WAS IT ROBBERY?

Or Was it a Deep and Well Laid Plot to Get More Money?

The Sunday papers contained a sensational story of the robbery of the safe of the Forepaugh and Sells Bros circus while enroute from Kinston to Tarboro.

The report stated that the ticket wagon in which the safe was kept was on a flat car. Entrance to the wagon was effected by means of keys which had been stolen from the treasurer. The robbery occurred sometime during the early morning hours, before 5 o'clock. The amount said to have been taken, was $30,000.

Several employees of the circus were arrested but were soon after released, no evidence being found by which they could be held. Every possible suggestion of a clue was followed up but no trace of the money could be found. Scores of search warrants were sworn out.

A man and woman were arrested in Norfolk as being suspected of the robbery. They were released, however, upon failure to find proofs of suspicion. The owners of the show offered a reward of $2500 for the apprehension of the thieves.

BELIEVED TO BE A FAKE.

A special from Tarboro to the Wilson Daily Times, last evening says:

"The impression is gaining ground here that the alleged robbery of Sells and Forepaugh's show was a fake, and intended to beat Mrs Sells out of money.

Why the managers of the show should have allowed $30,000 to have lain in a ticket wagon unguarded, when it could have been sent to local banks, is a mystery, bothering the police authorities of this city.

Mr Sells was very nervous, and left with the others on specials last night for Columbus.

The show people were sitting around all day yesterday and were paid off, so it was stated late yesterday afternoon with $30,000 received by express from New York, which came in on the afternoon train.

The fact that all the managers of the show have dropped the trace and gone home, leaving the authorities with the bag to hold, is also deemed suspicious. Before the circus reached Tarboro Chief of Police Gotten received a letter from Bob Pinkerton, saying he had no detections with the show, though the show people have sold everywhere that they had.

Mr Sells informed Mr Gotten Saturday morning that the reason he did not report the robbery earlier was because his own detectives were working on the case, but they could not discover the guilty parties.

The case promises interesting developments. It is believed here some one is trying to swindle the widow Sells out of some of her money.

N B M A Notes

Our team will play foot ball against the Wilmington team Thursday evening. Everybody come out and enjoy a good Thanksgiving day's sport, all we ask for is a plenty of witnesses, we will do the rest.

The cadets have organized a "crack" company composed of the best drillers. It is the object of this company to get all the latest maneuvers and fancy movements down "pat". After these have been accomplished we will visit various towns to show what N B M A is, and what it can do.

We are glad to enroll four new six cents during the past week.

DULL NEWS.

But Political Gossip Still Comes up.

State Charters Granted. Pamlico County Pamphlet. Thanksgiving Day Observance. Presbyterian Church Rais es Debt.

Raleigh, November 21.—The Republicans, locally at least, are well frightened by the news from Washington that the president does not care to have office holders serve more than two terms. Some of the office holders pretend that the whole story is a joke, but the language seems to be all on the outside. It is said that before he left the Senate Fritchard had had the Republicans of Western North Carolina know that he was opposed to the holding of office more than two terms, and it seems this has filtered into this part of the State also. Beyond any question the Republican office holders are very much agitated.

Charters are granted to the Washovis Knitting Company of Winston-Salem, capital stock $50,000, W S Stevens and others stockholders, and to the Concord Real Estate Company, capital stock $100,000, J W Cannon and others stockholders.

Tomorrow the pamphlets which are to be used in the public schools for the celebration of "North Carolina Day" will be issued. The theme this year will be "The Pamlico Country." For the first time the pamphlet will be well illustrated.

Up to yesterday the First Presbyterian Church here had a debt of $6,700 on its new building but at the service yesterday morning $6,100 was raised, being contributed by sixty persons, and the remainder will be pledged this week.

In the Supreme Court this week, 13th district appeals will be called and argued. The docket is a fairly heavy one.

Democratic State Chairman S mmons is quite a good guesser. He thought the party's majority would be close around 50,000 and it seems that it is almost 51,000.

The sheriff of this county has secured a photograph of George W Tilley, the young white man who late in September shot and killed his mother in law and dangerously wounded his wife. The photograph shows Tilley and his wife sitting beside each other. There appear to be some little clues as to his whereabouts. The Governor has offered $200 reward for him.

The Corporation Commissioners have gone to the mountain section of the state to inspect several railways. They have not done much inspecting during the present year, but will look over a number of roads in the next few weeks.

Elaborate preparations have been made here for the observance of Thanksgiving day. At the penitentiary the few convicts now within the prison will have a good dinner. There will be a big spread turkey included of course, as the soldiers home, and the veterans are looking forward with much pleasure to the day.

