LIGHTNING'S WORK.

Ignited Barn, And Burns to Death One Horse And Twenty Three Cattle.

Kinston Free Press 11th.
The dairy belonging to Mr. J. T. Midyette, situated just beyond the southern corporate limits of the town, was burned last night between 8 and 9 o'clock, and 27 head of cattle and one horse were burned with it.

It is said that the fire was due to a lightning stroke as people living near the place saw the top of the building enveloped in flames immediately following a blinding flash of lightning, which also struck them.

The boy that usually slept in the dairy was at Mr. Midyette's home at the time the fire originated and very little of the property in the barn and stables was saved.

A long tier of stalls on either side of the dairy contained full registered Jersey milk cows which it was impossible to get out of the stalls when help arrived and they perished in the flames, as also did a valuable horse and it is said a number of fine game chickens.

The amount of the loss will exceed $2,000 with $1,000 insurance.

ARAPAHOE.

August 10.—Business in Arapahoe is moving on very nicely. The crops are fine considering the set back they had by the heavy rains we had some time ago. We had a very heavy rain fall last Saturday in our vicinity.

Last Friday the Christian Sunday School at Arapahoe had their annual picnic at the mouth of Dawson's Creek we had a fine time, it was largely attended by the surrounding Communities.

Rev. S. W. Sumner preached at Arapahoe the first Sunday in this month and Sunday night at the Christian Church he being our regular pastor Monday night. Rev. D. H. Petros of La Grange, continued the meeting on until last night. During the week he did some strong preaching. There was one addition to the Church.

Prof. O. J. Rook is with us again teaching school at Arapahoe. All our boys and girls seem to like him as a teacher.

Mr. Milfin Holton and wife visited Arapahoe last Friday and returned home yesterday after a seemingly much enjoyed trip.

There has been much sickness in our community for the last week. They are on the mend.

Mr. Dixon who still continues confined to his bed, we hope he is on the mend now. A. B.

Profits in Seashore Property.

"Hon. William B. Lawrence, of Rhode Island, purchased at Newport a tract of land for $19,000, and sold it for $200,000. Rev. Dr. Bartol, of Boston, purchased a tract of land at Manchester by the Sea for $2,000, and sold it for $150,000. Charles T. How of Boston, purchased a tract of land at Bar Harbor for $1,400, and sold a portion of it for $500,000, and has a portion of it left. There are many similar cases along the New Jersey Coast, and said cases that some years ago were practically valueless, now sell at hundreds, and in some cases thousands of dollars per foot front. This increase in value in ocean front property that has occurred along the New England and New Jersey Coasts, is beginning to extend to the South Atlantic Coast, and it is a curious and remarkable fact that the only spot south of Cape May, N. J., that is at all accessible, and with tributary population, is a few miles of ocean front at Virginia Beach, Va."

"Instead of being a luxury, the summer home has proven a very profitable investment."

If you want a good sn. smoke, try any of the following brands, Red Dragon, Aunt Hannah, Oshonoko, Crown, Prince of India. All for sale at J. R. Parker, Jr's.

Latent Eye Strain.

The mysterious and unnameable sensations of a person can almost always be traced to latent eye strain, which will become more pronounced when just after reading, or any close work, and in a more severe strain these feelings are accompanied with a headache, varying in intensity at different periods, this headache begins in the eyes and forehead sometimes extending down the back, often-times causing sick stomach and vomiting.

This constant drain on the nervous system results frequently in insanity, or proves an enormous hindrance when laboring under an eye strain, the treatment of spectacles for finally has by many specialists expressed to mean more any other form of treatment, and is very reasonable when the laws of optics and the effects of eye strain on the nervous system is known. Clear vision is no proof of the absence of eye strain as the eye has the power of overstraining an enormous amount of error of refraction, but as the expenditure of excessive loss of nervous energy.

Should you have any trouble of a burning, of pain, inflammation, and headache of either eye trouble, we will examine your eye free, and if you need medical aid you will be directed to some eye specialist, if you glasses will be selected for you at a moderate price.

SENSELESS ALLEGATIONS

Against Law and Order and Police of New Bern. Facts in Case.

