Market Letter on Cotton.

By Private Wire to J. B. Latham & Co.

New York, June 20—A reaction such as took piece shortly before the close last p m, and at the opening this a m was doe. That the market shoul! rally was inevitable. Those who hought on the sharp break yeaterday sold the a m. There is a feeling in best informed circles that as the market was a purchase below 95, it's likely to be a esfe sale pround 10c for a turn. This of course it bossed on the belief that present favorable where map today was good private wire houses reported some trouble with telegraphic communications. There are no the south but is the event of another sharp upturn Monday, we would rather soil. The outcome of July and August is still uncertain, since the New Orleans people appear to have a firm hold on both markets as regards old. and August is still uncertain, since the New Orleans people appear to have a firm hold on both markets as regards old crop positions. Trading this a m was active, though response to big advance was feeble. A great many stood ready to sell on an upturn and this fact no doubt accounted for the small initial advance. The situation is perplexing and prices fluctuate so rapidly purchases can only be recommended on sharp breaks like yesterday's.

Souker in Winter. The smake hibernates - that is, it passes the inte autumn and winter seasons in a state of torpor colled up in the hollow roots of trees or cavities protected by bushes. With the return of warmth it issues forth in pursuit of prey and to breed. Prevention of Corus.

There are suggestions without number for the cure of corus. Any reputable chiropodist and some who are not reputable can furnish an anfalling remedy. But there is one sure way to prevent them. Don't wear the mane pair of shoes two days in succession. Corns are caused by friction on the toes, and the most expert bootmaker cannot make two pairs of shoes which will rub the feet in the same place. The change of shoes gives the feet a chance to rest. It is also good for the shoes, and footwear which is treated in this fashion will last much longer than if put to daily use.

The Crossalic.

Pilay sold the cruedite's skin "will shide any injury and not be pleased?" That may have been true in his day, but it is not true now. The buildt of a heavy modern rifle will pierce the skin unywhere unless it atrikes in a slanting direction. The crocedile is not as a rule hard to kill, provided one can get a good about it it, but that is just the trouble. It has not the married withinty of the abarts, which will none-times struggle furiously for an hear, although covered with apparently mortal wounds—Chicago News.

While the blood remains in an unhealthy, polluted condition healing is impossible, and the sore will continue to grow and spread in spite of washes and salves or any superficial or surface treatment, for the sore is but the outward sign of some constitutional disorder, a bad condition of the blood and system which local remedies cannot cure.
