SCHOONER AGROUND.

The Three Master, Raymond C Moore With Cargo of Coal Ashore off Cape Lookout.

News was received here yesterday that the three masted schooner, Raymond C Moore, laden with coal went ashore Sunday afternoon off Cape Lookout during the storm.

Particulars of the accident were meagre but we are reliably informed that the ship was not hard aground and there were no fatalities. It was stated that tugs were at work and the boat would probably be released Monday afternoon.

The Raymond was bound from Philadelphia to Charleston, S. C., with 1,000 tons of coal.

Where he Belonged.

This is going the rounds says the New York Press. A broker from the financial vortex sought admission at the party gates.

"Who are you?" said St. Peter.
"I'm a Wall street broker."
"What do you want?"
"I want to get in."
"What have you done that entitles you to admission?"
"Well, I saw a decrepit woman in Broadway the other day and gave her two cents."

"Gabriel, is that on the records?"
"Yes, St. Peter, it's marked down to his credit."

"What else have you done?"
"Well, I crossed the Brooklyn bridge the other night and met a newboy half frozen to death and gave him one cent."

"Gabriel, is that on the records?"
"Yes, St. Peter."

"What else have you done?"
"Well, I can't recollect anything else just now."

"Gabriel, what do you think we ought to do with this fellow?"
"Oh, give him back his three cents and tell him to go to the devil."

Steady Cold Weather.

It has been many years since there has been such a period of steady cold weather as we have had during this month. It is the more wonderful on account that the season is so early. The rule generally in this section of the country is that the really cold weather does not begin until January. Whatever that month will develop remains to be seen but we know that we have been having some January weather in December.
The average minimum temperature for last week was 21 degrees. The week previous the average temperature was 24 degrees. The coldest morning on record the thermometer registered 18 degrees.
Although this cold weather has prevailed to so great an extent it has been thoroughly enjoyable because there has been very little snow in the mountains.
The disagreeable part of the cold weather is in the parts low in the mountains which cause more discomfort than the bitter cold.
Another peculiar thing about this spell of weather was that but a bit of snow fell here. There were occasional snow flurries in Raleigh and other places in the vicinity but New Bern escaped entirely.
The snow which fell Sunday with a warm rain which was accompanied by occasional sleet.

Holiday Trade Not Up To Last Year.

Can Cotton Average Be Increased. Charlotte's Solution Liquor Question. State Charters Judge Prunell Deals Severe Sentences Grain Crop Suffer.

Raleigh, Dec 21.—The holiday trade here is quite good but is said to be hardly up to last year's very high mark. The low prices for tobacco are said to be the cause. The farmers are getting immense prices for their cotton, the highest in a quarter of a century, yet some of them are not entirely satisfied. If they sell at 18c, they think that if they had waited a few days they could have obtained 16 cts. Yet when the season began their hope was to get as much as 10c and they said that when that figure was reached they would turn cotton loose. It is being very freely marketed now and the receipts here are only a few hundred bales less than they were last year when the crops were so much larger.

Mention was made the other day of the fact that the farmers this year and last year planted so much cotton as they could possibly do. There are some persons who have a belief that labor from somewhere is to be brought into the cotton-growing states, and say that in this way only can the acreage be increased. They argue that it is better to bring labor here to develop lands which everybody knows will produce cotton than to experiment in far off countries to ascertain whether cotton can be grown in them or not.

Persons who have visited Charlotte think the solution of the liquor question there is excellent, a few bar-rooms, with high license and short hours and with no screen or anything to break the view and with all the business done at the front, so all the world can see it. It is said that this system is satisfactory to the saloon men also.

The weather this season has been unusually severe on the small grain crops. Not a large crop could be planted, and the hard frosts have set the crop back considerably.
At one time there was talk of making boring for oil some where in the Charlotte coal-field region, but nothing more has been heard of that matter, though it is declared oil is visible in some streams and wells. It appears that oil and gas are to be bored for near Asheville.

Charters are granted to the Crayley Lumber company of Aora, authorized capital stock $100,000, paid in $25,000, S F Chastman and others stockholders.

