Mr W T Hill began moving his print-ing office and bicycle shops into the newly completed store adjoining the one he already occupied.

There will be a meeting of the diectors of the Circulating Library at the coms of the library at 6 p. m. today. A full attendance is desired.

Some of the tobacco towns are not willing to boycott the products of the American Tobacco Company. That shows that the trust is getting in its work already .-

Four men from Morehead made record eatch of mackerel Saturday. They brought in 203 fish ranging in weight from 1 to 8 pounds. The fish were paught outside of Cape Lookout.

Last night while Mrs Susan Anderson who lives on Broad street was crossing bridge which covers a gutter located near her home, she fell and sustained severe injuries, nearly breaking her

A drinking fountain is badly needed at the A & N C station. People waiting for the train are often put to inconvenience to get a drink. If a fountain was flowing there, many who resort to the nearby bar room to get a drink of water and substitute beer, would drink at the fountain and never think of the beer.

The Retail Grocers and Merchants Association had a well attended meeting last night. The object of the meeting was to make preparations for the Mass meeting to be held Saturday noon, as previously announced. Phere will be another meeting of the Association Friday night.

An affray case was tried in Justice S R Street's court yesterday. The offenders were David Speight, Lena Blount and Martilla White, all colored, of course. The two had a little "mill" up on Kilmonic street, Saturday night, and the Justice closed the affair by requiring bpeight to pay $2 and costs. The women were let off with costs.

Mr E B Rice left last night on the steamer Ocracoke for Johns Hopkins Hospital for the purpose of having an operation performed. He has been suffering a long time with a wen on his neck. He wishes to thank all who gave him assistance, for without it, 4t would have been impossible for him to have

The farmers and merchants of Newport and Wildwood have organized with a membership of three hundred, the majority being tobacco farmers. They express themselves as being determined to fight the trust to the last ditch. That's the right spirit, and if the tobacco farmers throughout the tobacco belt will take the same stand before the trust gets in its work, the fight will be easily

An enterprising grocer exhibited some meat on lower Middle street yesterday upon which was placed a placard announcing that it would be sold for 6 ent a nound. The attention of an old colored "auntle" was called to the low priced meat, whereupon she exclaimed: 'Gawd bless my soul! I'se gwine to hab one more mess ob greasy greens." The old woman had been paying 12 cents for meat, and was astonished at the sudden reduction, but observed that she "specs dem Norfen gemmen done got sorry for de pore cullud people."

Trying to Get Sargent.

With the customary enterprise of Manager Green, he is negotiating for an appearance here of the charming comedienne, May Sargent, who sustains the enviable reputation of being the most superbly gowned woman on the American stage. Her present tour brings her near this city, and there is a likelihood that the famous comedy, "That Impu-dent Young Couple," from the Empire Theatre, New York City, may be seen here at an early date. Miss Sargent's appearance here would be appreciated by all our theatre-gowers, as the comedy is known to be one of the conspicuous New York successes.
