

To My Friends and Customers:
I wish to announce that I now have on hand a few selected driving and farm horses, and will have within the next 30 days a full and varied stock of both Horses and Mules, which I will sell or trade on very close margin, promising to save you at least 15 per cent.
My father having sold his interests and business does in no manner restrict or affect me

The SPORTING WORLD
McGinnity's Great Work.
Joe McGinnity, the famous "iron man" of the New York Nationals, is awarded most of the credit for the victory of the New York Nationals in the pennant race.
McGinnity has won more games this season than any other twirler in the major leagues, and he says he is able to win a few more before the campaign closes.

JOE MCGINNITY, THE "IRON MAN,"
Early in the season McGinnity pitched twelve games without a single defeat. He invented the "rube" ball a year or two ago and now has a new curve which he calls the "cross fire." It is a variation of the outshoot.

The Trotting Season.
No matter how much the track owners and the governors of the National American Trotting association may dispute the fact, it is nevertheless apparent to a casual observer that the interest in professional harness racing is not as great today as it was a year ago.
There was a good deal of talk last winter and some little action taken toward remedying certain evils, but nothing sufficient was done, and as a consequence the questionable practices that characterized the big meetings of 1903 did fair to be duplicated.
Just why the various men who comprise the two governing associations cannot get together and revise certain rules and bylaws which now are either insufficient or actually inimical to the best interest of the sport is hard to understand. Improvements in racing gear, in shoeing and in track building are welcomed on the harness racing turf, but any innovation which means an improvement on the antiquated form of deciding races is vigorously opposed. In other words, mechanical advancement is all right, but moral advancement is all wrong.
It is to be hoped that the season of 1904 will show certain obstructionists in high places the error of their ways.

Humphreys and Hugh McGovern.
Joe Humphreys is now a pugilistic manager. He has started his string with Hugh McGovern.
Hugh is in good hands. Sam Harris finds that his new theatrical ventures will take up all his time and has turned his pugilistic interests over to Humphreys, who has been his general sporting representative for a long time.
Humphreys celebrated his debut as a manager by issuing a challenge to Tommy Murphy, which will make the New Yorker sit up and take notice.
"I stand willing and ready," says Humphreys, "to make a boss size match with Tommy Murphy for the banian championship of the east. I consider Murphy a tough proposition for any boy of his class, and as Hugh and I have made such a great showing against Frankie Nell I feel that a match between Murphy and Hugh would make the hottest kind of bout."

New Men For New York Americans.
The New York American club has purchased Third Baseman Joe Yeager and Catcher McManus from Montreal. Both have had major league experience. Yeager has played with Brooklyn and Detroit, and McManus with Detroit awhile. Yeager will be used as utility man, but it is not likely that either will join the New Yorks before next season.
"Red" Donlin is an example of what dislocation will do. This year he has a hitting average of .224 as against .301 the shade in former seasons. Follow Larry and wear decals.
The Best Selling "Champs."
In Boston it is said that some of the world's champions have failed to keep themselves in condition. In consequence they have slumped up, while other teams seem to go faster.
Cleveland's Giants.
There are now seven giants on the Cleveland team. Bernhard, Hess, Jones, Moore and Carr are all six footers, and Larry and Bradley are very near the six foot mark.
Stays Not Good Enough.
Dick Padden of the St. Louis Browns, who has done a lot of scouting among the minor leagues for players, does not think George Stone will last.
Confession of a Priest.
Rev. John B. Cox, of Wake, Ark., writes, "For 15 years I suffered from Yellow Jaundice. I consulted a number of physicians and tried all sorts of medicines, but got no relief. Then I began the use of Electric Bitters and feel that I am now cured of a disease that had me in its grasp for twelve years." If you want a positive medicine for Liver and Kidney troubles, Electric Bitters is proved beyond a doubt. It is prepared by J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Only 50c a bottle.

Woman's Nightmare
No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much as it is to love the beautiful an pure. The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend so prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always available, and has cured thousands of women through the trying crisis without suffering.

Mother's Friend
Our Beer and Germany's.
Germany having been for so many generations looked upon in every quarter of the globe as the special realm of Gambrinus, the drinkers of beer must be astonished to learn that in 1903 the Teutonic brewers made only 1,787,015,000 gallons of malt beverages, or 183,085,230 less than the quantity produced in the United States. Of course it is not to be forgotten that the population of this republic is much larger than that of the dominions of Kaiser Wilhelm, yet nevertheless it cannot be disputed that those are suggestive figures.
—New York Tribune.

Rubber Pavement.
In 1881 an incessantly and heavily traveled bit of street at the entrance to Boston station in London was experimentally paved with india rubber vulcanized for the purpose. A concrete foundation finished with cement to make it smooth was covered with two inches of this preparation, and when ready the wheels of traffic were turned upon it. They continued to roll over it without interruption until May, 1902, a period of twenty-one years, and in all that time the rubber had not worn through at any spot.
A Queer Pet.
The wife of the governor of North Borneo has a pet which few women will envy her. The governor's house is near a jungle, and from it strayed a baby rhinoceros. Captured as a curiosity, he at once became tame and refused to return to his native wilds. He consumes sixteen quarts of milk a day and on this diet thrives and grows fat. He might be mistaken for a queer sort of hog were it not for the horn in the middle of his face. He is devoted to his mistress and follows her about like a dog.
Equal.
"Darling, I love you."
The marquis stood with bowed head. "But," she protested shyly, "you have a noble name, while I have only my health and $50,000,000."
"Love levels all ranks," he whispered.
Moreover, when they came to discuss details it was discovered that her family, freshly sprung from obscurity though it was, had indubitable record of a scandal in which some respects laid over anything of which his long line could boast either in direct descent or collateral branches.—Detroit Tribune.

A Judicious Inquiry.
A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade says he has often heard druggists inquire of customers who asked for a cough medicine, whether it was wanted for a child or an adult, and if for a child they almost invariably recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know that there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it, and for coughs, colds and croup it is unsurpassed. For sale by all druggists.
