CABBAGE TESTS

At William Dunn Farm Quite Successful.

Masonic Temple Fund Now $100,000. Information Wanted From Fruit Growers. Pecan Growing. State Swamp Lands.

Raleigh, Nov 17--Grand Secretary John O. Drewry of the Grand Lodge of Masons says the Masonic Temple fund now reaches $100,000 and that $20,000 more is needed. It is decided, he states that work on the building will begin in the early spring. It may be that a canvasser will then be put at work in the State. Last year Francis D. Winston made a very successful canvass.

Secretary Parker of the Farmers State Alliance says work will be resumed Saturday, when State lecturer H. M. Cates goes to Johnston, to re-organize the order in that county, where there are now perhaps half a dozen sub-alliances. The work will be pushed in all parts of the State hereafter.

State horticulturist, Harold Hume, says that the tests of different varieties of cabbages at the William Dunn farm at New Bern are so far succeeding very well. The stand is good and the first week in December the plants will be set out in the field. There are 279 varieties, the greater number of which are unknown in North Carolina. Prof. Hume is preparing descriptive sheets about the apples of this State. These are on cards and a section of the peel of variety of apple is fastened on the card. The skins of apples preserve their rich colors for a great length of time, even for as long as 15 years.

State entomologist Franklin Sherman says he desires to get in touch with every fruit grower in the State with whom he has not had correspondence, who suspects the presence of the San Jose fruit scale. He asks that specimens of infested twigs be sent to him.

Prof. Hume desires the address of all persons in North Carolina who grow pecans or who contemplate growing these profitable nuts. He is preparing special illustrations of the best varieties of pecans. He will put a collection of all the kinds of the nuts in the State museum. Saturday evening he will address the students of Guilford college on forestry.

W. B. Rodman of Charlotte, who has charge of the matter of the sale of the State swamp lands held by the Board of Education, says that depositions on these lands have been considerably checked and are not so extensive as they have been. Of course there are always depositions, not only on these lands but on the lands of private persons.

The State grants a charter to the Behrens & Riley Furniture Co. of Wilmington, authorized capital stock $15,000.

The city physician says the health of Raleigh is now unusually good. He reports only one case of diphtheria and one of scarlet fever. There have been no persons in the small pox pest house since last spring. He says there are one or two cases of small pox in the county.

A photograph and description of the flag of the State used during the Civil War by troops will be sent to the flag committee of the United Confederate veterans, also the seal of the State. These are to be engraved and placed in a special volume.

MONTH'S MEDICINE ON TRIAL.

Generous Offer to all With Weak Digestion or Stomach Troubles.

With every box of M-I-O-S sold F. H. Duffy, gives the following plan and positive guarantee bond, assuring the purchaser that the money will be returned if after a month's use, the remedy has not given satisfaction.

GUARANTEE

I hereby agree to refund the money paid for M-I-O-S on return of the empty box, if the purchaser tells me that it has failed to cure dyspepsia or stomach troubles. This guarantee covers two 50c boxes, or a month's treatment. (Signed) F. H. Duffy.

Anyone whose food does not digest as it ought, who has to take thought about when and what to eat, should take advantage of this generous offer of F. H. Duffy.

M-I-O-S is almost invariably successful in curing stomach trouble of all kinds, from an acute attack of indigestion to a chronic case of indigestion. By its use new rich blood is made, the weight increased and health restored.

If M-I-O-S were not successful in 99 cases out of 100, an offer like this would be returned. This offer shows the great faith F. H. Duffy has in the health giving powers of M-I-O-S and you should begin its use at once. Try it for a month, say, if it fails to help you, the coin is immediately returned, while if it does what is claimed for it, the agreement is binding.

THE GRAND SPECTACULAR EVENT

The Forepaugh & Sells Circus Exhibits in the Presence of an Enormous Crowd of Spectators.

