EDUCATIONAL NOTINGS.

Education is the work of a life, and libraries are the school books of grown up men.

Of all imaginable things we have selected music as the basis of our teaching; for level roads run out from music on every side.

It is the material impression which makes the beginning, even to every more elevated taste.

The true scholar learns from the known to unfold the Unknown, and approaches more and more to being a master.

I picture the whole instruction of the young as running on two lines—one for the understanding and the other for the feeling and imagination.

What is shown should be shown fundamentally so that it remains a lasting possession.—Herbert.

In a rational course of instruction the national classics should be studied so much as those of antiquity. To know Latin and Greek is a great intellectual luxury, but to know one's own language is an intellectual necessity.

News in a Nutshell.

An invitation will be extended to the President of the United States to open the Lewis and Clark Exposition next year at Portland Oregon, by closing an electric circuit in Washington which will put in motion the machinery, unfurl the flags and pennants and discharge a salute of 191 guns.

The German liner Kaiser Wilhelm II arrived in New York after a narrow escape from a collision Monday, bringing many notable persons.

The Japanese government established tobacco monopoly, buying the business of the American Tobacco Company in that Empire.

The 1007 public schools of Porto Rico opened with 60,000 pupils. In the first school year during American occupation there were 800 schools, with 25,000 pupils.

Mrs Maybrick will sing the Holy City in Theodore Kromer's new play, "Injustice" which is founded on her trial and imprisonment.

An attempt was made to burn the Oatrich farm, located in Woolsey, a suburb of Asheville. The perpetrators of the crime failed to destroy the farm, but succeeded in burning all the valuable plumage and other articles.

MUST BELIEVE IT.

When Well-known New Bern People Tell it so Plainly.

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of New Bern the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony.

Every backache sufferer, every man, woman or child with any kidney trouble will find profit in the reading.

A. L. Bryan officer in the police department residing at 138 East Front street says:

"My back was so bad that when I got down on the bed I could scarcely get up. There was no strength in my back and it ached all over. I thought I had rheumatism. The kidney secretions were dark colored and full of sediment. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and procured a box at Benjamin's Pharmacy and used it. The very first dose helped me and after finishing the first box I bought a second. The pain in my back disappeared and I was stronger and better in every way. I am grateful for what this remedy did for me and you are welcome to use my name as an endorsement of his claims."

An Unusual Play.

An attraction of unusual merit, one which has scored successfully throughout the entire country, will have its first southern presentation this season.

"The Fatal Wedding" takes its title from the fourth and last act of the play, which shows the interior of Grace Church, illuminated at night, while a wedding ceremony is in progress. The adventuress is shot to death by her paramour as she is about to utter the sacred words that would have wrecked the life of the man she was about to marry.

A more telling or dramatic climax has never been imagined. The denouement serves to reunite a separated husband and wife who have become estranged through the evil influence of a wanton woman, and the audience goes home happy because of the fact that the two lovers at last emerge from darkness and despair into the assured bliss of the future.

Particularly charming is the character of "The Little Mother," splendidly portrayed by Miss Lottie Fairfield. It is a pathetic picture she presents in the squalor of her attic home, supporting and protecting her invalid mother and brother by caring for the other children in the alley.

A Galaxy of Beauty.

Lots of pretty girls, sweet catchy music, a gorgeous display of gowns of the present day's latest creations, and the various stage accessories to match, a raging riot of rapid repartee and side-splitting scenes and comic sights is something like what is claimed for the new musical farce by Frank Dumont, called "Happy Hooligan" to be presented at New Masonic Theatre on Monday, October 3rd.

It has some of the prettiest music that has been written in a decade, and the comedy is sparkling with rapid fire, wit and the hundred or more ludicrous, laughable, humorous situations that arise from that well-meaning, very oblong and extremely polite individual "Happy Hooligan" who always comes to grief.

The cast includes the names of the following well-known people, John Price, Frank McNish, Ruby Raymond, Chas Gramlich, Eva Thatcher, Charles Sanders, Joseph Pettenji, and a chorus of twenty well-selected and carefully trained girls with excellent voices.

Happy Hooligan will be with us Monday, Oct 3rd.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a humming sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; also cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

THE BOILED DINNER'S PANE.

How the Old North State took the Launch for a Grand Affair of Gastronomy.

The fame of the North Carolina boiled dinner has traveled abroad.

It has got into the Effete New England States and created such a commotion that the populace after partaking of the delicious viands feel like exclaiming enthusiastically: "If not grammatically 'Where are we at?'"

At the 250th anniversary of the city of Northampton, Mass., last June a discussion of old colonial times developed the fact that the boiled dinner was a feature which was absolutely necessary to a faithful description of those days long since past. A lengthy description of the methods used in getting up this sumptuous repast was written for the Springfield (Mass.) Republican by Charles Hallock.

The article of local interest to this section of the country and we publish it believing it will do much in refreshing the memories of old times.

The article says:— I suppose the Yankees of the period thought they had the ne plus ultra of formulas for a boiled dinner, and I for one, used to think so myself when I sat down to such a feast in old New Hampshire county, in the first half of the past century. But I have since partaken in North Carolina of boiled dinners whose ingredients and style of menu would take the rag off the New England spread.

