Colonial Dames In Session. President Geo T. Winston Takes a Vacation Football Playing Begins.

Raleigh, Sept. 29.—The North Carolina Colonial Dames in session here today, appointed a committee to confer with the City authorities regarding the removal of the Andrew Johnson house to Pullen Park, where it can be the better preserved. It is a tumble down shack now and as the birthplace of one of the presidents, they desire to make sure of the preservation. The removal seems assured.

An urgent call will be issued within the next few days for the business men of Raleigh to decorate elaborately this year for the re-opening of the State Fair. The list of Marshals for the fair will be announced within the next few days. The largest and most successful fair in the history of the State is assured.

President Geo T. Winston left today for a few days rest and recreation. His arduous work in connection with grappling the senior class uprising, in addition to the regular duties in connection with the opening of the college have so overtaken him that a rest is absolutely necessary the physicians say. He is receiving hundreds of letters congratulating him on the stand he took in maintaining the discipline of the college.

Governor Aycock will get into the State campaign Oct 1-1, and he is in the thick of the fight from that time to the election. His first speech will be at Smithfield. Most of his speeches will be in the western part of the State.

The A & M Football team will go to Lexington, Va., Saturday to play the V M I. On the following Saturday they will oppose the Clemson College team at Charlotte and then on Oct. 15th they play the University of Virginia at Charlottesville. The A & M team has made a most excellent beginning of the season, having defeated Guilford College by a score of 59 to nothing.

ALLOWANCES DISALLOWED.

The Latest Held-up Attempt of the McBoe-Finch Gang Failed.

Special to Journal.

Raleigh, Sept. 29.—Judge Parnell in Federal court made final order in noted Cuyler-Finch receivership suit against the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad Company which was dismissed a few days ago except as to the issuing order for the allowances to complainants and their counsel. The Judge declines to make any allowance at all, holding that there is no force in the argument of the complainants' counsel.

Allowances are governed by statute 1851, being held the same as the allowances in equity being in discretion of court.

Greenough and Pettus cases are cited, the one establishing the rule when fund is administered and other when property is in custody of court and administered thereby. It is then held that there being no decree except of dismissal and property of A & N C having been in custody of Court only temporarily there was no special benefit to property hence in discretion of the court it is not considered that it is proper cause for allowance.

As to the petition of K S Finch for allowance, the court says that plaintiff being an interpleader and his petition having no effect. He being only appointed co-receiver he is entitled to nothing.
