. In 1900 the vote was 185,857 Democratic and 126,298 Republican, a total of 312,660, or 102,115 more than was cast this year. It is estimated that 80,000 fewer negroes voted this year than voted in 1900.

Cadet C. C. Harrell, son of the Mayor of Kelford, Bertie county, is very sick at the A. & M. College here, of peritonitis.

The State board of examiners of public institutions is not pleased with the condition of the convicts who are cutting timber for the Goldboro Lumber Company near Dover, and also building a railway extension. The quarters are bad, the food not what it ought to be and the bosses are allowed to sulk at the convicts.

State Superintendent Joyner in his annual report will urge that the $300,000 direct appropriation for public schools be continued, also the $3,500 appropriation for rural school libraries, of which $295 are now in use.

His report contains the report of the text book commission and that of its sub-commission. The latter is given for the first time. It shows that the text book commission did not, in several cases, follow the recommendations of the sub-commission. This was the case as to readers, writing books, arithmetics language lessons, physiology and pedagogy.

His investment. "When I knew old Hunkle years ago," said the returned traveler, "he hadn't a soul above dollars and cents. I find him now the best read man, especially in history and the works of the standard novelists, I ever met. I can't understand the change in him."

"The explanation is easy," replied the old citizen. "He lent $1,000 to a man who wanted to start a high class circulating library. After a year or two the man failed, leaving nothing but the books as his assets. Old Hunkle had to take them for the debt, and as nobody wanted to buy a lot of second-hand books he started in and read all of them to get his money back."—Chicago Tribune.

Some Satisfaction. "You have built fine residences in various parts of the country," said the austere friend, "you have caused sparkling fountains to play and beautiful gardens to bloom, but can you honestly say that the world is any better for your having lived in it?" "Well," answered the millionaire humbly, "I don't know that it actually is any better, but I think I can claim that it looks a little better."

More to Follow. "Well," said the lady who was endeavoring to give the widow consolation on the way home from the cemetery, "the worst is over now." "I'm afraid not," answered the afflicted one. "The lawyer says there's a bad flaw in one of the insurance policies."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Frizzle. Customer—This toothbrush I bought from you last week ain't no good. Storekeeper—What seems to be the trouble? Customer—Why, the first time I tried to clean the harness buckles with it the hairs all came out.—New York Journal.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

Through the statement of a Mrs. Derhomer of Hoboken, N. J. who calls herself a "converted anarchist," it was developed that three plots had been made to take take President Roosevelt's life by an anarchist since his induction into office. THE NEW BABY.

Yes, I've got a little brother; Never asked to have him nuther, But he's here. They just went away and bought him, And just wash the doctor brought him; "Weren't that queer?" When I heard the news from Molly, "Why, I thought it first 'was jolly," "Cause, you see, I s'posed I could go and get him And then mamma, course, would let him Play with me. But when I had once looked at him, "Why," I says, "great snakes, is that him?" Just that miter!" They said, "Yes," and "Ain't he cunning?" "And I thought they must be fannin'; He's so small, it's just amazin', And you'd think that he was blazin'!" He's so red, And his nose is like a berry, And he's had as Uncle Jerry On his head. Why, he isn't worth a brick; All he does is cry and kick; He can't stop. Won't sit up; you can't arrange him; I don't see why he don't change him. Now, we've got to dress and feed him, And we really didn't need him. More'n a frog; Why'd they buy a baby brother When they know I'd good deal rather Have a dog? —Kansas Farmer.
