PROGRESS IN NATIONAL DEM-OCRATIC PRESIDENTIAL

CONTEST.

At the present time, the National Democratic Presidential contest presents some interesting features. The person who reads special newspapers may find that his favorite candidate is ahead of all others, in the way of securing delegates favorable for his nomina-

More than one third of the 1,000 delegates to be elected, who shall name the Democratic Presidential nominee, are now selected, and of these there are instructed for Parker 98, for Hearst 100, for Olney 25, for Gorman 7, and uninstructed 114. Added to this. it looks as if Pennsylvania's 68 votes, West Virginis's and New Jersey's votes would also be given to Senator Gorman, thus making Parker, Hearst and Gorman with about 100 delegates each.

The most interesting phase in the situation is that the fight is being more hot ly waged than ever. with no lessening in the number of contestants for the nomination, and with no candidate having any lead which is worthy of consideration as denoting a sure thing for the tried a number of remedies to no avail

Outside features in the fight, are that there is a rumor that Tammany may dethe Democrats of Nebraska are to send Sold by F. S Duffy a Bryan delegation to St Louis, with instructions for a re-affirmation of the 1896 and 1900 platforms.

Cotton Crop Conditions.

Washington, D C, May 10. The cotton belt had a week of favorable temperatures with abundant rain falls except in the eastern districts. Reports of poor stands of early planted cotton continue from the central and Esstern portion, but better status of the late planted are indicated. Recent rains have improved the situation in western Texas but have interferred with cultivation in the eastern portion of the State, planting is nearly finished, in the Northern districts.

Saved by Quick Wit.

Isabel F. Hapgood, the translator of many of Toistoi's books, once visited the great Russian, and during her visit he told her a story of one of his ancestors. This ancestor, an army officer, was an excellent mimic. One day he was impersonating the Emperor Paul to a group of his friends when Paul himself entered and for some moments looked on, unperceived, at the antics of the young man. Toistoi finally turned and, beholding to emperor, bowed his head and was slient. "Go on, sir," said Paul. "Continue the performance."

The young man hesitated a moment, and then, folding his arms and imitating every gesture and intonation of his sovereign, he said: saved by Quick Wit.
