IMPORTANT TO SPORTSMEN.

Caution to Hunters About Killing Game Out of Season.

The Audubon Society for the Preservation of Game desires to call the attention of hunters to the fact that the season for killing summer ducks does not open until November 15th. Also in regard to the killing of squirrels.

It is said that a great many old squirrels are being killed and as this is the season when the young need the mothers the most, the killing of the old ones destroys the young breed. If this is permitted the entire squirrel supply will be wiped out.

We are informed that there is no law protecting the squirrels but the better class of sportsmen who love to hunt and have any humanity in their nature should bear this fact in mind and refrain from shooting them.

There is a penalty for shooting ducks out of season and the society will vigorously prosecute any one known to shoot the birds out of season.

Willing to Help

The mill men whose plants are located on and near Griffith street, and who use the street for hauling their stuff over, say they are willing and anxious to help repair it, and are only waiting for the city authorities to decide what material and in what manner the work shall be done. They are willing to help macadamize or pave the street, whichever is decided to be best.

This proposition leaves it up to the city authorities to do something or nothing.

Now in the first days of the fall, before the heavy rains have set in, Griffith street is like some old neglected woods road. Holes and deep ruts are everywhere making it extremely difficult for teams to draw the smallest kind of a load over it. In rainy weather the roadway is a slush of mud, the wheels wheel out clear to the axles.

What of the poor horses? Would it not be well for our good people who are trying to reform the existing evils to turn their attention to the bad condition of the streets? No estimate can be made of the tortures that the poor dumb beasts are forced to endure every day, drawing loads over the roadway called Griffith street.

Cruelty to animals is as bad a sin as some others, perhaps worse. If this roadway is not improved before the fall rains set in, it will not only be cruel to the animals to drive them over it, but the road will be absolutely worthless as a thoroughfare.

Just arrived direct from the mills a fresh car load of Flour, bought before the last two advances. In prices we are giving our trade the benefit of our low prices. J. R. Parker Jr.
