RALEIGH

Seeking Laws to Restrict Immigration

More Old Documents Found. August Draught Prevails. Bets on Congressmen Eighth and Tenth Districts.

Raleigh, Aug. 26.—Attorney General Gilmer returned today from his home at Waverly, where he spent his vacation. He says the weather was charming in the mountains and that Wayneville had a great many visitors. He is in readiness for the term of the Supreme court which begins next week. There are not many interesting cases on the docket. There is one from the first district next week, in which the charge against certain men is obstructing with piles and stakes Jean Guide Creek, which is an arm of Currituck Sound. The people who placed the obstructions there claim that the creek is private property but the State says this is not true and that it is a navigable stream and that it has been so used for a great many years.

The secretary of state continues his discovery of interesting old documents. Today he found maps of Mecklenburg and Cumberland counties made in 1789. At that time Cumberland was a very large county indeed.

The American, which is the official organ of the Junior Order of American Mechanics, and which is published here, the editor being Z. P. Smith, is asking the question and urging local councils everywhere to secure statements from candidates for congress already nominated and those yet to be nominated written promises that they will use their utmost efforts to secure the enactment of laws restricting immigration and rendering the naturalization laws much more stringent than they now are. Editor Smith said in an interview; "The congressman have for years been paying us with promises. They have been introducing bills to this end long enough but they have gone no further than the introduction. Some thing must be done. We desire a good class of immigrants, but the riff raff must be kept out of the country and our naturalization laws ought to be many times stricter than they now are. We have 800,000 members of our order in the country and we are growing rapidly. We know that we express the true American sentiment in what we are undertaking to do."

Isaac Pettiford, of this county, is the latest arrival in jail here, the charge against him being bigamy. He is from Barton's Creek township and both of his wives appeared in evidence against him, as he exhibits A & B so to speak.

It was predicted some time ago that there would be an August drought and that nothing would hurt cotton worse and it is stated that the signs of such a drought were a constant wind, high sailing clouds and a glass blue sky. Exactly these things now prevail, and the crops are retrograding remarkably fast.

Next Sunday Rev. R. J. Bateman, the pastor of the Fayetteville Street Baptist Church here will again in order to go to Mount Olive and take charge of the Baptist church there.

A lot of bets are being made in regard to the election for congressmen in the eighth and tenth districts. The Democrats appear to be very willing to bet that in the eighth district will defeat Blackburn, Republican, by at least 1,000 votes, but as to the tenth district not a few of them appear so very nervous in the latter district it is regarded as a fact that Gogger has a hard contest against Ewart, Republican.

Game warden Upchurch has arrested a man named Adams for selling mocking birds and for a man who was shipping them out of the State, the law against these offenses being strict.

"Dixie" For National Anthem
Cutler's Weekly suggests that "Dixie" might be made the national anthem if some poet would write suitable words to the music. There are reasons which may be advanced to support such a suggestion. "Dixie" is the only truly American patriotic song that has ever been written. It is easier to sing than "The Star Spangled Banner," and similar anthems, and then there is something about it that stirs the blood, arouses patriotism and brings forth the ruddy cheeks. Its popularity, too, is constantly increasing in all sections of the country. It is extremely doubtful, however, if southerners will willingly give up the song that is so intimately associated with their history and about which some of their sweetest memories cluster.

A Sweet Breath
Is a never failing sign of a healthy stomach. When the breath is bad the stomach is out of order. There is no remedy in the world equal to Ewald's Peppermint Cure for curing indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles. Ask for Ewald's Great Peppermint Cure, which I have been a devotee for years. It will give you a sweet breath and a healthy stomach. By the use of Ewald's Cure you will increase in weight, and after eating will have a sweet breath. It is the only remedy that will give you a sweet breath and a healthy stomach. It is the only remedy that will give you a sweet breath and a healthy stomach.

Resumed Operation

Special to Journal.
New York, Aug. 26.—W. E. Woodend & Co., stock speculators who made an assignment in June and were arrested for fraudulent transactions have adjusted their deficiencies and have resumed business.

The company has been reincorporated with a capital of $400,000. The articles provide for the sale of 4,000 shares of stock, $50,000 preferred. The preferred stock will be entitled to accumulate yearly dividends not exceeding six percent. They will do business on $100,000 paid up capital.

W. E. Woodend's failure last June was attributed by several sensational financiers. He was a physician but paid more attention to his stock jobbing business. Wild speculation and high leverage are charged as the reasons for the failure. The amount of his indebtedness is said to have reached $3,000,000.

SPOKE TO FARMERS.

The annual picnic of the farmers resident of Bladen, Pender, Duplin and Sampson counties was held at Moore's Creek Thursday and was attended by between 2,000 and 3,000 people. The occasion was widely advertised and it was greatly enjoyed by all.

The weather was ideal and the celebration was well up to the standard of former years.

The prime feature of the day was the address of Hon Charles R. Thomas Congressman from the third district, whose efforts in behalf of a government appropriation for the maintenance and preservation of the historic spot are well known. Mr. Thomas was introduced by President James F. Moore of Moore's Creek Monumental Association, and his discourse was eloquent and pleasing. Competent judges who had heard him many times before, said it was the speech of his life. It abounded in historical research, eulogy of the heroes of our colonial days, and a brilliant exposition of the civic and economic problems with which the people are confronted today. He closed with a recitation of Gaston's immortal "Carolina," after which the ladies took up the tune-festivities and sang with enthusiasm the "accompaniment of the band from Wilmington, which furnished music during the entire day.

At one o'clock a sumptuous dinner was spread in the beautiful oak grove on the grounds by the good women of the county. After dinner until late in the afternoon the young people enjoyed a delightful dance in the large pavilion on the grounds.

A record breaking game of base ball was played at Jackson, Miss., between the Jackson and Brookhaven teams of the Delta league Wednesday. Nineteen innings were played and not a score made.
