A. & N. C. MEETING.

President Bryan's Annual Report. Committee Reports. Board of Directors Elect J. W. Grainger, President, D. J. Broadhurst, Secretary and Treasurer.

The regular annual meeting of the stockholders of the Atlantic & North Carolina railroad company was held in this city, Thursday noon at the company's offices on Trent river. There was a small attendance, the proceedings of the meeting having been pretty well determined upon beforehand.

Mr. L. G. Daniels, presided over the meeting. The proxy committee's report showed 1788 shares and 1470 votes present and by proxy.

President James A. Bryan submitted the 10th annual report of the road for year ending June 30th 1904. In substance President Bryan said in his report—bridges, tracks, roadway, rollingstock were kept in good order and at high standard. That needs of road as far as last report still existed, but would likely be supplied by the Lessee. If recommendations he had made had been made, the A. & N. C. would today be on a profitable basis, and in position to pay an annual dividend equal to the rental which it would receive from the Lessee.

The gross earnings were $381,832.80. All expenses $238,008.19. Net earnings $143,824.61. Permanent improvements and extraordinary expenses were paid leaving balance on hand $38,950.03.

An interesting part of the report was the showing of the road from 1890 to 1899, inclusive, under Chadwick, Hancock and Patrick, the road's net earnings under these administrations were $437,836.54, with a surplus at the end of ten years of $70,991.83. Under the Bryan administration from 1899 to 1904, five years, the net earnings were $382,697.36.

President referred to the report of the investigating committee, which after an exhaustive research found only corrections in books and accounts of the road.

Referring to the roads earning during the five last years, the largest in its history, which showed an annual average increase of $38,754.12. The fact that the board of directors to be appointed by the State had been reappointed was a vindication of the reputation and character of old board.

After giving reference to the Lessee, and the terms of the lease, the report ended.

The committee appointed to revise the laws reported through Mr. Dempsey that the revision being made to meet new conditions, which places the Lessee's salary at $100, the Secretary at $300 per year. The bill was twice a year. The by-law providing proxy committee 24, was repealed, bringing it back to the old number, being H. R. Bryan, Jr., E. B. Hancock, J. H. Potter, J. J. Baxter, Dr. Henry H. Wooten, W. L. Arendell.

In motion, the reading of the committee reports were dispensed with, same being in pamphlet form.

Mr. L. Harvey, in behalf of State announced the following stockholders, J. A. Bryan, J. W. Grainger, O. M. Busbee, W. H. Bagley, W. H. Smith, J. C. Parker, R. W. Taylor, D. B. Hooker.

The following directors on part of private stockholders were elected, E. C. Bennett, Dempsey Wood, O. E. Foy, H. A. Neil.

The following were elected members of the Finance committee, G. H. Roberts, W. L. Kennedy, J. A. Meadows.

After the stockholders meeting adjourned, the directors met and elected J. W. Grainger of Kinston, President, and D. J. Broadhurst, of Goldsboro, Secretary and Treasurer for the ensuing year.

CAPTIVATING CARNIVAL.

The Third Day A Big Success. Good Business Done At All The Shows.

Fair skies favored the carnival yesterday and as usual the crowds began to assemble on the pike at an early hour in the evening. Barkers began their appeals, squawking set up their din in competition, the band blatted in, the familiar tones of "Bedelia" and "Blawatts" emanated from the merry-go-round and the third day had commenced with all its gaiety. Although the air is cool the crowd does not seem to mind it very much but on the contrary enjoy it rather than the sultry weather which prevailed on the first of the week.

The crowd was larger than that of the day before a large contingent coming up from Beaufort, Morehead City, Newport and the surrounding country. There were also large representations from Oglethorpe, Jones and Pamlico counties who taking advantage of the low rates on the railways and the good condition of the roads, visited New Bern with the one purpose of seeing the big show.

The Fire and Flame show is a living picture concern which is attracting attention and interest. It presents two series of pictures; one a fire scene taken from life involving the operations of a big city fire department from the time the alarm is sent in until the fire is out. It is an exciting scene and well portrayed. The other series is suggested by the New York Herald's funny supplement here, or villain whichever he may be, in the person of Buster Brown. It is a ludicrous assembly of the pranks of the youngster and amuses all both young and old.

OPENING NIGHT

The New Masonic Theatre Has Its First Entertainment.

After many years of waiting the theatre going people have got a good play house and one which they will not be ashamed of for there is scarcely an opera house in the State that is better appointed with a stage which will compare favorably with any, for size or convenience. A flood of light which gives cheer and radiance; comfortable chairs and apartments for those who would seek a resting place between acts, the new theatre presents all the accoutrements that any city play house can boast of. No one can truthfully say that it is unsafe in case of fire as special attention has been paid to that matter and there are five easy exits and even should there be a panic there would be no danger.

One of the lessees Mr. James Cowan, of Wilmington who was present at the entertainment is highly pleased with the remodeled house and takes great pride in it.

To Mr. Matthews, the local manager is due the credit for the practical convenience of the place. He has taken a personal interest in the construction and has been an able assistant to Mr. Simpson the architect whose intimate knowledge of the needs of a modern opera house enabled him to use common sense ideas in the building.

Not one word too much of praise can be given the Ted Faust minstrels. They stand peerless in the realm of entertainers. From the time the curtain rose on an almost enchanted scene to the last act the minstrels were thoroughly enjoyed. As musicians both vocal and instrumental they compare favorably with the best. As comedians they are not only funny but original in their fun which fast adds zest to their show.

The first part is spectacular scene entitled "In Old Mexico" in this part the costumes are gorgeous in the extreme and yet blending nicely with the surrounding the main garments which they all wore, having a beautiful and harmonious effect. The songs were all new and were sung with rare melody. The orchestra met every requirement of a first class body of musicians.

The burnt cork artists were irresistible from every point of view and their part in the program was highly enjoyed.

A feature reserved till the last which deserves special attention was the acrobatic performance of the Faust Family. They consist of wonderfully clever and agile athletes. The smallest did not over six gives evidence of great patience and endurance, while the entire family strike the spectator with amazement at the perfect exhibition of acrobatic work.
