CAUSES NO TERROR.

Violation of Watts' Law Already Begun.

Corporation Evasion of Franchise Tax. Confederate Troops Roster. Location of Barrett College Sought. Lecturer For Good Roads.

(Special to Journal).

RALEIGH, July 22.—It is asserted by some of the Government officials that as yet the State authorities have not issued a warrant nor made an arrest for the violation of the Watts' liquor regulation law. The assertion was made very positively and it will be interesting to know whether it is accurate or not. It is further said by revenue officials that under the Watts' law the brandy distillers have absolute freedom so far as the State is concerned. The moonshiners do not appear to care a fig for the Watts' law, as is proved by the fact that three illicit distilleries were captured night before last in Orange county, within a radius of a mile, by a revenue officer who went from here.

Gov. Aycock will leave for Morehead City on the 5 o'clock train tomorrow morning and will remain there until Tuesday. He will review the regiment on Monday.

Some queer points are made by corporations which seek to evade their franchise tax. For example the President of one corporation called on the State treasurer and very gravely informed him that his company ought not to pay this tax because it had paid no dividend and had no surplus. When asked if it had not made money he said it had but that it had been spent in enlarging and improving the plant. He was finally made to see that this was a dividend, and paid the tax.

State Auditor Dixon arrived today from Atlanta, where he attended the conference of commissioners representing the various southern states, for the purpose of securing accurate rosters of troops in the Confederate service. All the states were represented except Arkansas. The Governor of that State is named Jefferson Davis, but by the way he is no kin to the Confederate President, and he has as yet taken no notice whatever of the letter of the War Department regarding the publication of the Confederate roster, which that department is to publish as part of the records of the war. Dr Dixon says the meeting or conference was very successful.

As Dr Dixon was walking along the street in Atlanta one of the commissioners called him by name and at this a venerable gentleman came up and said he wanted to meet Auditor Dixon; that his name was Brooks and that he was State auditor in 1865 when Thomas Bragg was Governor. The meeting was a very pleasant one and Mr. Brooks made special inquiries about North Carolina.

Inquiry was made the other day as to the location of Barrett College, which people in England and Canada are asking about. Today the State superintendent of public instruction received an unsigned letter stating that the writer thought Barrett College was at Peedee, Anson county; that it is a negro school, and that Barrett, its head, spends most of his time North.

The State tax commission finds the work of making the assessments of property this year a very heavy one, and the work for this reason is somewhat slower than was expected.

The N. C. Good Roads Association has decided to put a State Lecturer in the field. W L Spoon is retained as road expert. The increased interest in good roads is very gratifying to the association. Fifteen counties have special acts this year allowing the issue of road improvement bonds.

The special train from here to Lillington, the county seat of Harnett County, will be crowded tomorrow. The celebration of the completion of the Raleigh and Cape Fear railway 100 years about a mile this side of Lillington will be the attraction. There will be speeches by D H McLean, R N Simms, Jno D Shaw and W D Murchison. There will be music by a band from Dunn. Several State officials will be present.

A Good Suggestion.

"When I write a story," said the struggling young author, "I make out a list of ten magazines that I think might like it, and I usually get eight close to the end of the list before I sell it."

"In that case," returned Mr. Wise Guyer, "I should think it would pay you to begin at the other end of your list."—Chicago Post.

Prophecy And The Next Pope.

Most people have heard of the supposed prophetic mottoes applied, in the eighteenth century by a mysterious person once known as the Pseudo Malachi, to the future pope. It chances that the motto which falls to the successor of Leo thirteenth, will be Ignis ardens a "burning fire" and as the word Vampa means "flame" in Italian, ingenious people have, of course, discovered that Cardinal Svams must be the coming Pope. The lower classes, especially, are quite sure of it. His chances depend on something better and more trustworthy, however. Few combine such political ability with such theological training. The man is young and strong full of energy and practical sense, well accustomed to command through long experience in governing one of the largest and most difficult dioceses in Italy, and thoroughly able to cope with all sorts of difficulties, great and small sudden and menacing, or delicately intricate. He possesses, too, a fine appreciation of modern intellectual and social wants, a ready intuition, and a strong will. A very good candidate himself, he is essentially a man who influences others, and whose power will be felt in the coming Conclave.—Marion Crawford in Everybody's Magazine.

Butler Tries Real Estate.

Ex-Senator Marion Butler, is conducting negotiations for the sale of a large tract of land in Mexico, as representative of a Mexican real estate and mining company, with General Pies Joubert one of the Boer leaders in the late war with England. General De Wet, also of Boer war fame, and General Joubert and Senator Butler have recently returned from Mexico, where, with General De Wet, they spent several months in inspecting the land in question and arranging preliminaries incident to the sale. It is proposed to make the property, which consists of 100,000 acres of land, the home of the self-exiled Boers.

Ex-Senator Butler says that the company which he represents recently contracted for the purchase of 1,000,000 acres of land in Mexico, which is located in Tamaulipas, near Monterey. If the Boers are satisfied with the project and further emigration of that people warrent such action an entire tract of 1,000,000 acres will be sold to them at about $3 per acre.

A Disguised Toast.

At one time the officers under Lord Howe refused to drink his health at their mess, for, though a splendid admiral, he was not popular in the navy on account of a certain shyness and want of tact with those about him. The chaplain, who was a protege of his lordship, was mortified at this and determined that the officers should drink to Lord Howe. When called upon for a toast one day he said, "Well, gentlemen, I can think of nothing better at this moment than to ask you to drink the first two words of the Third Psalm, for a Scriptural toast for once may be taken from one of my cloth." The toast was drunk. Not one of the officers indicated by word or look that he was ignorant of the words alluded to. On referring to the Bible it was found that the Third Psalm begins, "Lord, how are they increased!"

Cowardly Brave Men.

It is related of a Missouri engineer that he does not hesitate to drive his machine at full speed through the blackest storm at night with washouts all around him, but that he is afraid to go home alone in the dark. If some one is not at the roundhouse to go with him he sits there till daylight. It is the old story of every man having his own peculiar fears. There is a doctor we know who will cut a man to pieces and smile the while. He is an old soldier and often faced the cannon's mouth. But he will betray the most abject terror if one of the harmless little elm tree worms happens to drop on his person.—Kansas City Journal.
