CARBAGE TEST FINE.

Cotton Acreage Reduction. Company Incorporated, School House Protection Against

Raleigh, December 28 .- State horticul turist Hume has returned from New Ber 1 where he went to examine the test of two hundred varieties of cabbage. He says the plants are already set on the Wi liam Dunn farm and are in splendid shape. Speaking about that section, Prof Hume said be observed quite a development along the line of irriga-

It is found to be the firm determina tion of the cotton growers in this section to reduce acreage next sesson. That will be a solid movement so far as Wake county is concerned. Less cotton, is what the farmers are saying. The present crop is entirely too large.

Grand Lodge of Masons on Tuesday Jan uary 10.b, 1905, to lay the corner stone of the Agricultural Building at the North Carolina College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts at Raleigh. An address will be delivered by Governor Ayoock, this being the last act of his admin istration and his last public speech before becoming a private citizen.

The Masonic ceremony will be performed at 8 80 o'clock p m. It is expect ed that the Legislature wil attend in a body; and that a very large number of Masons from all over the State will be present. It will be a great occasion, followed next day by the inauguration of Governor Glenn.

POOL TOURNAMENT.

Enjoyable Sport Next Friday at Eike Temple.

For some time there has existed a keen rivalry among the "cue experte," memstrong advocates, and nightly contests which is certain with unpaid taxes are the order during these winter nights at the Lodge.

To make it really interesting a pool tournament has for some time been talked of, and finally it has been consum mated, and next Friday night December 30th, there will be a pool tournament at the Lodge, three prizes being hung up for the wingers in the several contests This tournament will no doubt prove mest entertaining, and it is looked forward to with great interest, Refreshments will be served on the night of the tournament.

Good Entertainment Promised.

Next week what is said to be the best opular price attraction on the road, both from a strict dramatic standpoint and from a specialty point of view, will be at the New Masonic Theatre, opening Mondy night. The attraction will be the Lyric Stock Company, which is com-posed of some of the most popular players on the road, each one well known. Have just received Monday night the company will prepleturesque stage settings. For the peroduction the company carries epecial scenery, as it would be impossible to present a scene at Port Arthur without such. MONEY ON COTTON.

Rogers McCabe & Co., Offer Liberal Terms to Farmers and Merchants

Having Cotton.

Messrs Rogers, McCabe & Co, Cotton Exporters of Norfolk, Va., have made a general proposition through their repre sentative, Mr J R Ball, to advance six cents per pound upon all consignments of cotton until March 1st, free of storage and charges, but after that date, regular charges will apply.

There is one advantage in shipping the cotton to Norfolk, as that market is based on actual business. Quotations are made each day by a committee of five, and are fixed by actual sales. In shipping Rogers McCabe & Co, the farmer or merchant would terday from Wildwood to visit in the have the advantage of knowing that he received the full value of his cotton the day he concludes to sell. And his sale to visit his brother, Mr W P Tay- could be verified by the official quota-

Germans In Jecusticem. The German emperor's widely advertised visit to Jerusalem was followed by the founding of an institute for the study of oriental subjects. This has now been open one year, and, according to Mr. A. Goodrich Freer, author of "Inner Jerusalem," it has a large attendance of Germans, Jews, Arabs and monks of various faiths. The American school has never had more than five students. The German suburb is the largest and in trade the most prominent in the city. Mr. Freer says that "it is to all practical purposes a picturesque German village, having its own church, public hall, band, drill hall, schools, farm, gardens and, of course, bler halle. "Three immense orphanages, a large general hospital and a children's hospi-tal maintained by the Germans are the only Protestant institutions of the kind upon any scale of magnitude in Jerusa-lem."

Through English Eyes. Probably Mr. Roosevelt's election will bring about something more of state gayety for the ladies of his family. During his briefer tenure of presiden-tial office since the murder of his chief and predecessor Mr. Roosevelt has been refuctant to allow his daughter any part in the life of courts, wisely re minding her of what she was quite willing to remember—that after three short years the quasi princess of Amer short years the quasi princess of America might have to retire into the life of a citisen's daughter and that it was well not to make the retirement a vertable fall by too much exaltation. Thus Miss Boosevelt declined an invitation to a brilliant mid-European court soon after her father's accession. Now he may perhaps relax this Roman kind of rule. Miss Boosevelt may lactine to make while still a princess presidential.—London Chronicie.

In this country, which contains the irrest wheat producing section of the world, it is a fact borne out by government statisticians that less wheat is planted every year of late. The farmer turns to more profitable and less hazardous crops. Reports to Washington specify many sections where other crops have been substituted for wheat not with the idea of giving the land a change, but with the inentian of raising wheat no more.