The Carolina Mills Company of Winston-Salem capital stock authorized $100,000, paid in $25,000, P K Green and others stockholders, these mills to make hosiery, underwear and all sorts of knit goods.
A H Scott, of Company G, first regiment North Carolina State troops died of a lung illness. He came from Durham, but was buried at Morrisville, this county this afternoon.

Governor Aycock has returned from his trip to Baltimore, which he enjoyed greatly. His speech before the North Carolina society there Friday evening has attracted much attention all over the country, particularly his references to the negro question.

The Supreme Court almost entirely cleared away its business before the justices adjourned for the term. Justice Douglas is in Baltimore in a hospital, under treatment. He remarked six weeks ago that he would probably soon go to the hospital for special treatment.
Judge Prunell disposed of a great deal of business in the Federal Court during the two weeks term, which really ended Saturday, though there will be a session Thursday. The fees he imposed aggregated over $2,000 and he severely punished some of the store keepers who have been in collision with distillers in defying the government. These stores were sentenced will no doubt have a good effect, as a great deal of this sort of thing has been done.

Large and varied assortment of pipes from 5c to 50c each. A very large assortment of 25c pipes. Duffy's Pharmacy.

A Switch in Time Saves Nine.

It is not too soon to be thinking about good things to eat for the coming holiday season. So in your grocer do not leave out the golden apple grown in the Sunny South.
By bringing the best in color and quality, grown from healthy stock, they have a decided superiority over ordinary fruiting as "dwarfing" fruit. As cherry is one of the most delicious quality, sweet, luscious and of that exquisite orange hue, so delightfully tempting to the most fastidious appetite. It should resemble those you find with all other fruit, but they are not to be compared with this one.

From Hanging to Life Sentence.

Special to Journal.
Raleigh, Dec 21.—Gov Aycock commuted to life imprisonment sentence Henry Holloway to be hanged in Greene county Dec 23rd for burglary in first degree. Clemency is shown after careful investigation by Judge Fred Moore, who tried the case, who informs Governor that while he fully believes Holloway is guilty, there is room for doubt and justice does not demand death sentence.
Holloway's identification depended entirely upon his voice. The jury and a great number of leading citizens signed the commutation.

Cox-Lancaster Wedding.

At half past seven o'clock Wednesday evening, December 9th, 1903 a most beautiful home wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr E A Lancaster at Bellair when his oldest daughter, Miss Bertha Lancaster and Mr John Cox of Ayden were united in holy matrimony.
A large number of relatives and friends were present at the artistically decorated home where the ceremony was performed by Rev O W Howard of Kinston, the wedding march being very skillfully rendered by Miss Edna Lineberry of Greensboro, while the beautiful, solemn ceremony was being performed the bride and groom stood under two large hearts of holly and mistletoe.

The attendants were Miss Clara Brinson with Mr Guy Moore, Miss Lena Lane, Mr Rogee Lancaster, brother of the bride, Miss Sallie Canale, Mr Jay Humphrey, Miss Etta Lancaster, Mr Grover Cox, brother of the groom, Miss Lizzie Ipoek, Mr Lynn Lancaster. Then followed the maid of honor, Miss Ethel Lancaster, sister of the bride with the best man, Mr Will Cox, brother of the groom.

The bride was becomingly gowned in white organza trimmed in point lace. She was one of Bellair's most popular and charming young ladies. The groom is one of Pitt county's enterprising young men.

The ushers at the wedding were two charming young ladies, Misses Ada Lane and Ida Ipoek, who were most gracious in welcoming the guests. Misses Hattie Dixon and Bertha Lewis presided in the dining room, where refreshments were served during the evening. The many handsome and useful presents showed the esteem in which the happy couple is held.

On Thursday evening there was a reception at the home of the groom's father at Ayden, which was attended by the bridal party, relatives and close friends.

Goodbye to the Past.

When the Great Billiardmen landed in North America in 1787, it was proposed to change the dress on account of the cold winters and hot summers. The one was enthusiastically opposed and was ultimately justified by the highlanders being the healthiest soldiers in the army. In the campaign in Holland in 1794 some regiments lost as many as 200 from disease, but the Black Watch, which had 300 recruits in its ranks, had only twenty-five casualties, including the killed in battle.
