THE LAST OF THE CARNIVAL.

The Layton Aggregation of Shows Told by Their Tent Last Night.

The Carnival is a thing of the past. The week has been enjoyed and we believe the people have been edified. Large crowds have been in attendance and it is a matter of great rejoicing that the organizations under whose auspices it was held will realize a handsome financial profit.

The weather had been all that could be wished for up to Saturday when clouds obscured the sky and rain made the day very disagreeable. According to some authorities on science such explosions are apt to cause moisture. It has been noted that rain follows battles or any occasion when explosives are used in large quantities. However, the Ferris wheel and the merry-go-round had large patronage.

An interview with the merchants developed the fact that as a general rule their business was not helped by the Carnival. Only one merchant reported an increase in trade in consequence of the Carnival. Others said they might have been indirectly benefited but during the week they had not had the trade they might wish for during such an occasion. In some cases it had held its own and in others it had fallen behind.

In view of this fact it is a question in the minds of many that such exhibitions are a detriment to a community. Of course, every body admits that our Carnival has been free from objectionable features, but nevertheless it suffered on account of reports that emanate from sources opposed to such amusement. Fakes have been imposed on the people so much that we are inclined to dissent from the great P T Barnum's opinion that the people like to be humbugged. There is a limit to the humbug business. The Layton Company have been honest in their efforts to please the public and have given us a clean, reputable show.

As to the amusement problem, as far as New Bern is concerned, we must pause to ask right here what we are going to do about it? Looking forward to a season when there is apparently "nothing doing" we think this question entirely pertinent.

One of the popular attractions was the striking machine, for testing a man's strength. "Mauling rails," as it is called consists of an upright iron frame with figures painted on it and at the top is a bell. The man that rings the bell gets a cigar and there is nothing else to do unless he knocks the bell off. It looks as if it required a great deal of strength to send the block to the top, but one used to swinging heavy weights like blacksmith's hammers can ring the bell every time.

The weather yesterday sent Mr Layton into the dumps. He said he had had 11 weeks of this kind of weather, in fact he had not had one week this season that was fair from start to finish. Often in the towns which from the condition he knew he would have a successful week the weather would cut him out. Last week at Elizabeth City he had this experience.

Those all round good fellows, Messrs. Gerken and Morrison, spent two days here, enjoying the Street Fair, and incidentally doing some insurance business. They are always given the glad hand when they come, and as to being in Wilmington, they think New Bern, is "next."

Being both jokers, of course, it takes the "wise one," to be get Henry or Bill, where they must cry, quit. But Bill had one on him, when he got on the Ferris Wheel, Wednesday night, and was given the night air for about an hour, most of the time on the top rim of the wheel. Bill said it was the coolest affair he ever took part in.

The crowd on Broad street Friday night was one of the largest that has ever been in the city. It is estimated that there were at least 5,000 people out and many put the figures higher still. Suffice it to say that while the show was all packed with spectators the difference was scarcely noticed in the open air. The people who witnessed it, felt inside the enclosure were legion and yet they were scarcely missed on the outside.

The Carnival Queen, Miss Braddie Hyma, the chosen Queen of the Carnival was crowned Friday the last evening of the gala week. The fire works on the water made a brilliant background for the scene.

The Queen was surrounded by her maids of honor and courtiers who were as follows: Misses Agnes Foy, Annie Foy, Hal Newland, Mary Emma Burnett and Battle Marks. Messrs Grant, Edward Street, Sam Bates, Joe Palford and Adolph Hyma.

Mr Sam Brinson, the appointed king, crowned the Queen and presented to her a beautiful diamond ring, a gift of the Fire Company and Knights of Pythias. Jointly, making a brief speech to the occasion. After which the band played a few selections.

When the music ceased the Queen arose from her throne and addressed the crowd, expressing her thanks to the citizens and also her friends for the honor conferred upon her, and that she would wear the ring in commemoration of the event, be a loyal Queen, and also as a Queen would her power be in behalf of their noble organization.

An Explanation.

Mr KERRON—Will you give me space in your paper to explain an act of the Board of Aldermen last Tuesday night as reported by Mr Tolson in Thursday's issue of your paper.

Through a mistake one part of the petition that was presented to the Board the first Tuesday night's meeting in October, was omitted, having been left in Mr J C Whitty's store. When the Board met Tuesday night, Mr A D Ward, in behalf of the petition asked the Board of Aldermen to receive the part of the petition that was omitted. Alderman Wood moved that part of the petition be received and referred to the committee that had the petition in hand and report upon the entire petition to the Board. Alderman Wood's motion was voted down. We do not deny but what the Board had the right to reject this request. They also had the right to receive the part of the petition that had been omitted. They saw fit to reject it. What is the reason? To receive, they would have been compelled to grant the election. To refuse, the one third registered voters was not secured. It is my honest opinion that the majority of the Board helped by this act to postpone the election so, the saloon men could have another six month's leave of life, at least. Will the good people of New Bern permit this?

A petition is now being circulated securing new names, sign the petition of the ward in which you live.

M. P. DAVIS, New Bern, N. C., Oct. 15, 1908.

DIED

Saturday afternoon October 17, 1908, Mrs Ellen Patterson, aged 74 years. The funeral services will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at Centenary M E church.

Spike? Spike??

Greensville Reflector. It was the governor of North Carolina and the governor of Virginia in Norfolk Thursday night. And we'll bet Governor Aycock held up his end of the spike.

Officer Came After Him.

Wilmington Messenger 17th. Deputy Sheriff A. F. Hunt, of Craven county arrived in the city yesterday and took in custody the negro Charles Fowler, arrested by the police several days ago. He returned to New Bern with his prisoner in the afternoon. Fowler, as The Messenger stated yesterday, is wanted in New Bern for a very serious assault. It is alleged that he shot a man in the chest in that city some time ago.
