A Millionaire's Advice to Young Men.

A well known millionaire, with a national reputation for conservatism, said in conversation the other day:—"If I were a young man anxious for independence, I would invest my savings in a small piece of good real estate. When I had it paid for I would put the deed away and forget it had it. Then I would begin paying on another."

No business every man has felt at some time that he would like to be a land holder. That he would like to have a little piece of this earth--of this great country that he could call his own. This is a worthy sentiment, but to select his piece of land in the heart of a populous community where the mere pressure of population is there to increase the value of his holding, perhaps many fold--this is sentiment combined with business.

It unquestionably strengthens a man's character to own property--increases his responsibility. If he can tie himself up, and is obliged to make regular payments he is sure to save. The trouble is he allows the chance to pass. He is going to begin next month. Rich men talk of the importance of a man's first Thousand Dollars. Why not his first Hundred or his first Ten? The saving of your first $10 may be your first step to independence. THE TIME TO DO IT IS NOW.

In High Regard,

Budweis beer is justly considered the best beverage to be used in conjunction with a roast or steak, because it is of the satisfying kind--satisfying for the reason that it is pure, palatable and leaves no bad after effects. Budweis beer is a good beer to drink 183 days per annum.

HAYWOOD ARRANGED.

Files Sensational Affidavit Asking For Continuance Which the Judge Grants to July 15th.

Special to Journal.

RALEIGH, March 24--Ernest Haywood was arraigned today. He appeared bright and shook hands with several friends. Three of his brothers sat opposite him. To the Judge's question he replied "I am not guilty."

James H. Pou one of his counsel made a motion for a continuance, which was opposed by Walter E. Daniel, acting collector.

Haywood filed a sensational affidavit asking for a continuance and giving six reasons why he did not want a trial at this term, these being that his evidence is incomplete; that prejudice has been aroused against him by newspapers and people; and that there has been a deliberate purpose to arouse prejudice against him; that lawyer Simms, who says he saw Skinner strike Haywood, had been denounced a liar and perjurer; that Simms' statement is true; that other witnesses for him have been deterred from giving evidence; that the sentiment hostile to Haywood is temporary. Judge Justice continued the case to July 15th.

Better Than Medicine. His temples were beginning to be gray, and he was old enough to have a fully developed case of dypomania. He looked at the slice of roast beef and then tried to eat it, after which he signaled the waiter. "Here, take this back," he said. "I can't eat meat that's roasted until it's like a piece of leather. I told you I wanted it rare. Do you call this rare?"

"Young man," replied the waiter, "if I give it to you any rarer than that it would have to be raw. Look here. You can squeeze the blood out of it."

"After finishing a good hearty meal the man with the dypomania handed the waiter a quarter as a "tip" and went out saying to himself:

"I wonder if he called me 'young man' just from force of habit or because he really meant it?"--Chicago Record-Herald.

The Mystery of Railroaded. "What time does the next through train for the east leave?" "It follows the way train at 4:15."

"Why doesn't it precede the way train?" "Say, I don't make the time tables for this road."

"But why do they call the train that follows the way train the through express?" "I dunno, unless it's because it is sure to run through the way train if it ever catches up with it."--Cleveland Plain Dealer.

FEW DAMAGE REPORTS

From Excessive Rainfall. Railway Tracks Covered.

Summer Educational Campaign. Progress in Preparation Legislative Laws. Raleigh City Politics. Oxford's Progress. Governor Declines Richmond Invitation.

RALEIGH, March 24--As yet but few reports have come in of any damage by the floods. A great deal of rain has fallen, over practically all of the State. At one place between here and Weldon the fall of water was so great that a part of the railway track for a distance of several hundred yards had to be ballasted and had to be very carefully looked after.

Representative Blount of Washington county is to be one of the speakers in the great educational campaign which is to be conducted during the summer all over North Carolina under the auspices of the Southern Education Board. Great interest is being manifested in this campaign, which will be on an even larger scale than last summer.

The Secretary of State is much pleased at the progress which is being made in the preparation of this year's laws or acts of the Legislature. Two experts are at work making the side-notes for these, and it is gratifying to know that the volume will be published considerably earlier than ever before, while being larger one than that of two years ago.

It has been a long time since city politics has attracted so much attention to Raleigh as at present. For more than a month the "Reformers" have been holding meetings, which for a time were so quiet that newspaper people did not get into the secret.

Treasurer G. Rosenthal of the Oxford Orphanage says that machinery is now being placed in the new ash and blind factory there. The brick buildings for the printing establishment and the laundry are nearly completed.

Governor Aycock has declined an invitation to attend a meeting of the Southern Education Board in Richmond next month on account of a prior engagement.

Mr. Murray Allen has been made stenographer to the judges of the Supreme Court. The last legislature passed an act allowing a stenographer for the justices at a salary of $1,000.

The Superintendent of public instructions is having daily calls for the new school law. This has been prepared and will be placed in the hands of the printer in a few days.
