On Part Russia For North Sea Affair.

Acute Stage of Outrage Over. Clear Understood To Be Willing To Make Full Apologies.

London, Oct. 25.—It is stated this morning that the situation growing out of the shelling of the British fishing vessels in the North Sea by the Russian Baltic fleet has already been adjusted in principle. Russia has agreed to make every amendment within reason. She desires, however, to hear fully the report from her own officers.

The main danger at present lies in the possibility of the St Petersburg authorities, falling fully to realize the red heat of English opinion and resort to dilatory and evasive tactics in adjusting the details. The remainder of the fishing fleet have been fully accounted for. Many, however, in their haste to get beyond the range of the Russian guns, lost nets and other valuable gear, for which Russia will be expected to pay for.

Premier Balfour arrived in London this morning. After answering telegrams he conferred with Foreign Secretary Lansdowne. King Edward at 11 o'clock left for New Market. This is taken to indicate the crisis has passed the acute stage inasmuch as otherwise his majesty would have remained in London.

St Petersburg, Oct. 25.—The Russian official coterie are sorely chagrined over the North Sea affair. They are especially upset by the biting sarcasm of the German comments on the incident. It is understood the matter has been placed in the hands of the czar and that his majesty has already made decision for full apologies and indemnity. Eating humble pie just now is peculiarly unreliable and will probably serve to greatly intensify the anti-English feeling in government circles.

Supreme Court Opinions.

Raleigh, October 25.—The Supreme Court filed the following opinions today:

Deal vs D & O Railroad, from Chatham, affirmed.
State vs Morgan, from Union, new trial.
Joyner vs Futrell, from Northampton, no error.
State vs Smith, from Richmond, per curiam, no error.

MESSAGE FROM FRATERNAL ORDERS.

Interesting News From Cincinnati With Local Confirmation in New Bern.

The thousands of members of fraternal bodies in this State will be interested in the following message from John Theobald, a prominent Forester who lives at 1111 York Street, Cincinnati, O.

Mr Theobald believes in living up to the motto of his organization, "Fraternal Love and Charity" and believes that he can do no more charitable act than to tell his experience in regaining health after years of suffering.

Mr Theobald writes, "For five years, I suffered with stomach troubles, having all the distress and misery that afflicts dyspeptics. I could not enjoy eating, thinking of the suffering that would follow. My food did not digest and although I took all kinds of medicines, I found nothing to help me until I used Mi-o-na. Thanks to this remarkable remedy, I am now a cured man and believe that it made a permanent and complete cure."

F B Duffy is local agent for Mi-o-na, nature's cure for dyspepsia.

It is in the form of small tablets and sells a 50c a box. The remedy has made so many and much remarkable cures amongst his customers, confirming Mr Theobald's statement, that he will give his personal guarantee with every box they sell to refund the money if it does not cure.

Do not suffer longer. Here is a cure that costs you nothing, unless it restores health. F B Duffy takes all the risk and you do not have to pay a penny unless you feel that you have received much more than your money's worth.

ACADEMY WINS ADMIRERS.

The Visit of Military Students to Raleigh Productive of Good Results.

The News and Observer of yesterday contained a fine article about the New Bern Military Academy. It was sent the visit of our students at the State Fair last week where they appear to have made a fine impression as the following will show:

New Bern has appeared in splendid shape in Raleigh this week, and this because a big company, some sixty strong, has visited the State Fair from the New Bern Military Academy and Carolina Business College.

Col. S J Holladay, the president of the academy and many members of the faculty were here with the cadets, who came on a special train that leaves on the return trip this morning in the beautifully decorated cars, which are made handsome with the college colors.

The representative company and its officers have made a most favorable impression in Raleigh and many words of praise have been heard concerning Col. Holladay's splendid school. The visit of the faculty and the cadets to Raleigh is calculated to make many staunch friends throughout the State for this growing institution.

The decorated cars in which the party came, attracted much attention. Across the side was the name of the institution, and at nearly every station between New Bern and Raleigh there was great interest, large crowds assembling to hear the lively college songs and yells, many cheers being given for the institution, which has a loyal body of students, young men who are proud of its record and of the advantages given them.

The visit to Raleigh has opened the eyes of many to the value of this institution at New Bern. The cadets are well drilled and are a fine set of young fellows, whose soldierly bearing and courtesy were the subject of much favorable comment in this city during their visit. The academy is a flourishing one and is growing, there being in attendance many students from other States besides North Carolina. It is the pride of Eastern North Carolina.

