Attempt to Settle Receivership Meets Out of Court.

Judge Farnell Barred at The Action. In case of Non Arrival of Judge Simonton Will Hear Arguments Himself.

Special to Journal.

Raleigh, Feb. 16.—At six o'clock this afternoon Attorney General Gilmer and his associate counsel, Chas. W. Tillet representing the State, and W. S. O. B. Robinson, attorney for Y. E. McBoe receiver of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railway, went to the residence of Judge Farnell, of the Federal court who had appointed McBoe receiver, with a paper which they desired signed, it having been agreed on by both sides. This paper was in the shape of an order, revoking the receivership immediately, taxing the costs upon K. B. Finch, who instituted the receivership case and swore to the complaint, and allowing McBoe no pay for his receivership.

Judge Farnell was not at home and the attorneys will return later with this important document. It was currently rumored that the judge would not sign it but insisted on having McBoe before him in open court tomorrow. It is now asserted that Judge Farnell is extremely angry, at the means by which Finch brought about the receivership and at the fraud perpetrated. The matter is the chief topic of conversation of all the large number of public men here today.

Judge Simonton of the United States Circuit court who is to hear the case in which the State seeks the revocation of the receivership did not arrive this afternoon as expected. In case he does not arrive Judge Farnell can dispose of the case himself. Judge Farnell refused to sign the order.

LATER.

Judge Farnell says he had no objection to the order but Judge Simonton had been asked to come here and hear this receivership matter and would reach here at midnight and at his request the signing of such an order now would be a gross discourtesy to Judge Simonton. Judge Farnell added that he would sign no order until the court regularly opened tomorrow.

Your correspondent learns that at two o'clock this afternoon McBoe's attorneys W. W. Clark and W. S. O. B. Robinson called on Judge Farnell at the latter's office and said they wanted to talk about this receivership matter. They did not then submit any order for his signature. He told them he would not hear anything regarding this matter or consider any proposition except in the presence of counsel on the other side and added that he was not conducting any star chamber court.

Supreme Court Decisions.

Special to Journal.
Raleigh, Feb. 16.—Supreme court this evening filed the following opinions:
Hargett vs Bell from Onslow, action dismissed.

State vs Dunn, from Lenoir, new trial.

Land Company vs Atlantic Hotel from Currier no error.

Wilson vs Brown from Pitt, no error.

State vs Green, from Craven, new trial.

Bradshaw vs Williams, from Duplin, per curiam, affirmed.

Morgan Lumber Co, from Sampson per curiam, affirmed on authority of Miall vs Burnett 40 N. C. 347, Green vs B. R. N. C. 684 and Drake vs Powell 130 N. C. 182.

Important!

It is important that those who have not paid their City Taxes should pay them at once. It will prevent an order in New Bern Journal for sale, the property of delinquents for enforcement of the tax and cost, will also appreciate the full tax due.

Respectfully,
J. J. FOLSON,
City Tax Collector.

THE WAR GAME

Both Sides Do Well and Lose Heavily.

Reports From Seat of War Favor the Japanese. Russians Suffer Severe Losses in Naval Battle.

Special to Journal.

London, Feb. 16.—Another attack was made on Port Arthur, yesterday. Three hundred Russians are reported killed and wounded and a Russian cruiser seriously damaged. The Japanese sustained light damage. Word from Seoul says that a great land battle is in progress on the Yalu river.

London, Feb. 16.—Dispatches from Port Arthur state that the Japanese fleet has disappeared from before the city. No mention is made of the attempt of Admiral Makaroff to join the Vladivostok squadron at the sea though rumor is reiterated from Tokyo that a great naval battle has been fought.

Paris, Feb. 16.—The Tempo correspondent at St. Petersburg asserts that a corps of the Russian army are advancing from Vladivostok toward Corea.

Port Arthur is reported to be garrisoned with 30,000 troops and are supplied with provisions for a year.

The Russian Ministry of Marine claim that since the opening of the war the Japanese have lost four cruisers and five torpedo boat destroyers; the machinery of a 12,000 ton battleship has also been seriously damaged.

The correspondent asserts that the concentration of Russian troops at M. K. and Harbin has permanently prevented the Japanese from landing on the northern shores of the Bay of Corea.

Notice to Public

Notice is given that the Bat at Streets Ferry having sunk and become of no service that ferry will of necessity be discontinued until the Bat is repaired or other arrangements can be made.

Still No Pay.

Another day passed, bringing no pay day for the employees of the A. & N. O. road, but the trains are still running and there seems to be no disposition on the part of those running them to make a strike, at least not just now.

An interview with a number of the employees developed the information that their confidence in the integrity of the old A. & N. O. was unshaken, at least so long as there is a shadow of its passing back into the hands of its former management. All seemed to be willing to wait for the outcome of the case at Raleigh today.

Wait for the outcome of the case at Raleigh today.

The permanency of the Receivership is not considered by the employees to be a provoked probability and Mr. McBoe, in the connection, receives no consideration whatever. This conduct seems to have provided only distrust and contempt.

On the streets, one hears nothing but condemnation of the whole Receivership crowd and business even those who heretofore favored the lease strongly denounce the policy adopted by McBoe, and all those who helped to bring about the present confusion.
