SCHOOL TRAINING AND ITS

RESULTS. A work entitled "Who's Who In Amer ica," which is a compilation by W. W. Smith, A. M., LL, D. of Lynchburg, Va., of some eight thousand persons now living in the United States, who have become noted as factors in the progress and achievement of the present age, is Ribaan edition of value, and full of interest from an educational point of view, as proving the effect of education upon the child's success in its after life. From Mr. Smith's work the following

"According to the best estimate we can make from the latest census returns there are in the U.S. 40,782,007 persons over 21 years old. These are divided over 21 years old. These are educationally about as follows: Class 1. Without school train-

Class 3. With only common school training 89,863,961
Class 8. With common and high school training 9,165,887
Class 4 With college or higher education added 1,071,201 Now the question is, how many of the eight thousand distinguished citizens of the United States on the Who's Who list came from each of these classes.

srd. That a high school training will increase the chance of the common school boy twenty-three times, giving him eighty-seven times the chance of the uneducated.

4th. That a college education in-creases the chance of the high school boy nine times, giving him two hundred and nineteen times the chance of the common school boy and more than eight hundred times the chance of the untrain-

It is a surprising fact that of 7,859 "notables thus gathered, 4,810 proved to be full graduates of colleges."

A study of the above tables show what | B school training is to the child, in preparing it to go out into the world, and T becoming a factor of benefit, in the progress of the world's development.

AN ALASKAN LANDSLIDE.

Rather Leisurely, but Enth Up Groves and Fills Biver Beds. All the morning as we chopped spongy cotten wood, blew out our image over the fire and flipped water from the blankets a dull roar which we thought the river swelled by the rain was growing louder, louder. I said, "I guess a moraine choked pond on the glacier has broken through," and just then Jack stepped out from under the soaked tarpaulin. "Look at that, Bobble, look at that!" I heard him shouting. Outside he was pointing across the stream. A landslide was rearing down a gully from the very top of the Rainbow, hills. It was a stupendous sight. We looked at it silently and then said, both at once, "I thought an avalanche was sudden." This thing wiggled like a huge snake down a sheer 3,000 feet of rock. The rour second forever to increase. Dust or smoke trailed from this thing, and enormous bowiders skipped solemnly from side to side of its path like pebbles. Water mingled with it, and when it reached the terrace it was a black stream, viscous and heavy. Jack bet it wouldn't cross the half mile of flat to the river, but in a moment we saw bowlders shooting out over the terrace and aspen groves fall as if laid with a scythe. A cancerous fan ate out to the bank and gravely slopped over like lumpy paint, cutting deep channels down to the river.—Out-

Serving dinners in courses is comtroduced in diplomatic circles in Washington and imitated from France, Up to the date of President Polk's admin istration the course dinner among Americans had made no further progress than that of serving fish and soup separately. Soup was regarded as such a foreign frippery that a note written by General Winfield Scott, in which he explained that he was "just sitting down to a hasty plate of soup," cov ered him with such ridicule as to materially contribute to his defeat as a lic was considered as food for invalids or poor people only. Later, when the social splendors of the court of the Empress Eugenie attracted rich Amer icans in flocks to Paris, French table manners and customs pushed the old binglish dinner fashions to the wall. It is is doubtful, however, if soup ever found . a place on the dinner table of the wealthy Maryland or Virginia planter, unless green turtle, which was really a stew, might be so called.

The object of an old time dinner par ty was to eat, whereas that of the course dinner is to delight the eye rather than the palate, and yet who will say that the sight of a well filled ding ner table where an array of silver covered dishes gives forth a bouquet of appetizing odors fails to make an agreeable impression on all the senses? -Lippincott's Magazine.

Lost In Her Own Room.

girl who has been visiting her grandparents in the old family homesteadin the country, but never was there anything so horrible as being lost in my own room. It was a very onee room I had at grandmamma's any way-one of those rooms from which a flight of stairs leads down; rooms such as are only to be seen in old houses It blew up cold the first night I was in the house, and I got up to close the window. The room, of course, was pitch dark. In getting back from th window to the bed I lost myself. I had not the slightest idea in what direction to turn, and I knew that if I was not careful I should go down those awful stairs. There was nothing to do but sit down on the floor and howl for some one to come and find me, and that was just what I did. If grandpa and grandmamma had not been unusually normal individuals, I should have frightened them to death. As it was, they only thought I had a nightmare, brought candles and located me and showed me my way to bed

Girls who work are particularly susceptible to female ills, especially when obliged to stand on their feet from morning until night.

Day in and day out, month in and month out, the year through, the working girl toils; she is often the bread winner of the family, and must work that others may live; whether she is sick or well, whether it rains or shines, whether it is warm or cold she must get to her place of employment and perform the

Among this class the symptoms of finale diseases are early manifest by weak and aching backs, pain in the lower limbs and lower part of the stomach; in consequence of frequent wetting of the feet monthly periods become painful and irregular, and frequently faint and dizzy spells, with loss of appetite, until life is a burden and it is hard work to drag about. All these symptoms point to a derangement of the female organism, and if taken in time can be easily and permanently cured.

A Cordial Invitation to Every Sick and Ailing Working Girl.

It is to these girls that Mrs. Pinkham holds out a helping hand, and extends a cordial invitation to correspond with her. Her unrivalled record of success in treating woman's ills makes her letters of advice of untold value to every ailing working girl, and from her wide experience and skill she quickly points the way to health. Her advice is free, and all letters are held by her in the strictest confidence. Address, Ars. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. Don't put off writing her until your health is wrecked.

Grateful Words from Working Girls Who Have Been Helped.

*Dear Mrs. Pinkham: - I want to thank you for what you have done for me. I was dreadfully tired, I stand over my work all day, and no one who hasn't tried it knew above it makes your back and sides ache. I couldn't sleep, and had no appetite, but thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegeta'de Compound, I feel entirely different now; it is a wonderful medicine. I do not feel that my work is hard now, and I recommend your medicine to other girls who are always tired." Miss Leaner, Schools, 203 Willis Ave., New York City.

"Drar Mrs. Pinkham: — Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done so much good for me that I wish to recommend it to all girls whose work keeps them standing on their feet all day in a hot store. The doctor said I could not live and I must give up work, and may out of doors; he did not seem to realize that a girl cannot afford to reprove them. My back ached, my appetite was poor and I could not sleep; menstruation was really and very painful. One day when suffering I commenced to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and a left I me, I soon found that my menstrual periods were free from pain and natural; when my health is flac, and every one is supplied at the change in me, and I cannot be too grateful for what you have done for me," — Miss Janet Paine, 530 West 125th Street, New York City.—$5000.00 forfeit of originals of about letters proving genuineness cannot be produced.
