AROUND AND ABOUT.

Albert Ipeck paid his sentence in the Mayor's court yesterday for being drunk and dazed.

Maggie, the wife of Michael Romanus died Tuesday noon, aged 43 years. Notices of funeral will be published later.

The dance at the Planters Warehouse Christmas night will be a very enjoyable affair. The Riel orchestra will furnish the music. Everything possible will be done to make it pleasant for those who attend. It is expected that a large number will be present.

Mayor Ellis has made an order prohibiting the use of dynamite fire crackers or bombs on Christmas day. The practice is very dangerous and the Mayor is wise in stopping it. The police have also been instructed to stop the other dangerous sport of people shooting at each other with Roman candles.

There was an interruption in the gas service last night. In consequence of an obstruction occurring in the large pipe which supplies the city, this not being detected any lack in the supply of gas. The company quickly remedied the trouble, but considered it best to cut off the supply for the night. It will be all right today.

The poor children of this city are to be nicely remembered on Christmas. The Elks have established a beautiful custom of having a Christmas tree especially for those who have been overlooked. The tree and entertainment will be given in the court house at noon, Christmas day and a most cordial welcome is extended to all to be present. Go and see how the Elks make other people happy.

The citizens who are interested will be pleased to know that the council will take no action on the matter of constructing a side track of the A. & N. O. railway from the South Front street crossing to the Elm City company's mill until the regular January meeting. Both sides of the question will be discussed at that time. The minutes of the December meeting published in the Journal contained this information.

Mr. B. B. Waters of Black Swamp section, Jones county was in the city Tuesday, bringing material and plans for a handsome new residence which he is building at his place. Mr. Waters is the largest tobacco grower in his section and while somewhat discouraged over the crop and prices this year, says that by diversifying his crop he has been enabled to pull out a good bit ahead. Mr. Waters says that he expects to continue cultivating tobacco but in the meantime will not neglect the hog and hominy crop. In this connection it might be remarked that the gentleman referred to is one of the largest hog raisers in Jones county, his packing this year will be way up in the thousands.

The express business of the Atlantic and North Carolina railroad has increased to such an extent as to necessitate the daily shipment of one or more solid car loads of express through to Northern points. This has been shipped to Goldsboro, and then transferred to the through cars on other roads. To avoid the transferring of freight at this point, Master Mechanic Green of the A. & N. O. has had all the express cars of the road refitted with standard trucks, high speed air brakes, slack adjusters and steam pipes so that the cars can be carried through without change of freight. All the freight cars on the road are being fitted up with automatic couplers and air brakes. Two new express cars are to be built after the holidays.

Reception to Bridal Party. Mr. and Mrs. John B. Ives gave a delightful reception last night at their home on Johnson street in honor of their sister Miss Lullie Ives, and the bridal party who will assist at the Harding-Ives marriage, which will be solemnized at the Presbyterian church at 8:30 p. m. today.

Pension Notice. State Pensioners who belonged to the 87th and 89th Regiments N. C. Troops, whose names were stricken from the Pension Roll, are hereby informed that they have been reinstated, and that their checks are now at the Clerk's Office ready for delivery when called for. I will send them to you if you furnish me your address. W. M. WATSON, C. S. C.

At The Opera House. The Harris-Parkinson Company gave a most acceptable presentation of the play 'Topsy Turvey', last night at the opera house.

The play gave the company full scope for their excellent work. The specialties between the acts were greatly enjoyed, and loudly applauded. Tonight, 'The Slave of Gull', a scene laid in New York City will be given, with new specialties between the acts. Remember the popular prices for these performances, 10, 25 and 50 cents. Seats can be reserved each day at Waters' without extra charge.

The Sale Of Dewey's Personal Property.

The sale of the household effects of Thomas W. Dewey was held at the Harvey house on South Front street at noon yesterday. A large crowd of those who were attracted thither by curiosity were gathered at the place. The sale was conducted by Mr. S. B. Waters and the bidding very lively. Everything sold went at a very good price and those who had it in charge were highly pleased with the results.

There was one or two funny incidents that happened during the transaction which came across the reporter's observation. There were three bottles which had a wrapper very much like a patent medicine bottle but they had the picture of a hunter on horseback—a well known sign among some men. The bottles could not according to the law of the land be sold at auction. Some one suggested that they be sold as quart bottles of red ink.

Among the goods there was a churr, a cute little barrel concern on rollers which made it look very much like a cradle. One lady asserted in a joking way that it was a cradle. A number of curious people went to inspect the machine and said they "didn't see how a child could sleep in a thing like that."

The sale will be continued today beginning at 11 o'clock at the same place. The articles to be sold comprise the library, rugs, carpets, pictures, curtains, A. & N. O. stock, B. & T. Co. stock. Many valuable and handsome articles will go under the hammer.

CASTORIA. The Kid You Run Always Bought. Bears the Signature of Dr. J. C. Williams.

A Narrow Escape. Mr. William H. Oliver had a very narrow escape from serious injury Monday night and it is wonderful that he is not laid up as a result of his experience. He was returning from the residence of Mr. E. A. Nunn, at about half past six o'clock where he had been to meet Insurance Commissioner Young. When crossing Chagne street he was knocked down by a wagon which was being driven at a very rapid rate.

Fortunately no bones were broken but he sustained very painful bruises on the right shoulder, arms and legs.

The driver of the wagon is unknown, if he is apprehended he will be arrested for violation of the city ordinance against fast driving.
