PROHIBITION IN KANSAS.

How it Killed Moral, Social and Educational Temperance Work.

(ADV.)

Mr. S. K. Shepherd, Ex-Secretary of the State of Kansas, and many years Editor of the old Topeka Tribune, sends the following communication to The Omaha Bee:

"For twenty years prior to prohibition in Kansas I was an active Good Templar and worker in the temperance cause in Topeka Valley Falls, and Troy in this State. When the prohibition craze struck Kansas ten years ago there was about four hundred lodges and organizations of various kinds in the State devoted to temperance work. In six months they were all dead. Prohibition killed them. Moral, social and educational temperance work was wholly abandoned, and compulsion, litigation and hell raising inaugurated in its stead. The infamous spy, spotter and informer system was adopted, and secret stamper, inquisitorial 'law and order leagues' hatched conspiracies waged bitter and vindictive prosecutions, piled costs mountain-high upon the taxpayers and converted society into a seething caldron of warring elements.

The golden era of sobriety was just beginning to dawn in Kansas when the pernicious contagion of prohibition broke out like a raging pestilence and spread over the land, destroying temperance work, and leaving morals desolate in its path. The consumption of liquor has been increased rather than diminished, and men have been made worse instead of better. Prohibition has de-liauched our State. The attempted enforcement has brought out the worse elements of human character on both sides of the question. Men who once had respect for the law have grown to hate and despise it, and their sons are following in their footsteps. In place of honest, old-fashioned saloons, we have drug stores, joints, club-rooms and secret hell-holes, where vicious stuff is sold to all who want it, old or young. Since the withering blight of prohibition casts its dark shadow upon Kansas and Iowa, and converted those States into moral plague spots, the former has lost 75,000 of its population and the latter 165,000, while all surrounding States have gained from 200,000 to 600,000 each. And as many more people would flee from the blue-lawism of those two States if they could sell out and get away, or if they did not hope for a change in affairs.

For one I am not a law-worshiper. I never did believe in paddock virtue, legal righteousness, sheriff honor, execution honesty, constabulary purity, or constable temperance. I do not believe that State guardianship of men's appetites and morals and the removal of all temptation from them is conducive to the best results in developing human character. I do not believe in putting a bib on a man and shutting him up in the nursery with old granites, church and State for his wet and dry nurses. I do not believe, in trailing him up to the legislative porch like a morning glory, cultivating no power within himself to stand alone, and sure to be cut down by the first cold wind or autumn frost.

Temptation is as necessary a factor in the building up of character as exercise is the growth of a strong, healthy body. Without temptation it is impossible to develop a vigorous manhood, capable of resisting evil as the sturdy oak with stands the fury of storm and tempest. Without temptation man would be a frail hot-house exotic a thing of jelly, without bone, sinew, muscle or vertebra. The moment temptation is removed moral degeneration begins. Free moral agency is essential to manhood. No good can possibly come from the destruction of human liberty.

In principle prohibition is false, irrational and unjust. In spirit it is aggressive, ferocious and vindictive. It is the assassin of liberty, the foe of free moral agency, and the destroyer of temperance. It is commercial famine, and financial ruin. It is degrading, enervating and demoralizing to a free and intelligent people. It robs of respect for all law; it offers a premium upon vice and crime and turns men into assassins, spies, spotters and perjurers. Its enactment and attempted enforcement in the State of Kansas and Iowa have been an infamous outrage upon the natural and civil rights of the people. It is the propagator of discord, hatred and bitterness the instigator of contention, enmity and rancor, and the propagator of strife, dissensions and violence.

The Kansas Farmers' Advocate says: "Time was in Kansas when it was proper to be a prohibitionist. The politicians were all making prohibition speeches. Turn back the records and you will be surprised to find the former position of prohibition on prohibition and its enforcement, when you consider the present sentiment. While it is not yet popular to be a 'prohibitionist' because of that term, there is a common order of intrigue and hooding with outside brewers, it is no longer just the propertying in politics to be a sincere advocate of law enforcement. It loses its luster. An honest and thorough enforcement of the prohibition law all over the State would bring its repeal quicker than anything else, but there is no political party in Kansas big enough to undertake the job. So things will go on as heretofore. Prohibition will continue to lose what little grip it has, and finally something better will be substituted as the law of the State."