In a talk with Col. Holladay, a progressive and alert educator, it was learned that the prospects are bright for a largely increased attendance during the spring term, and that the future of the school has a solid foundation on which to build. Great improvements have recently been made in the plant and several thousand dollars have been spent in erecting and equipping new buildings, installing an electric light system, putting in water works and generally getting things into first class shape.

Col. S J Holladay, the President of the New Bern Military Academy, is also at the head of the Carolina Business College at New Bern, these being two separate and distinct schools located at different points in New Bern, having separate faculties, each of the institutions being incorporated. The president is an enthusiastic man, a teacher and organizer of ability while in every department of the two schools, he has specialists, these being educators trained at leading institutions of this country who some have received the best training abroad.

The Carolina Business College is under the immediate control of Major R O Granberry, the superintendent. He is a man of considerable experience in the work of business colleges, is able and energetic, the training that he gives being of the greatest value to students who desire to enter on a business life. In the college the very best systems are used, and this is so because of the business knowledge of the members of the faculty. Every graduate of the Carolina Business College is holding a pleasant and lucrative position, telling of the work done. The institution is equipped with everything necessary for a first class business college and its graduates are a unit in praise of the institution which has given them a "start" in life.

14 Polar Bears Together.

The strange, savage and beautiful living wonders of the Natural Kingdom have never been so comprehensively exhibited as they now are in the United States.

At the Raleigh menagerie which actually includes full fourteen living, full-grown Polar Bears, a greater number than even any explorer ever saw together at one time. Even the Ice Trust would wince at the cost and trouble involved in securing such a solid water congress.

Moreover, the entire collection is a rarely splendid one. It is full of interest and instruction, merits your attention, and the management hopes will receive it. The circus and hippodrome performances do not begin until an hour after the opening of the menagerie doors and at their conclusion you will have another chance to study these zoological treasures. Plenty of seats are provided for all in the huge hippodrome tent, so don't rush hastily to secure one. Take your time and see everything, for it is all well worth seeing.

SUITED EVERYBODY.

Dolly Varden With Tunesful Songs and Pretty Costumes.

The beautiful light opera "Dolly Varden" was given last night to a full house that testified to its approval with hearty applause which was gracefully acknowledged by encores. The costuming was fine and the musical program was a succession of pretty and melodious love songs. The chorus was pleasing and the orchestra excellent.

Miss Maud Hollins as Dolly Varden was entirely satisfactory and in the "Jay Bird" song received deserved applause as indeed she received in each part. Miss Rena Aubrey as "Lettie Fairfax" pleased all with her fine voice. The leading male voices were very good. Many thought that the quartette "Lovable Love" was perhaps the best presented but several other songs received very hearty applause. The figure dancing was especially graceful and taken all together the opera was as satisfactory as anything that has been presented in New Bern.

Broke Into His House.

S. Le Quin of Cavendish, Vt., was robbed of his customary health by invasion of Chronic Constipation. When Dr. King's New Life Pills broke into his house, his trouble was arrested and now he's entirely cured. They're guaranteed to cure, 25c at C D Bradham's Drug Store.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

There are too many people who lead better.

Show some people real diamonds and they will insist they are glass.

Faith, hope and charity should crowd up closer and make room for gratitude.

If a man lends money to his kin his next more fatal blunder is to let his wife know of it.

If a woman has faith in her husband it keeps the wrinkles off her face longer and also off his.

It is perhaps one of the most comforting things in life that a man's idea of what constitutes success changes as he grows older.

It is so much easier to say to the person with a grievance, "I wouldn't stand it if I were you" than to suggest that perhaps he is complaining too much.—Acheson Globe.

North Carolina's 78 Awards in St. Louis.

Raleigh, October 25.—Secretary T K Bruner of the State Agricultural Department has returned from the St. Louis Exposition, in which he holds a prominent position, by permission of the Agricultural Department. He will remain here until after the election and expects then to return to St. Louis and close up matters connected with the exposition.

He says North Carolina won about 78 awards at the Exposition, which is a really fine showing. The State got five grand prizes, ten or twelve gold medals, as many silver medals, the remaining awards being bronze medals. The grand prizes will be given on tobacco, mining exhibits and forestry. The showing was very gratifying indeed. No other State did nearly so well for so small investment, the cost of the display of the State being under $10,000. Almost all the exhibits will be brought back to North Carolina and installed in the State museum, a lot of very valuable new cases and other furniture coming with them, which will be used for the same purpose.

How to Cure Corns and Bunions.

First soak the corn or bunion in warm water to soften it; then pare it down as closely as possible without drawing blood and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily, rubbing vigorously for five minutes at each application. A corn plaster should be worn a few days to protect it from the shoe. As a general treatment for sprains, bruises, lameness and rheumatism, Pain Balm is unequaled. For sale by all druggists.
