BUSINESS VIEW OF THE DRINK QUESTION.

Tradesman.

Gradually but most surely the lines are being drawn against the use of intoxicating drinks in this country. It is not a morbid, fanatical wave, but a reasonable, cool, calculating determination by men of affairs that liquor and business cannot mix successfully. It is probably true today that in the majority of large manufacturing and commercial establishments there is an unwritten law which precludes the dram drinker from high attainments which would otherwise be possible, for the reason that the habit renders the individual unreliable, irritable and reckless—three weaknesses which are not desired in those who are to lead in important affairs. The regulation and prohibition of drinking has become so important a consideration that the best organized railroad companies today have rules to govern their employes in this respect—not only during the time they are at work but in their idle hours. The logic of this is that the employe who drinks to excess while "on" duty will not be in condition to perform his best work on account of the "after effects." Consequently it is noticed that corporations are coming to consider that they have the right to demand temperate living on the part of their employes even when the latter are not in actual service. While men naturally resent restrictions which interfere with their so-called "personal liberty," it is probably true that many who labor for salaries or wages find their bank accounts increased and their families better clothed and fed as the result of rules which assist in developing their best manhood. A recent report states that a certain railroad company discharged a large number of employes for violation of rules relating to the use of intoxicating drinks. The lists discharged included engineers, firemen, yard masters, trackmen and members of an engineering corps. This is but one illustration of the modern temperance idea. Men with cool, clear heads, steady nerves and sound judgment are wanted in the positions of trust and responsibility these days.

A Frightened Horse.

Running like mad down the street dumping the occupants, or a hundred other accidents, are every day occurrences. It behoves everybody to have a reliable horse handy, and there's none as good as Bickler's Arnica Salve. Burns, Cuts, Sores, Bruises and Piles, disappear quickly under its soothing effect. Sold at C. D. Bradham's Drug Store.

HAIR NATURALLY ABUNDANT.

When It Is Free of Dandruff, It Grows Luxuriantly.

Hair preparations and dandruff cures, as a rule, are sticky or irritating affairs that do no earthly good. Hair, when not diseased, grows naturally, luxuriantly. Dandruff is the cause of nine-tenths of all hair trouble, and dandruff is caused by a germ. The only way to cure dandruff is to kill the germ; and so far, the only hair preparation that will positively destroy the germ is Newbro's Herpicide—absolutely harmless, free from grease, sediment, dye matter or dangerous drugs. It always itches instantly; makes hair glossy and soft as silk. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Fight Will Be Bitter

Those who will persist in closing their ears against the continual recommendation of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, will have a long and bitter fight with their troubles, if not ended earlier by fatal termination. Read what T. S. Hall of Hazel, Wis., has to say: "Last fall my wife had every symptom of consumption. She took Dr. King's New Discovery after everything else had failed. Improvement came at once and four bottles entirely cured her. Guaranteed by C. D. Bradham, Drug Store. Price 50c. and $1. Trial bottles free."

The Hancock Liquid Sulphur Co., Baltimore, Md.

Gentlemen: I wish to say a word in regard to your LIQUID SULPHUR. I used it about one month in which time it cured me of Poison Oak and Pimples on my face. I also found it a sure cure for prickly heat, and take pleasure in recommending LIQUID SULPHUR to anyone suffering from the above diseases.

Respectfully,
W. E. COCHRAN,

The Hancock Liquid Sulphur Co., Baltimore, Md.

Dear Sirs: For nearly two years our little boy has been afflicted with Eczema of the face and has been treated by two of the best physicians I could secure, without relief. I then decided to try your LIQUID SULPHUR and one bottle has cured him entirely. As this was a very stubborn case, I consider it a wonderful medicine and feel that I cannot too highly recommend HANCOCK'S LIQUID SULPHUR for the cure of Eczema.

Respectfully yours,

The January Designer.

The pretty girl on the cover of THE DESIGNER for January will undoubtedly tempt more than one man to investigate the pages to which she acts as gatekeeper. Two articles in this number have a decidedly Western flavor: "A Chinese New Year in California," by Jessie Juliet Knox, and "The Stanford University and its Girls," by Sarah Comstock, Stanford, '08. The unfortunate music-lover who has had a Wagnerian afternoon ruined for him by chattering neighbors, will heartily appreciate "At the Matinee," a monologue by Jarvey Peake; and the observing man or woman who has watched the wonderful contortions of which the human countenance is unconsciously capable, will concur with Bertha Haabrook, who writes on "The Making of Faces," in "The Interest of Beauty," "Our Winter Boarders—The Downy and Halcy Woodpeckers," by Craig S. Thomas, is a charming bit of nature study, and "A Dinner of Herbs," by Temple Bailey, is a capital New Year story in which two widows, two bachelors and a bull-dog take prominent part. "Pleasant Sitting-Rooms," by Mary Kilayth, shows how to combine comfort and attractiveness in the living-room. In the fancy work line there are "Initiating Household Linen," "Filet or Gitterly Embroidery," "Hand-made Sweaters," and "Ribbon Decorations," and in addition to the captivating mid-winter fashions there are three pages of "Character Costumes," suggestive of novel garb for fancy dress occasions.

ONE WORD IN TIME.

Is Better Than Two Afterwards. A Chance to Profit by a New Bern Man's Experience

It is a strange thing how people will put away an opportunity until too late; its only little things that go to make up our every-day existence; the trouble is we don't pay sufficient attention to them. Backache is a little thing. Sometimes it comes after a hard day's work or a slight cold. It will pass off on you if it is only the result of overtaxing my back. I don't feel the fault of your back but your kidneys. The exertion or straining has interfered with their delicate mechanism. You call it backache but it really is kidney ache. If the kidneys are not relieved chronic disorders set in and this is where the "little thing" should not be passed over. A New Bern man has learned to appreciate what delay means.

S. D. Fisher whose sheet metal business is on Craven and South Front, his place of residence at Craven St. says: "I believe Don's Kidney Pills to be a good remedy in fact I know it. I have been quite suffering from backache. At times it was so bad I could scarcely endure it, but since using Don's Kidney Pills which I got at the Bradham Pharmacy my back has not troubled me at all. Should there ever be a recurrence I shall at once resort to Don's Pills and intend to keep them on hand to have in case of need."

Don't Neglect Yourself.

1608 Second Street,
Louisville, Ky., April 14, 1904

I have been weak and sickly for the past four years, caused by irregularity and carelessness regarding the laws of health, but about five months ago my condition became very serious. I had severe backache and suffered a constant dull pain in my head. I spent weary, painful days, and miserable, restless nights. The doctor told me that I must have patience.

His medicine did not, however, give me even temporary relief and as I had been told of the curative qualities of Wine of Cardui I decided to try it.

I found that it relieved me of pain. As my general health improved my other troubles were gradually diminished and after five weeks' use of the Wine of Cardui I was once Mrs. C. H. Hampton, more a well and happy woman.

WINE OF CARDUI

Wine of Cardui regulates the menstrual flow, banishes headaches, backaches and bearing-down pains. Severe headaches, bearing-down pains, indigestion, loss of appetite and nervousness are symptoms of female weakness and should be given prompt attention. If you are troubled with menstrual irregularities do not let them run on. They will certainly grow into dangerous and chronic troubles. Get a bottle of Wine of Cardui and begin treatment at once.

All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.
