Once a Year Christmas, Birthdays and the circus come but once a year.

Once a year is also seldom enough to have your Piano tuned and put in order for season's use. Are you waiting for a better opportunity? Others are improving the present one, why not you? Only a few more days in this week. Only a short time in which to avail yourself of the services of a tuner of 20 years experience.

Local School Taxation. Political Guess. Raleigh Free From Blind Tigers. Murderer Granted New Trial. Treasurer Lacy Goes West.

Raleigh, Oct. 12.—At the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, it is announced that two districts, in Rutherford and Lincoln counties have voted in favor of local taxation for their public schools. A great deal of this work has been done this year, but next year it is to be pressed to a remarkable degree.

United States Senator Overman spent last night here. He looks extremely well and enjoys the campaign. He says the Democrats will of course make a complete sweep of the State. The Republican fight to get the legislature does not amount to anything at all.

The number of rural free delivery mail carriers in the State has now reached 718, notice having been today received here of the appointment of three, William A. T. Litchfield, Aurora; Joseph A. Ellis, Corapeake; Adam B. Spencer, Oxford.

In an interview with Charles E. Johnson, one of the leading cotton buyers here, regarding the crop in this section, he said there is not a short crop, but that it will be as large as last year. The local receipts are light for several reasons, among these being the fact that many, if not most of the growers are waiting for the ten cent figure, while all are availing themselves of the remarkably favorable weather for picking, hot weather which has forced cotton to open with great rapidity. As a result they have been picking and putting the cotton away. Labor is very hard to get. A farmer who was here today said he had a field of 40 acres which he had not been able to touch because he could not get hands to pick it.

Manager W. P. Bachelor of the Raleigh Dispensary when asked today whether he thought there were many blind tigers here, said he did not think there were. He gave as a reason that every morning there was a regular run of customers who would not show up if blind tigers were open. He says that people would rather buy from a legitimate place than run the risk of buying from blind tigers and added that it does not pay to run a blind tiger in a dispensary town as not enough sales can be secured to make it pay for the risk. The business of the dispensary has increased somewhat this far in October as compared with September. The business during the year will be larger than was expected.

The State grants a charter to the Wadesboro live stock company, which will fatten and sell cattle, and also deal in other live stock.

The Supreme court grants William Adams, colored, a new trial on account of an error in the charge to the jury by the Superior court judge. Adams' crime was the murder of Mary Bridgers and one of her children, at her home a few miles east of Raleigh last spring. The judge's error was instructing the jury that the house was robbed and that the woman was killed deliberately. The Supreme court also holds that the bondsmen of Thomas W. Dewey, the defaulting New Bern Bank cashier, are not liable for his default, and also holds that the private bondsmen of W. H. Martin, the defaulting clerk of ex-State Treasurer W. H. Worth not liable. The court holds that the act known as the emigrant act, requiring a license to be paid by persons who take laborers out of the State is valid.

Passenger and Freight Connections With Beaufort.

Beginning Oct. 15th the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad will sell through tickets and issue through bills of lading for freight to, and from Beaufort, N. C., instead of to Morehead City as heretofore. This arrangement was brought about by a contract signed today, by the Howland Improvement Co., lessee of the A. & N. C. and the Beaufort Morehead City and Ocracoke Steamship Co., under which the latter company agrees to handle all the railroad's freight and passenger business between Beaufort and Morehead City. The railroad will establish a warehouse and agency at Beaufort. This will be in effect an extension of the railroad to the latter place, and is an arrangement that the people living there have long desired.

Osman Hoyt Stock Co at the Opera House All Next Week.

Commencing next Monday night Oct. 17th, the Osman Hoyt Stock Co, support the beautiful young emotional actress, Miss Helene Rucks, will open a week's engagement at the new Masonic Theatre presenting a repertoire of the late New York successes. They will present on Monday night the beautiful emotional drama, Woman against Woman, a play that touches the hearts of all.

Between the acts the latest and most up-to-date specialties will be introduced making a continuous performance. The company numbers seventeen people and is considered the strongest repertoire organization touring the South.

Seats on sale Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. Prices 15, 25, and 35c. Special Ladies and Children's matinee Saturday.

Big Fire at Grifton.

The steam saw mill and grist mill plant of Keene & Kittrell at Grifton was totally destroyed by fire which was discovered at three o'clock Wednesday morning. The origin of the fire is not known.

The loss is considerable, though the exact figures are not known. The firm had just installed a $1,200 dry kiln plant last spring.

His Coat of Arms. "Now that you are wealthy, Mr. C.," said the man who deals in pedigrees and the like, "you really should begin to adopt a coat of arms." "I'll do just as I please," retorted Mr. C. hotly. "If I like to go about in my shirt sleeves, that ain't none of your business!"

A Head Hero. "You don't believe in divorce, then?" "No, sir; I've got too much sportin' blood." "What has that to do with it?" "I believe in a fight to the finish." Philadelphia Ledger.

A MATTER OF HEALTH

HATCHING BY HEAT.

The Principle of Incubation Has Been Used For Ages. The ancient Egyptians from time immemorial have hatched large quantities of eggs by artificial warmth, applied through peculiar but simple ovens.

Bonnemann, in 1777, was the first in more recent times to put the process upon a sound commercial footing. He communicated to the Academy of Sciences an interesting fact he had noticed upon the method chickens used to break their shells, and for some time before the revolution he furnished the Parisian markets with poultry at a time of the year when farmers ceased to supply it.

His apparatus was founded upon the principle of the circulation of hot water through a series of connected pipes, a novelty which was afterward applied to the warming of buildings. Water saucers were placed in the egg drawers to keep up the necessary moisture, and twenty eggs were fastened daily for twenty days, when the first brood appeared. In 1825 D'Arce obtained chickens by hatching eggs in the warm water baths of Vichy.

Modern incubators are essentially water baths, with an automatic regulator to keep the temperature to 40 degrees C.

MINERAL WOOL.

A Valuable Product From What Was Once Regarded as Waste. Mineral wool is a soft substance consisting of a mass of very fine mineral fibers, which interlace one another in every direction and thus form an endless number of minute air cells. It is made quite simply, by directing a blast of steam against a stream of molten slag. Some of the best is made from blast furnace slag, an admirable illustration of the value of what was once regarded as a waste product.

The slag is melted in a large cupola, and as it trickles out of the tap hole it meets a high pressure steam jet which blows it in feecy clouds into the storage room provided for it. The heavier wool naturally settles down first, while the lighter portions are blown further along by the force of the steam, and so the material naturally sorts itself.

Mineral wool is fireproof and may be used as a sound insulator between the floors of buildings; it also serves as a non-conducting covering for cold storage chambers and for pipes. For this last purpose the wool that is made from sandstone is best, for it contains no sulphur, which, when moisture is present, is a corroding agent.

Saves Two From Death.

"Our little daughter had an almost fatal attack of whooping cough and bronchitis," writes Mrs. W. K. Haviland, of Armonk, N. Y., "but, when all other remedies failed, we saved her life with Dr. King's New Discovery. Our niece, who had Consumption in an advanced stage, also used this wonderful medicine and today she is perfectly well." Desperate throat and lung diseases yield to Dr. King's New Discovery as to no other medicine on earth. Infallible for Coughs and Colds. 50c and $1.00 bottles guaranteed by G. D. Broadhead.
