Improvement Much Needid.

MR. EDITOR: - A. there seems to be so such in contemplation for the improve m at of the streets in the city, we suggest that something be done to improv the principal entrance via Neuse road There is a little street called Well, I don't know what it's rest name is, but will say the most approprie to name is Ditch. It is not more than 12 feet wide, and that ten to twelve inches deep in mud. While we will admit our country roads are bad. I will venture to say there is

S. W. HAHOOCK, P. M.

A writer in a London newspaper says: The other day I heard an Englishman defending our system of collaboration on earth who can say that the system is bone of our bone. For there are 240 bones in the body and 240 pence in the pound; there are 120 bones in the bead and trunk and 120 in the limbs and 120 pence in half a sover. in the bend and trunk and 120 in the limbs and 120 pence is half a sovereign; each limb contains 30 bones, and a half crows contains 30 pence; in the spinal column there are 24 bones and in a florin 24 pence, and as we have 12 ribs on each side, so we have 12 pence in every shilling. See how the proportions of the skeleton of our commerce contorm to nature's teaching. No wonder it is vigorous."

The Sham Brier Pipe, The other day it was reported from Prussia, says the Westminster Gazette, that, though the amber industry had been dull of late, the trade in imitation amber bad been highly satisfactory It now seems, smokers will be interest ed to know, that even the brier root pipe is not what it is supposed to be. The brier root of commerce is the root of the large growing heath (Erica arborea). Brier in this connection is said to be a corruption of "bruyere" (heath). The brier root industry has had a somewhat curious history. First begun in the Pyrenees some fifty years ago, it traveled along the French Riviera and the Ligurian coast, taking Corsica by the way, to the Tuscan Maremma and reached Calabria in the south. By the very nature of the business, when a certain district has been exhausted of all its roots the industry must come to

The Beginning of Cotton Thread. Ex-Proyost Clark of Paisley, England, has been relating the origin of cotton sewing thread, which was first used in that town in the weaving of beddles" as a substitute for silk, please say advertised and give date of 1803, when he seized Hamburg. Mr. Clark's grandfather and his brother then bethought them of cotton, which worked so smoothly that Mr. Clark's father, then a youth, took to recom-mending it to women instead of linen, then mostly used. Originally it was sold in banks or skeins. These the wo-men had to wind into little balls, as

IN MEDICIDIES TON

Ancient and Modern Ideas on These Interesting

Por Purifying and Beautifying the Skin, Scalp, Hair and Hands.

Socrates called beauty a short-lived yranny, Plato a privilege of nature, ocritus, a delightful prejudice Theophrastus a silent cheat, Carneades a solitary kingdom, Homer a glorious gift of nature, Ovid a favor of the gods. Aristotle affirmed that beauty was better than all the letters of recommendation in the world, and yet none of these distinguished authorities has left us even a hint of how beauty has left us even a hint of how beauty is to be perpetuated, or the ravages of age and disease defied. Time soon blends the lily and the rose into the pallor of age, disease dots the fair face with cutaneous disfigurations and crimsons the Roman nose with unsightly flushes, moth, if not rust, corrupts the glory of eyes, teeth, and lips yet beautiful by defacing the complexion, and fills the sensitive soul with agony. If such be the unhappy condition of one afflicted with slight skin blemlahes, what must be the feelings of those in what must be the feelings of those in whom torturing humors have for years run riot, covering the akin with scales and sores and charging the blood with poisonous elements to become a part of the system until death.

It is in the treatment of tortuber. come a part of the system until death?

It is in the treatment of torturing, disfiguring humors and affections of the skin, scalp and blood, with loss of hair, that the Cuticura remedies have achieved their greatest success. Original in composition, scientifically compounded, absolutely pure, unchangeable in any climate, atways ready, and agreeable to the most delicate and sensitive, they present to young and old the most successful curatives of modern times.
