ANOTHER PORTUGUESE MOVE.

The New Bedford Colony Disagreed And Will Go Home.

There is one more scene in the dramatic production of Portuguese immigration. It is just about a year since the boat Yara Cruz III, with 500 passengers was caught up on the beach near Ocracoke and left high and dry.

The experiment of hiring them at almost any kind of work proved an utter failure as the Journal has stated before, an expensive one too, to some men.

It has transpired now that the whole colony at New Bedford, only a small part of which came here, are disgusted and have decided to return to their own Cape Verde Islands.

The greatest objection to these people was it was learned that they were incompetent. Farm work seemed to be too hard for them and as for other manual labor they were either too lazy or too dull to comprehend.

Blaming The Editor.

Exchange. It is the inclination of people who do not get enough brain exercise, to blame the editor when a piece of news appears that does not happen to please.

Then, there is the dignified citizen, who is respected (and feared) by a whole lot of people. He must not be mentioned unless the paper upon which his name is printed is perfumed.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of Resolutions By New Bern Bar.

At the meeting of the New Bern, Bar held at the clerk's office April 30th 1904 it was Resolved, that the Hon. Board of Commissioners of Craven county be and are requested to have the large table in the Bar removed and have four trial tables put in its place and to have book cases put in the room at the north west corner of the court house in which to keep the N. C. Reports and laws of N. C., belonging to the county and to purchase Monroe's Recitations in book form for county use, that such action would be of great benefit to the Attorneys of this Bar, and litigants, and would preserve the books belonging to the county and greatly accelerate the trials of cases saving much time to the court.

Two Addresses Today.