Temperance Evangelist R. H. Morse was handing out some temperance tracts at the depot in New Bern and a saloon man walked up to him and gave him a cursing and ordered him to leave town, saying if he came down their row they would kill him. A policeman was standing by and did not so much as open his mouth. A few days later on Sunday morning, August 2, Mr. Morse was near the depot preaching to a crowd in the street and a policeman ordered him to cease or he would arrest him and put him in the "lock up." Has the time come when the police of New Bern will protect a saloon man in cursing a preacher and threatening to kill him, but will not permit a preacher to preach the gospel of peace on the streets?—Atlantic Messenger.

The above clipping from the Atlantic Messenger is misleading, inaccurate as to facts and is a gross slander upon the city officials as well as the good people of New Bern, and the JOURNAL feels it a duty to refute such baseless imputations.

To impute that one of the present force of city police would stand by and allow a preacher of the gospel to be cursed, even his life threatened by a disreputable saloon keeper, is as absurd to those who are acquainted with the high character and integrity of the personnel of the force, as is the charge that one of its members would threaten to lock up a person for preaching the gospel of Peace.

No city in North Carolina has a finer police body than has New Bern. Chosen from among her best citizens, intelligent, strictly temperate, of the highest standard of character each and every one of them, as citizens, as officers enjoy the confidence and esteem of the whole city. The filing off of the Messenger is undeserved and certainly unjust.

The writer, at some pains, has undertaken to ascertain the grounds for the attack, which are here given.

Mr. Morse, hailing from Charlotte, arrived in this city sometime in July, claiming to be an evangelist, temperance lecturer, anti-saloon league organizer, and so on. At times he would make his appearance on the street and with more or less gesticulations begin a harangue naturally attracting a crowd. These demonstrations would occur several times a day and at various places around town, but besides attracting the crowd for the moment, but little consideration was given to the man, and he went his way unmolested.

One morning, near the A. & N. C. station he gathered a crowd of boys mostly colored, around him, who not understanding his address began to gey him. About this time a man who sometimes assists in a saloon came up and Morse being angered by the taunts of the boys began to make personal remarks to the man. The man jokingly told Morse that he would leave him to the boys, and suggested that if he didn't look out they would "duck" him. Morse took umbrage and after more or less talk on his part, went to the Mayor.

Morse could not say that he had been the subject of any violence, or that any violent language had been addressed to him, neither could he show that he had been conducting a religious meeting, so the application for a warrant was dismissed. No policeman is said to be present.

On Sunday morning, August 2, at about the same place, Morse appeared again. It was nearly train time and a large crowd were waiting. Morse began his abuse and harangue, the crowd gathered around him, many carelessly sitting on the track where engines were constantly passing, imperiling their lives, others were blockading the sidewalks and entrance.

A policeman in the discharge of his duty, went to Morse, explained the situation, and politely requested him to move to some more convenient place to continue his discourse. This Morse indignantly refused to do, but the crowd being more sensible, quietly withdrew. Not an angry word was spoken by anyone except Morse, who became quite excited.

Morse does not claim to be an authorized Minister of the Gospel, and if the officer had driven him away, or taken him in charge he would not have overstepped his authority, but he was polite and courteous.

This is the whole story. The article in the Messenger was no doubt written in order to create a small sensation to promote the temperance cause. It may make something of a martyr of Morse for the time being, but it certainly does nothing to help the temperance cause.

CROPS IN PAMLICO.

Farmers Happy And Contented, Well Pleased With The Prospects of Late Crops.

Mr. W. D. Barrington retraced this week from a trip through Pamlico Co. and reports that the crops in that section were never so fine, as they are this year. The farmers of the Grantsboro, Maribel, Vandemere and Trent sections are all well pleased with what they have already realized and with the promise of what's to come. The corn crop is exceptionally fine and the outlook for cotton is better than usual.

The farmers in that section feel the effect of the suspension of the Farmers and Merchants bank very much. The majority of them were heavy depositors and are waiting with anxiety the report of receiver Daniels. They hope to be assured of the return of a good per cent of their deposit.
