NEW BERN, N. C., September 23, 1904

THE A & N C NOT A DEAD ISSUE.

Some of the Journal's esteemed State contemporaries are giving thanks that the Atlantic and North Carolina railroad is now a dead issue, no more to spring up like a jack-in-the-box, and frighten or intimidate men, persons and things, to affect politics or become a stirring issue to make of said State administrations.

The Atlantic and North Carolina railroad may not be the strenuous thing it has been, but it is not dead by any means, and it is likely to prove obnoxious to men and political parties in the future, and in a way to cause alarm and concern to those whom it comes in contact with.

Like many other things said by the unknowing about the A. & N. C. road, it is most absurd to think that a mere lease relieves the influence which this road exerts upon this section to nothing, or that this property which has a potent factor in many ways upon this section for fifty years, can be taken out of action by the signing of a lease, no matter whom the lessee may be.

The lease of the A. & N. C. removes it in some ways from being an active political factor throughout the entire State, but it will not subvert it as a factor in the section which it traverses, for its influence is going to remain, for a time, long or short, as certain politics may determine.

In the charge of management, there is going to be much concern over the A. & N. C. and those living along its line are keen to see what is going to develop out of the many promises made. While the management lives up to its promises and gives the business interests their full share of transportation and other favors, there are going to be many times when falling promises and indifferent attention are going to provoke some harsh criticisms.

All this promises copy for the printer and reading for the public, so that the A. & N. C. is going to still figure prominently in the headlines.

It may not be the old cry of "lease," but it is just as well to remember that the A. & N. C. occupies a prominent news section of North Carolina, and will be heard from very often.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, since cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

A THRILLING PLAY

The Village Parson a Drama Full of Startling Situations.

There are many exciting situations and interesting scenes that appeal to the emotions of the heart in "The Village Parson" which begins an engagement at the New Masonic Theatre Tuesday night, Sept. 27th.

The play is built with much cleverness and effect, depicting the life of a clergyman, whose happiness has been clouded by supposed unfaithfulness of his wife. The plot brings out a rascally lawyer, whose sole ambition is to separate husband and wife, so that he may gain her love and fortune. In this he has been assisted by his brother, for whom he has little or no respect.

In order to accomplish his purpose of deceitfulness, he sends an incriminating letter to the wife which by chance falls into the hands of the parson. The parson, whose whole heart has been wrapped up in his wife's welfare, changes on reading its contents. The wife, noble and true, clings to her husband who sprang from him, and a very strong scene between them is the result. As the play progresses, it finally brings about a joyous reconciliation and the guilty are punished. The play is elaborately put on in four acts with genuine comedy neatly interwoven.

Seats will be on sale at Waters store Monday September 26.

Prices, main floor $1.00 and 75 cents, balcony, 75 and 50 cents.

For Kickers Only

There is a disposition on the part of some people whose characteristic is best described by the principal word in the heading above, to criticize the management of the new Masonic Theatre, on account of the prices they charge for admission to the shows. They complain that they never have paid such prices and that it is robbery to ask it.

In defense of the management the Journal desires to state that while the prices are higher, we are getting a higher class of entertainments and we are merely paying for what we get. It is generally expected that the opening night of a theatre the prices will be somewhat in advance of what they are usually and such prices are paid without question, people taking into consideration the fitness of things. For instance, at Wilmington the high water price of five dollars a seat was paid. (Only one dollar is asked for the choice of seats in the new Masonic theatre. These prices are not exorbitant and the management cannot accept less.

Moreover, it is well to state that the scale of prices here is the same as paid at Raleigh, Wilmington and Charlotte. We are getting the same entertainments and they are the best on the road traveling through the south.

The next play, "The Village Parson," which appears here next Tuesday comes directly from Raleigh and goes from here to Wilmington, making a circuit. None of the plays produced here are presented at opera houses in towns or small cities.

Mr. Bestie Dead.

He leaves an aged mother, four brothers, two sisters and five children to mourn their loss.

He was a member of the Baptist church at the time of his death; first a member of the Christian Church but going to the Baptist by the request of his wife, she always believed in the Church of Christ as the only true Church.

So weep not for Jesus is gone to prepare a place for them that love him.

No he is gone home to be at peace with God to await the coming of the dear ones left behind.

A precious one from us is gone, The voice we loved is still A place is vacant in his home Which never can be filled.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS.

Forty million bottles of August Flower sold in the United States alone since its introduction! And the demand for it is still growing. Isn't that a fine showing of success? Don't it prove that August Flower has had unflinching success in the cure of indigestion and dyspepsia—the two greatest enemies of health and happiness? Does it not afford the evidence that August Flower is a sure specific for all stomach and intestinal disorders?—that it has proved itself the best of all liver regulators? August Flower has a matchless record of over thirty-five years in curing the ailing millions of these distressing complaints—a success that is becoming wider in its scope every day, at home and abroad, as the fame of August Flower spreads. Trial bottles, 25c; regular size 75c. For sale by all druggists. F. S. Duffey.
