CONVENTION HALL.

Special to Journal.

St. Louis, July 9th.—The labors of the convention did not lessen as time wore on. The strain came after midnight and it seemed as if the battle of the giants was upon the Parker force, well organized and prepared to meet any adversary were in the field. Their strongest opponent William J. Bryan fought every advance they made but his efforts were met by the masterful manipulations of David Bennett Hill.

The nominations of Parker, Heat and Gray closed the list of presidential candidates. The confusion among the delegates was so great that progress was slow but the convention showing signs of fatigue and a tendency to bring the contest to an end made the tumult less marked.

question is of the greatest importance and nothing but information from the fountain head will answer. John Sharp Williams denied that Senator Osborn had received any telegram. Following is the telegram that caused the trouble:
Hon. W. F. Sheehan,
Hotel Jefferson,
St. Louis, Mo.

Regarding the Gold Standard as firmly and irreparably established and shall act accordingly, if the action of the convention shall be ratified by the people. As the platform is silent on the subject my views shall be made known to the convention and if it proves to be unsatisfactory to the majority I request you to decline the nomination for me at once so that another man may be appointed before adjournment.

Signed,
ALTON B. PARKER.

Senator Tillman spoke on telegram, saying answer could be sent, that no issue in present campaign could prevent Judge Parker standing on platform. W. J. Bryan who had been sick, appeared, received with tremendous applause. His speech delayed action of committee on the money plank. He said if convention favored gold plank it ought to be honest and say so.

Bryan said that Parker should have expressed opinion before convention convened. He joined in resolution of committee because he wanted harmony. The telegram written to be sent Judge Parker for his approval, was opposed in part by Bryan.

At 10:58 p. m. Senator Daniel took platform in favor of resolution, and at 11:15 p. m. was speaking on proposed message to Parker. Convention cannot finish and must go over to Monday.

BARLEY is one of the oldest cereals known in history. But the barley grown today is the product of centuries of cultivation. Although it is a hardy cereal, and can be grown in any temperate climate, it is best cultivated in our Northern States, where the soil is peculiarly adapted to produce the most nutritious species.

Milwaukee, the home of the Pabst Brewing Company, is located on the edge of a vast barley district, where the best barley in America is grown. Pabst has his own buyers, who have had years experience in selecting barley, and whose exclusive employment is to purchase the two million bushels of this grain needed every year.

Every bushel of barley used by the Pabst Brewing Company is the best the land affords, and this insures the greatest possible nutrition in the malt from which Pabst Beer is made. The hops, likewise are obtained by special employees whose office it is to inspect the crops of this flower each year, and their purchase is governed by their practical knowledge of the best localities of growth, and also the quality which possesses the correct amount of aroma and "hop principle" necessary to produce good beer. Pabst Beer is always pure because it is brewed from only the choicest materials.

Before any vat, brew-kettle, keg or bottle is used a second time, vast corps of men and women wash, cleanse and scour these receptacles until they are sweet and clean and free from all contamination. Systems, the best labor and the latest scientific machinery are used throughout the great Pabst plant. Cleanliness and quality are above all else observed to the extreme.

The doors of the Pabst plant are always open to visitors, who may inspect for themselves the superior methods employed in the manufacture of Pabst Beer which could not be made better if double its price were offered.

In Pabst Beer only the choicest materials are used, and the brewing is conducted with absolute cleanliness. These are important factors in beer making and the secret of Pabst's great success.