You all know, perhaps, that the Old North State was settled in large part by Scotch Presbyterians who emigrated from their native heaths two centuries ago, bringing with them very much the same religious creed and forms of worship, and the worldly tastes, traits and habits of the earlier Puritans and Pilgrim fathers. Indeed, there are no two States in the union whose people are so homogeneous as those of the hill portions of northwestern Massachusetts and North Carolina.

They showed the similarity in the colonial and Revolutionary times, socially and politically, and they have shown it ever since in the trying times of our country's vicissitudes.

There is a much larger percentage of native Americans in North Carolina than any other State, and they cling to the old-time methods, the old-time houses, and the old-time utensils with greater tenacity than they do in the primitive little towns of northwestern Massachusetts, which are probably at the present time the nearest surviving types of the old New England community. I can take the reader into many parts of North Carolina, not only in the mountains, but in the eastern counties along the ocean coast, where old-fashioned land looms are still weaving homespun and carpets, and the weary leech stands under the rain spout at the end of the eaves, the big chimney is cracked with a pebble and whole corn is hulled in a kettle with lye and tallow candles are dipped, and spinning wheels are noisy in the evenings and boiled dinners typify the primitive feasts of our departed ancestors.

Such a dinner was given in the year 1892 by Mrs Knooze at Pollockville, Jones county, to a number of appreciative guests, of which the writer was one; and as I kept tab on the menu at the time I am fortunately able to give an abstract la carte. The edibles were not boiled altogether and served together as in New England, but separately, as given in the appended specifications:

- Boiled ham, fresh and salt
- Boiled salt pork
- Sausages
- Souce (pig's feet and ears)
- Scrapple, or sucklings
- Chitterlings (hog's entrails cleaned white, and looking like boiled macaron)
- Boiled sweet potatoes
- Boiled pork and turneps
- Collards (a tree Cabbage).
- Onions, Head cheese, Boiled tripe
- Dried persimmons stewed

Endeavor to Pardon Boyette.

An effort is being made to obtain a pardon for Emmet Boyette who shot and killed his wife about a year ago at her home in Kinston. Boyette was sentenced to a life term in the penitentiary and to be confined in the ward for the insane convict.

It is asserted that he has regained his reason and therefore it is maintained by his attorneys, Messrs E M Land and G V Cowper, that Boyette is confined in violation of the State and United States laws.

An application for a writ of habeas corpus was made to Judge Ferguson Wednesday but the latter for the Supreme court to decide.

The Supreme court has an important question to settle in the Boyette matter as to the constitutionality of the law affecting insane criminals.

An order has been placed on file that the case be advanced on the docket so that a hearing and decision may be reached at an early date.

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Science has proved that Dandruff is caused by a Germ.
Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no halt preparation has hitherto proved a successful cure until Newcomb's Hairdye was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it eats the dandruff, causing itching, itching, itching, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair will grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send 15c in stamps for sample to The Hairdye Co., Detroit, Mich.

A Card.

Bellar, N. C, Sept 28th.

Ed Journal:
Dear Sir:—I would like to state through your paper my political convictions, and why I wish to make this statement is this:

"The Register of Deeds informs me that I am appointed a republican judge of the election in November." If this be the case I wish to make this statement:

1st. My great grand father, Wilcox, carried a flint and steel musket under Gen Nathaniel Green and helped to lick Lord Cornwallis at the memorable battle of Guilford court house.

He was a democrat.

My grand father (though not a Wilcox) helped to elect "Old Hickory" Andrew Jackson, voting for him three times. He was a democrat.

My father was a Wilcox and voted a democratic ticket when he was 21 years old and voted for ten democratic nominees (or voted 10 times for them) making a little period of 40 years. He once whipped a man because he differed with him in politics. He was a democrat.

For twenty years I have voted for Grover Cleveland and William Jennings Bryan. The nearest I ever came to voting a republican ticket was for Daniel Stimson, when he ran for sheriff against major Hahn. We voted then a coalition ticket to defeat Hahn.

This shows the date of my democracy.

Now let me say in conclusion. I have been accused of serving a term in the county jail, for forgery for swindling and many other charges, but never before have I been so rattled by anything as being appointed a republican judge of our election.

Whenever I serve in this capacity I will change my name for I would not have the dead for three generations rise "in sack cloth and ashes."

GEO S WILCOX.

Not a Judge.

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS.

Forty million bottles of August Flower sold in the United States since its introduction! And the demand for it is still growing. Isn't that a fine showing of success? Don't it prove that August Flower has had unfailing success in the cure of indigestion and dyspepsia—the two greatest enemies of health and happiness?—Does it not afford the evidence that August Flower is a sure specific for all stomach and intestinal disorders?—that it has proved itself the best of all liver regulators? August Flower has a marvelous record of over thirty-five years in curing the ailing millions of those distressing complaints—constipation, flatulence, biliousness, indigestion, heartburn, nervous headache, and all those annoying ailments which are so common to us all. August Flower is the only medicine of its kind which is purely vegetable, and contains no harmful or poisonous ingredients. It is the only medicine of its kind which is purely vegetable, and contains no harmful or poisonous ingredients. It is the only medicine of its kind which is purely vegetable, and contains no harmful or poisonous ingredients.