The circus, that enterprise which for so many years has been the small boy's paradise and the grown person's limit of admiration for physical prowess, has once again visited New Bern. To say that the Forepaugh and Sells circus was enjoyed during every minute of its performance would not be expressing the case half strong enough.

The immense throngs that visited the show was dazed by the wonderful achievements of which the performers were possessed. There never has been a circus in this city that has come nearer to the ideal of what such an enterprise ought to be than did the Forepaugh circus yesterday. It was most enjoyable in every way.

A very interesting feature of the grand march was the different squads of soldiery meant to illustrate the various costumes worn by American colonial times to the present! The music was furnished by W. N. Merrick's Military band.

The three rings had a tendency to dazzle the spectator at first but he got used to the "rubbering" in a short time and seemed to enjoy the strenuous life when it was exercised by others for his benefit and amusement.

The rings had some act going on all the time and each act was done with perfection which was amazing as well as pleasing.

The performing animals which were introduced at the first were perfect marvels, especially the elephants. They seemed to display almost human intelligence and the sight of their great clumsy bodies doing apparently impossible tricks was one which all hailed with admiration. In another similar act, the equestrian cake walk was a wonder. The horses proucted up and down the track bearing their riders and kept perfect time to the cake walk music. It was a very amusing act.

The other equestrian tricks were performed in a brilliant manner. A new act was introduced by the famous Leucasson family in a novel and astounding way, driving a Parisian brake to a double team and the performers making daring summersault leaps from carriage to horse and return and also leaping on and off each others shoulders with unerring accuracy.

The sensational loop the loop bicycle riding act of Diavolo's was one which required a great deal of nerve. Diavolo is the only person doing this act.

A very pleasing feature was the De-Forrest dog show in which some of the best trained dogs in the world took part. Their intelligence and ability to perform difficult tricks called forth many exclamations of surprise. Notable among these was that of a small poodle dog climbing a high ladder and making a jump to the net below.

One of the most interesting acts of the circus and probably not reproduced in any other show is the performance of the Aurora Zouaves. They are undoubtedly the best trained military company in the world and the evolutions through which they went were done with wonderful skill and accuracy.

The scaling of the wall by which they concluded the drill caused much comment.

The work of the clowns was more appreciated than at any other circus that has ever been here. They were really funny and were very agile. This feature was splendid. One of the best jokes perpetrated by one of these gentry was the irrepressible before the performance clowns, the one who amuses the people while the crowd is gathering. He had a supposed to be kodak and wandered aimlessly around among the arrivals and when he saw the right party or parties he would offer to take their pictures without cost. He posed his subjects artistically and when all was ready he would leave the unsuspecting "sitlers" standing posing for their picture until they had perceived by the cheers and laughter of those around that they had been made the butt of a joke.

The menagerie was large and varied in its make up. It carried many of the finest specimens of lions, tigers, and other wild animals seen in any menagerie. Strange animal inhabitants of Asia, and Africa were represented which formed an interesting and instructive exhibit. Space prevents going into further details of this excellent enterprise. The performance lasted two hours and from start to finish it was one round of amazement causing enjoyment.

As to the attendance, it is a very conservative estimate to place the number of spectators at 8,000. There have been estimates made 12,000 were present.

Still They Go

Martin L. Willis who has been auditor in the office of the A. & N. C. railroad Company, has been succeeded by the appointment of W. B. Starke, lately auditor of stations on Southern Railway. The change is made under the Howland Improvement Co., Lease.

WASHINGTON LETTER

(Special Correspondence.) Durham White Stevens, who has just been selected as diplomatic adviser to the department of foreign affairs of Korea, is one of the most popular men in Washington diplomatic circles. It is well recognized that Mr. Stevens will be the real king of Korea and will be in a post such as no American has ever filled. Nor is any particular surprise manifested at his selection. Giving all due credit to the Japanese ministers who have served here, men who are well acquainted with his relations to Japanese diplomacy in Washington say that this diplomacy has been that of Stevens rather than of the ministers themselves. It has not escaped notice here that one reason for his selection by the mikado has undoubtedly been that Japan proposes to do all possible to have this government as favorably disposed as may be toward the complete predominance of Japan in Korea.

