As Good As A Dinner.

"For Her Children's Sake," from the pen of Theodore Kremer and under the management of Sullivan, Harris & Woods, will be the attraction at the New Masonic Theatre tonight.

This strong play, which is a companion piece to the celebrated Sullivan, Harris & Woods' success. The story is spirited and the interest is very human and absorbing, never flagging from the start, and the spectator goes away from the theatre pleased with himself and surroundings. A play is very much like a dinner. If one sees a good play, or eats a good dinner there is an indelible inward satisfaction. If the dinner is poor, and likewise the play, there is a distinct disappointment, but in the case of "For Her Children's Sake," it is promised that there will only be satisfaction. A strong company headed by Miss Helena Collier, sister to Willie Collier, has been engaged to enact the play.

SUPERIOR COURT

Friday's Session Consumed Almost Entirely by the Trial of Capital Case.

The case against Alex Sutton which was continued from Thursday's session was taken up yesterday morning, and the examination of the witnesses concluded. The evidence was very strong against Sutton, and at one time it looked as though he had a slim chance for his life. Counsel for defendant, although having but little on which to make up a defence made a hard fight and the State made a strong argument for conviction. It was about 3:30 when the case was given to the jury, and in a few minutes they had agreed upon a verdict. The Judge in his charge instructed them if they did not find the defendant guilty of the crime named in the bill of indictment they might return a verdict modifying the offense, which was that the prisoner at the bar has "stood convicted of attempting to commit rape upon the person of Ruth Reddick."

This was the case sent up from Adams Creek last June, both persons being colored.

Case against C. B. Williams for defamation of character was called but Williams failed to answer, so a noli prosequi was entered and capias issued. The court required that the defendant be required to give a bond of $400 for his appearance at the next term of court.

Alfred Brown who purloined a pair of trousers from the store of Mike Joudy an Assyrian merchant in the Five Points, was found guilty of larceny and sent to the roads for 12 months.

John Gilmore plead guilty to stealing a bicycle and he likewise got a 12 month sentence on the roads.

Will Cannon returning from Norfolk on the Ocracoke, was convicted of stealing $23 from a fellow passenger, named Sam Foville, and was sent to the penitentiary for three years. About $15 dollars of the stolen money was recovered by the city authorities which amount the court directed the Mayor to pay to Foville in part restitution for his loss.

Court took a recess a few minutes after five in the afternoon until 9:30 this morning.