General Attorney Dawes of Kansas in his biennial report says: "The Kansas prohibitory law has not been enforced under my administration, nor under that of any of my predecessors."

is one of the oldest cereals known in history. But the barley grown today is the product of centuries of cultivation. Although it is a hardy cereal, and can be grown in any temperate climate, it is best cultivated in our Northern States, where the soil is peculiarly adapted to produce the most nutritious species.

Milwaukee, the home of the Pabst Brewing Company, is located on the edge of a vast barley district, where the best barley in America is grown. Pabst has his own buyers, who have had years experience in selecting barley, and whose exclusive employment is to purchase the two million bushels of this grain needed every year.

Every bushel of barley used by the Pabst Brewing Company is the best the land affords, and this insures the greatest possible nutrition in the malt from which Pabst beer is made. The hops, likewise are obtained by special employees whose office it is to inspect the crops of this flower each year, and their purchase is governed by their practical knowledge of the best localities of growth, and also the quality which possesses the correct amount of aroma and "hop principle" necessary to produce good beer. Pabst Beer is always pure because it is brewed from only the choicest materials.

Before any vat, brew-kettle, keg or bottle is used a second time, vast corps of men and women wash, cleanse and scour these receptacles until they are sweet and clean and free from all contamination.

System, the best labor and the latest scientific machinery are used throughout the great Pabst plant. Cleanliness and quality are above all else observed to the extreme.

The doors of the Pabst plant are always open to visitors, who may inspect for themselves the superior methods employed in the manufacture of Pabst Beer, which could not be made better if double its price were offered.

Salter Path School Closes

June 26th.

I with a number of friends from Will wood accepted an invitation to be present at the closing exercises of M. W. C. Murdoch's school at the Salter Path on Friday 24th inst.

The sun rose bright and clear and by nine o'clock a. m. we were all aboard a nice sharpie under the captainship of Mr. Humley Willis who after a delightful sail delivered us safe and sound at our destination.

We were met by the committee of arrangements and a host of friends who bid us welcome. In about an hour the church in which the exercises were conducted was crowded and the program commenced.

I cannot praise the pupils too highly in the way that they went through their various studies so nicely, reading, spelling, grammar, geography, composition, blackboard exercises etc., showed the master hand of their teacher in the way he had trained them.

The committee as well as the patrons spoke of high terms of Mr. Murdoch as a teacher and expressed the wish that they could secure his services again.

At half past twelve dinner was announced and we retired to a long table under a beautiful shade and there Mr. Editor, we spread all the details of both land and sea.

After dinner was over the following resolution was read and adopted:

RESOLVED, That we, the visitors from Whitwood, desire to return our thanks for the kindness shown us by the kind people of the Salter Path, and assure them that we highly appreciate their labor to make our visit pleasant and extend to them an invitation to pay Whitwood a visit, so that we may return their kindness.

We then took a stroll along the beach gathering shells and at three o'clock we bid adieu to the many attractions of the day, got aboard our boat and with a stiff breeze blowing, we soon arrived home with the peaceful recollection that we had spent a day of unalloyed pleasure.

Crimson Clover

Sown at the last working of the Corn or Cotton Crop, can be plowed under the following April or May in time to plant corn or other crops the same season.

Crimson Clover prevents winter leaching of the soil, is equal in fertilizing value to a good application of stable manure and will wonderfully increase the yield and quality of corn or other crops which follow it. It also makes splendid winter and spring grazing, fine early green feed, or a good hay crop. Even if the crop is cut off, the action of the roots and stubble improve the land to a marked degree.

Write for price and special circular telling about seeding etc.