The Postal Appeal Cases.

It is expected the District court of appeals, early in its approaching session, will hear the case involving August W. Machen, George E. Lorenz, Samuel A. Groff and Diller B. Groff, who were convicted before Justice Pritchard in the supreme court of the District on charges of having defrauded the government in connection with the purchase of postal supplies. The defendants are now at large on bail. The record in the case has been made up and is one of the most voluminous ever filed with the appellate court of the District.

Education Porto Rico.

Dr. Roland P. Falkner, who recently resigned his position as chief of the division of documents at the library of congress to become commissioner of education in Porto Rico, on appointment of President Roosevelt, will shortly sail for that island. He goes there to continue work which is already well established and not to introduce any radical changes or reforms. At the same time he does not go there wholly without ideas as to the most important of the steps that need to be taken.

The Sanitary Convention.

Surgeon General Wyman of the public health and marine hospital service, head of the international sanitary bureau, is taking steps to have the United States well represented at the second international sanitary convention of the American republics. This will be held in Santiago, the capital of Chile, next March or April. Dr. Wyman says there is every indication the United States will be represented by a numerous and distinguished body and that the gathering will be notable in scientific and humanitarian interests.

Money Circulation.

Comptroller W. B. Hildgely has issued a statement showing that in the year ended Aug. 31, 1904, the total circulation based on government bonds and on lawful money increased $3,928,708. The increase in July was $2,309,885. The circulation of this character outstanding Aug. 31 of this year was $452,510,773.

In the month of August thirty-eight national banks were chartered, with a capital of $1,532,000.

Changed its Name.

The Columbian university, which, under a special act of congress approved Feb. 9, 1821, was organized as an institution of learning, with broad and comprehensive powers, has changed its name to the George Washington university and as such will continue its work of higher education in the Capital City. The university recently purchased a new site containing about five acres fronting on the president's park, immediately south of the White House, and upon it and adjoining grounds to be acquired, as necessity demands, its new buildings will be erected.

Statuary in Washington.

There are twenty-four statues in Washington, and several others are in various degrees of progress toward completion. Statues of General McClellan and General Sheridan are under contract, and designs are in preparation for statues of Count Pulaski, Baron von Steuben, General Kosciuszko, Thomas Jefferson and General Grant.

Copper and Typhoid.

Notwithstanding there are fifty places where copper has been or is soon to be used against typhoid germs in water, the controversy over its use with safety to human life has broken out afresh by the declaration of Dr. Woodward, the health officer of Washington, that he does not regard it safe to treat the reservoirs of this city with copper. Dr. Woodward has refused to order that boats be roved over the reservoirs dragging bags containing bluish vitriol at the stern. He says it would be dangerous to the health of the 350,000 people who drink the Potomac water, which is supposed to be charged with the bacteria of typhoid from sewage at Mount Savage, Md., where for several weeks there has been an epidemic of typhoid.

Lost Portrait Found.

The list of portraits of the secretaries of the navy is now complete. For years a quest has been on for a missing portrait of George E. Badger, head of the department under the elder Harrison. It was found the other day mixed up with a lot of junk in an old lumber room in one of the buildings at the Naval academy at Annapolis. It has been brought here and will be hung up in the office with the portraits of other secretaries. Badger, a native of North Carolina, born in 1776, was a man of marked ability.

The Exact Thing Required for Constipation.

"As a certain purgative and stomach purifier Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets seem to be the exact thing required, strong enough for the most robust, yet mild enough and safe for children and without that terrible griping so common to most purgatives," say Dr. S. W. Foster & Co., Chicago, Ontario, Canada. For sale by all Druggists.
