SOMETHING DOING IN LOCAL POLITICS.

The announcement in this issue of the Journal, of the legislative and county Republican tickets, is likely to prove of interest and be something of a stimulant in local political circles, which up to this time has been decidedly dull and listless.

The names on the tickets above referred to, are of citizens known to every one in this county, and there is no doubt that the tickets will secure a following of respectable proportions, certainly greatly larger than the same tickets had in the last election, when less than one hundred votes were cast for the Republicans nominated.

While it cannot be said that the Democratic nominees who are opposed to the Republicans, are in any danger of being defeated on November 8th, it is not the part of wisdom for them to be heedless, and so permit their opponents to secure a large vote which shall have its effect upon future elections in this county.

An analysis of the ticket shows that the Democratic nominee of Sheriff has been endorsed by the Republicans, and several of those upon the tickets have hitherto affiliated with the Democratic party, and this feature of what may be termed the new Republicanism, is not without its dangerous effect in its future results upon Democratic interests in this section.

With a little more than three weeks before the election there is much that the leaders of Democracy can and should do to tighten up and strengthen their lives, for there is always the greatest danger in over confidence, and a risk in under estimating the force a political enemy.

Women of 200 B C Dressed as Women of 1904.

Mr Arthur Evans, the Oxford archaeologist, who has made so many interesting discoveries in the so-called palace of Minos, in Crete, has found in a subterranean sanctuary certain very ancient small, earthenware statues representing some goddess and two of her servants.

PERILS OF LAND AND SEA

Captain Willmet's Remarkable Escape Shows What to do in Time of Trouble.

For many years, Captain Willmet, says the Times of Gloucester, Mass., was one of the best known seamen in the Gloucester Fleet. The sea and its dangers had no terror for him, but the extraordinary troubles with which he suffered for fifteen years made him dread the nights at sea, for he had to walk the cabin floor, being unable to lie down and sleep on account of the constant diarrheal dropping.

Captain Willmet went to two different hospitals for treatment, but could get no lasting benefit. He constantly raised yellow and green phlegm and his trouble became so unbearable and necessitating that he was obliged to go out to sea.

When despairing of ever getting relief, his wife purchased a Hyonol outfit for him, and trying it before going to bed, he enjoyed the first whole night's sleep for ten years. Captain Willmet says "I have used less than two bottles of Hyonol and have been cured by the remedy. My friends ask me what is responsible for my improvement, and I tell them Hyonol, which has given me full and complete recovery."

Captain Willmet's experience shows our readers what to do in time of other ailments, - see Hyonol. This remarkable little treatment kills the germs of disease and makes lasting and permanent cures. F. J. Drury with Hyonol under his personal guidance is prepared to supply it if it does not give you relief.

"Story of Dolly Varden."

The story of Strange and Edwards most successful comic opera which will be presented at the New Masonic Theatre next Tuesday night Oct. 25th under the direction of Mr F O Whitney very briefly told is as follows: "Dolly Varden" a very winsome and very demure country girl, has been left a fortune by her father, and is the ward of Jack Fairfax, an old time friend. Fairfax, who is a wealthy country gentleman and a bachelor resolves to make Dolly his wife. Dolly does not entirely acquiesce, so he selfishly keeps her from meeting eligible young men. Although Miss Dolly is sweet and demure, she determines to see more of the world than is circumscribed by the limits of Hampshire, her country home. Finally, the wedding of Letitia Fairfax, Jack's maiden sister, to Lord Gayspark, a man of the butterfly world, who lives in a great splendor at Beauchamp Towers, London-on-Thames is announced. After a great deal of hesitancy, Fairfax announces to Dolly that they will go up to London to the wedding. In London Dolly's rare comeliness creates a sensation. They go to the Theatre, where a dashing young army officer, Dick Belleville, falls in love with Dolly, at first sight, and the admiration proves to be mutual. Dolly admires everything and everybody, and as the fascination London life seems to have for Dolly is dangerous to Fairfax's chances, he determines to keep a closer watch on her than ever. Captain Belleville seeks an introduction which is denied him, so, with the help of Letitia, a secret interview in the park with Dolly is planned. Disguised as a midshipman of the navy she escapes her guardian. Fairfax learns of the clandestine meeting, and as soon as Dolly returns he compels her to write a note to Belleville, informing him she will not see him again. While Fairfax is out of the room temporarily Dolly writes another letter to Dick in which she re-assures him of her love, and tells of the circumstances under which the letter is written. Fairfax delivers the substituted letter, and thereby spoils his own game. Then by plot and counter plot, disguised and subterfuge, at which Fairfax is outwitted at every turn, Dick and Dolly have their own way. Letitia, in the meantime, finds that Lord Gayspark is seeking her hand for her money only, and throws him over for handsome Captain Harcourt of H M S "Dolphin" and then the bells of Beauchamp Towers ring out right merrily for the double wedding. The time in which Mr Strange has said "Dolly Varden" is 1780. The period lends itself admirably to elegant costuming and to picturesque stage setting.

The Two Orphans Tonight.

The Osman-Hoyt Stock Company will appear again tonight in the meta-drama, "The Two Orphans," the dramatization of a popular story. The play is one which creates a heart interest in every sentence. It has a splendid moral lesson and abounds in good sentiment. It is a play to make one a better person.

CAKING BEE

Not cannot afford to grow old. In the city of Craven, competition it is necessary to maintain, as long as possible one's youthful appearance. It is impossible to do this without retaining a luxurious growth of hair. The presence of Dandruff indicates the presence of a burrowing germ which lives and thrives on the roots of the hair until it causes total baldness. Newberry's Herpicide is the only known destroyer of this pest, and it is as effective as it is delightful to use. Herpicide makes an elegant hair dressing as well as a Dandruff cure. Accept no substitute - there is none. Sold by leading druggists. Send 25c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

STRAIN TOO GREAT.

Hundreds of New Bern Readers Find it so.

The hustle and worry of business. The hard work and stooping of workmen. The woman's household cares. Are too great a strain on the kidneys.

Backache, headache, dizziness. Kidney troubles, urinary troubles follow.

A New Bern citizen tells you how to cure them all.

J H Orris plumber of 71 Craven St, residing at the end of Neuse bridge says:

"I suffered with a weak back which started from a wrench I gave my back when seventeen years old and it has troubled me ever since, sometimes so badly I could not work. I seemed to lose all use of my back at times and was hardly able to stand, and could not straighten to save my life, especially when I took cold. I never thought of it coming from my kidneys. I used plaster after plaster and salves without number but without permanent relief. I saw notices about Doan's Kidney Pills and was induced to go to Bradham's Pharmacy for a box. They are a back-saver pill beyond doubt. I used them and have not had my former pained back since. My back has become well and strong. You can use my name as one who endorses the claims made for Doan's Kidney Pills and I am glad to hear you do so."