Secretary of State Grimes was talking with your correspondent today about the need of modern steel cases for the very valuable records in his office. He opened the doors of one of the heavy cases made of fat pine, showing within paper boxes in which is every land warrant, plot and survey, giving title to lands in the State. And not only these, but every original charter and all the original laws and other papers,—all are in such fire trap cases. The State certainly ought to make better arrangements. The cases are so heavy and so large that they cannot be taken out of the doors. They were, in fact, built within the office. No state gives less care to its public documents than does North Carolina. This seems to be a notorious fact.

THEY COME AND GO.

Rev and Mrs F D Byrdell passed through yesterday en route for their home at Goldsboro.

Mr Geo Henderson, Jr., returned from Harlowe yesterday.

Mrs J A Lon who has been visiting Miss Margaret Bryan has returned to her home at Kinston.

Miss Susie Lumley of Goldsboro who has been a visitor in this city for a few days returned to her home in that city yesterday.

Mr W D Barrington is spending the week at Beaufort and other places on the sound.

Mr Edgar Royall of Goldsboro is spending a few days in this city.

Sunday Morning Fire.

A small house in Trump Alley, occupied by a colored family was destroyed by fire at half past one Sunday morning. The fire is supposed to have originated from the chimney. It gained such headway that the efforts of the firemen to check the flames were in vain.

The fire was a brilliant exhibition of fire and a great many thought the whole western part of the city was on fire.

BABIES ON FIRE

With Itching, Burning, Scaly Humors of the Skin

Instantly Relieved by Baths with Cuticura Soap

And Gentle Applications of Cuticura Ointment.

Instant relief and refreshing sleep for skin-tortured babies, and rest for tired, fretted mothers, in warm baths with Cuticura Soap and gentle anointings with Cuticura Ointment—the great skin cure, and purest of emollients, to be followed in severe cases by mild doses of Cuticura Resolvent.

"My niece's little baby boy, two years old, was so badly afflicted with eczema that he needed constant watching. It was all over his face and he scratched the sores constantly. Mornings his clothes would be stained with blood, and his face and hands would be covered. His family never could take him out, as his face was always full of large sores. They had medical treatment, and tried everything they heard of. She commenced using the Cuticura Remedies last spring and found that at last she had a wonderful healer. The sores left his face and he was entirely cured, and now his face is as smooth and rosy as though no sore had ever been there to mar it."

FOOD FOR THE CAT.

Pets should Get Green Stuff Both in Winter and Summer.

It is a common thing to hear women say that they cannot keep growing plants of any kind in their rooms on account of the cat, who persists in nibbling and biting the leaves and new buds as they make their appearance, sometimes destroying in the course of a few weeks some favorite or rare fern or flower.

The reason for this seeming vandalism is perfectly plain or ought to be. The cat requires green food if it is to be kept healthy and happy and takes the shortest road to getting it.

In summer, following the need of its system, a cat will eat grass freely. In winter or in the city, when this supply of green fodder is cut off, common sense suggests that the cat be artificially provided with it.

For its own sake as well as for the safety of the Boston fern and the rubber plant, why not plant a cigar box of soil with some quick growing thing like oats on sorrel and let the cat help itself?

It will soon realize the glad fact that the plants are meant for it, as proved by the fact that indulgence brings no aftermath of slaps or scoldings.

As one crop fails so another and keep it up till Mother Earth provides a more liberal supply of her own, and your cat will bless you.—New York Tribune.

The Throne of England.

Some authorities hold that the coronation chair in Westminster abbey is entitled to be called the throne, as being the one occupied by the sovereign at his or her coronation. Others maintain that the throne in the house of lords is really the official throne, as it is occupied by the sovereign for state purposes at the opening of parliament. Others again say that there is no real throne in the strictest acceptance of the word and that all the thrones or chairs of state in the various palaces throughout the kingdom are equally entitled to be called "the throne," inasmuch as they are used as such when the sovereign happens to be in residence at that particular palace and holds any levee or other strictly official reception. The most general opinion, however, seems to be that the throne in the house of lords is really entitled to be called "the throne of England."

Pleek and Success.

An argument against discouragement after repeated failures is offered by the life of George Frederick Watts, the great English painter.

That he was quite the most important of Great Britain's artists is now everywhere admitted, yet his merit was not generally recognized until after he had passed his sixtieth birthday. Before he died he said, with a smile, that he had never been discouraged once in spite of all the unjust criticisms and, more mortifying still, the utter indifference with which his pictures were received until after he had begun to descend the hill toward the valley of old age.
