EDUCATION NO SHORT CUT TO EASY LIVING.

A writer in a leading daily newspaper, in discussing the merits of schools, and specially those of the public schools took the position that by an indirect Amr. Copper ... 50; method the public school produces the Atchison...... 684 direct thing called the tramp, by the following process:

"Taking him in boyhood, it denies him work and a trade; sets before him study and play" as duty, and tells him that upon quitting school he will be prepared to work with his head rather than his hands and reap fame and fortune by St. Paul. 1894

The above process of reasoning is extreme, for it assumes that the contributary force which is exerted in the public school is detrimental to the educational training of youth, hence there exists in educational text books teachings, which affect by their method, to instil avil in the young mind which later is productive of evil practices and habits in the lives of the youth so taught.

No school text book is perfect, nor has there yet, and probably never will be found a method of teaching the youth which shall be productive of a perfect life. If each child could be given an individual training, based upon a careful analysis of each and every peculiar trait and characteristic, there might, occasionally be developed the nearly perfect character in man or woman.

That education fails in some instances, and the child whose life has been spent in the school room proves a failure and seeks evil ways when grown, does not place the securing of an education through schools as a dangerous method for all children, any more than does one or two failures of church members condemn religion as a practice cading to hypocrisy.

Education in school or college when rightly taught, does not inculcate the Education in school or college when rightly taught, does not incuteate the thought is the child's mind that learning is the end stained, which actually secures social position and competency to the child when school and college courses are completed. But education in its true and best form does prove to the child and youth that it is the means through which can be best secured as through which can be best secured to the child and youth that it is the means through which can be best secured to the child and youth that it is the means through which can be best secured to the child and youth that it is the means through which can be best secured to the child and youth that it is the means through which can be best secured to the child and youth that it is the means through which have been taught in school and college.

When the impression is created that an education both opens and secure fame and fortune by a short cut method it is certain to be productive of will, therefore the careful need that care and attention be given in teaching, so that the youthful mind easily impressed and susceptible to every influence, is not impregnated with false ideas, but is taught as to the positive value of an education of what means in its various ramifleations, and its effect upon the youth in whatever position he may seek to gain in lite, when he's or her school days are finished.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the discused portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this interior inflamed you have a rumbling sound or impect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the rumble, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to fits normal condition, hearing will be destroyed for ever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

It is a queer state of things that the national existence of a country should depend on one of that country's products, but this is the case in Chile where nitrate of sods constitute three-fourths of the export trade. An expert, in summing up the situation says that at the present rate of con sumption the supply of nitrate will be exhausted in twenty years and that then Chile's life as a nation must cease unless something that is now unexpected should occur.

HUGE DUCK FARMS.

They Are to Be Seen on All the Wa Enormous flocks of tame ducks, num-

A recent writer speaks of seeing them on the Yangtse in midstream, floating down in compact masses with the rac-ing current and surrounded by their guardians in tubs, who, armed with long bamboos, smartly whacked any birds that happened to stray. the same age, a curious fact that is ex-plained by the Chinese use of incubators on a large scale. They are very chary about revealing details, but i would appear that these incubators are sither made of manure and lime in the open air or in rooms heated by char-coal fires, the eggs in this case being placed in baskets covered with straw or cotton wool.

To illustrate the magnitude of these operations it may be mentioned that a out on a river will sometimes encoun ter a floating mass of eggshells numbering ten. of thousands and coming from an incubator where ducks have just been hatched.

"Did Not Thrive in Growth"

"And nothing we did for her seemed to do her good."

MARY ELIZABETH DONNELLY.

"Did not seem to thrive in growth." We think that sentence covers a great We think that sentence covers a great part of our subject.
Why is it that children do not thrive in growth? We notice every day the children of the richest parents, provided with every care and attention money can provide, lose appetite, flesh and color, and languish in health the same as the under-fed, under-clothed, poorly-nourished child of poverty siley. Nature is no respecter of persons, at any rate.

Here is a case where a child did not thrive, and you can judge it for your-self:—

Let a daughter has 24 Rose St., New York City.

Dear Sirs—Our little daughter has been greatly benefited by the use of Ozomulsion. She did not seem to thrive in growth, and nothing that we did for her seemed to do her any good. She did not eat with any relish and was losing flesh. In this condition we commenced to give her Ozomulsion with most remarkable results. She gained in flesh and strength from the very outset of the treatment. Her appetite became very much better and now she is as healthy a child as one could find.

We found Ozomulsion very beneficial for coughs and colds, and for children it is especially desirable by reason of its pleasant taste. Our little daughter loves the taste of Ozomulsion, and this makes it easy to give to her.

Very truly yours, (Signed) Frank Donnelly.

If your child is in poor health, why do you not begin cod-liver oil at once instead of waiting until you have to use it to save the child's life? And why not most good?

Ozomulsion contains remedial agents not found in any other similar preparation. It contains no harmful drugs whatever, and is so superior to any other remedy for children that it gives our many friends pleasure to endorse it. While Ozomulsion is rapidly growing into popular favor, we think there is one phase of its work which is still insufficiently understood. This is its beneficial effects during teething Bables have distress while cutting their teeth hast in proportion as they are properly ave distress while cutting their teeth ast in proportion as they are properly ourished.
